Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century Readings of the Medieval Orient Liliana Sikorska, 2021-11-08

Travel narratives and historical works shaped the perception of Muslims and the East in the Victorian and post Victorian periods Analyzing the discourses on Muslims which originated in the European Middle Ages the first part of the book discusses the troubled legacy of the encounters between the East and the West and locates the nineteenth century texts concerning the Saracens and their lands in the liminal space between history and fiction Drawing on the nineteenth century models the second part of the book looks at fictional and non fictional works of the late twentieth and early twenty first century which re established the Oriental obsession stimulating dread and resentment and even more strongly setting the Civilized West against the Barbaric East Here medieval metaphorical enemies of Mankind the World the Flesh and the Devil reappear in different contexts the world of immigration of white women desiring Muslim men and the present day freedom fighters

Asian Classics on the Victorian Bookshelf Alexander Bubb, 2023-03-14 The interest among Victorian readers in classical literature from Asia has been greatly underestimated The popularity of the Arabian Nights and The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam is well documented Yet this was also an era in which freethinkers consulted the Quran in which schoolchildren were given abridgements of the Ramayana to read in which names like Kalidasa and Firdusi were carved on the fa ades of public libraries and in which women's book clubs discussed Japanese poetry But for the most part such readers were not consulting the specialist publications of scholarly orientalists What then were the translations that catalysed these intercultural encounters Based on a unique methodology marrying translation theory with empirical techniques developed by historians of reading this book shines light for the first time on the numerous amateur translators or popularizers who were responsible for making these texts accessible and disseminating them to the Victorian general readership Asian Classics on the Victorian Bookshelf explains the process whereby popular translations were written published distributed to bookshops and libraries and ultimately consumed by readers It uses the working papers and correspondence of popularizers to demonstrate their techniques and motivations while the responses of contemporary readers are traced through the pencil

marginalia they left behind in dozens of original copies In spite of their typically limited knowledge of source languages Asian Classics argues that popularizers produced versions more respectful of the complexity cultural difference and fundamental untranslatability of Asian texts than the professional orientalist whose work they were often adapting The responses of their readers likewise frequently deviated from interpretive norms and it is proposed that this combination of eccentric translators and unorthodox readers triggered flights of translation whereby historical individuals can be seen to escape the hegemony of orientalist forms of knowledge

Remarks on the Arabian Nights' Entertainments Richard Hole, 2016-10-06 Excerpt from Remarks on the Arabian Nights Entertainments In Which the Origin of Sindbad's Voyages and Other Oriental Fictions Is Particularly Considered Rary society IN exe i er and to the bulk of their late publication he Withes he could add To its About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Luedtke, 1989-09-22 This volume argues that by focusing on British and American backgrounds readers have underestimated the impact of Asia and the East on American novelist and short story writer Nathaniel Hawthorne's 1804

1864 writing The central force in Hawthorne's intellectual development was New England Puritanism It fascinated even when it sometimes repelled him It exercised a pull on his imagination which a lifetime of varied experience did not loosen The author recreates Hawthorne's heritage and examine his readings in material dealing with the East he examines three of Hawthorne's early tales that were all written before 1830 and he looks at Hawthorne's The Story Teller the two volume book of sketches and tales Hawthorne unsuccessfully tried to publish in 1834 and issued piecemeal thereafter in periodicals as annuals The author also evaluates the role of the Eastern world in Hawthorne s view of Romance and studies some of Hawthorne s remarkable heroines Beatrice Rapaccini Hester Zenobia and Miriam in particular The author maintains that the Puritan element in Hawthorne s ancestry has been overstressed and that insufficient attention has been paid to the equally important travel adventure exploration aspect of Hawthorne s heritage and craft
