

An abstract painting with a dark, moody palette of blues, browns, and reds. In the lower half, there are blurred, impressionistic figures of people, possibly in a social setting. The overall style is expressive and textured.

Os Nossos Dias Hista Ria Da Vida Privada Em Portugal 4:

The Schism of '68 Alana Harris, 2018-03-02 This volume explores the critical reactions and dissenting activism generated in the summer of 1968 when Pope Paul VI promulgated his much anticipated and hugely divisive encyclical Humanae Vitae which banned the use of artificial contraception by Catholics Through comparative case studies of fourteen different European countries it offers a wealth of new data about the lived religious beliefs and practices of ordinary people as well as theologians interrogating traditional teachings in areas relating to love marriage family life gender roles and marital intimacy Key themes include the role of medical experts the media the strategies of progressive Catholic clergy and laity and the critical part played by hugely differing Church State relations In demonstrating the Catholic Church's important and overlooked contribution to the refashioning of the sexual landscape of post war Europe it makes a critical intervention into a growing historiography exploring the 1960s and offers a close interrogation of one strand of religious change in this tumultuous decade

Higher Education in Portugal 1974-2009 Guy Neave, Alberto Amaral, 2011-12-20 A comprehensive wide ranging and detailed account of the unfolding of higher education and higher education policy in Portugal from 1974 to 2009 by leading policy makers and scholars with the explicit purpose of showing how different disciplinary canons and perspectives contribute to the study of higher education and higher education policy including Law and Science Policy perspectives Whilst focusing on one referential system this book deals with current policy issues emerging in the wake of the post Bologna period It also examines their long term historical origins in addition to the measures taken to address them The substantive chapters are preceded by a detailed Introductory overview that places the issues treated in this volume in a solidly European perspective and sets out explicitly the differences in the dominant political cultural and social values that set Portuguese as other Continental European systems of higher education apart from their Anglo Saxon counterparts

The "New Man" in Radical Right Ideology and Practice, 1919-45 Jorge Dagnino, Matthew Feldman, Paul Stocker, 2018-01-25 Bringing together an expert group of established and emerging scholars this book analyses the pervasive myth of the new man in various fascist movements and far right regimes between 1919 and 1945 Through a series of ground breaking case studies focusing on countries in Europe but with additional chapters on Argentina Brazil and Japan The New Man in Radical Right Ideology and Practice 1919-45 argues that what many national forms of far right politics understood at the time as a so called anthropological revolution is essential to understanding this ideology's bio political often revolutionary dynamics It explores how these movements promoted the creation of a new ideal human what this ideal looked like and what this things tell us about fascism's emergence in the 20th century The years after World War One saw the rise of regimes and movements professing totalitarian aims In the case of revolutionary radical right movements these totalising goals extended to changing the very nature of humanity through modern science propaganda and conquest At its most extreme one of the key aims of fascism the most extreme manifestation of radical right politics between the wars was to create a new man

Naturally this manifested itself in different ways in varying national contexts and this volume explores these manifestations in order to better comprehend early 20th century fascism both within national boundaries and in a broader transnational context

Careful Eating: Bodies, Food and Care Emma-Jayne Abbotts, Anna Lavis, Luci Attala, 2016-03-03 Critically reflecting on the interplays between food and care this multidisciplinary volume asks why do individuals institutions and agencies care about what other people eat It explores how acts of caring about food and eating shape and intervene in individual bodies as well as being enacted in and through those bodies In so doing the volume extends current critical debates regarding food and care as political mechanisms through which social hierarchies are constructed and both self and other re produced Addressing the ways in which eating and caring interact on multiple scales and sites from public health and clinical settings to the market the home and online communities Careful Eating asks what eating and caring are what relationships they create and rupture and how their interplay is experienced in myriad spaces of everyday life Taking account of this two directional flow of engagement between eating and caring the chapters are organized into three central theoretical dimensions how eating practices mobilize discourses and forms of care how discourses and practices of care look to shape particular forms of eating and food preferences and how it is often in the bodies of individual consumers that eating and care encounter one another

Youth Studies and Generations Vitor Sérgio Ferreira, 2020-03-25 There is currently much discourse about generations in the public sphere A sequence of letters conflates generations and age cohorts born in the last few decades generation X Y or Z as well as multiple categories are used to describe today s young people as a generation that is distinct from its predecessors Despite the popularity of generational labels in media politics or even academia the use of generation as a conceptual tool in youth studies has been controversial This Special Issue allows readers to better understand the key issues regarding the use of generation as a theoretical concept and or as a social category in the field of youth studies shedding light on the controversies trends and cautions that go through it

A Century of Transnationalism Nancy L. Green, Roger Waldinger, 2016-08-15 This collection of articles by sociologically minded historians and historically minded sociologists highlights both the long term persistence and the continuing instability of home country connections Encompassing societies of origin and destination from around the world A Century of Transnationalism shows that while population movements across states recurrently produce homeland ties those connections have varied across contexts and from one historical period to another changing in unpredictable ways Any number of factors shape the linkages between home and destination including conditions in the society of immigration policies of the state of emigration and geopolitics worldwide Contributors Houda Asal Marie Claude Blanc Chal ard Caroline Douki David FitzGerald Nancy L Green Madeline Y Hsu Thomas Lacroix Tony Michels Victor Pereira M nica Raisa Schpun and Roger Waldinger

Creation, Transformation and Metamorphosis Mário S. Ming Kong, Maria do Rosário Monteiro, Maria João Pereira Neto, 2025-07-29 The texts presented in Proportion Harmonies and Identities PHI Creation Transformation and

Metamorphosis were compiled to establish a multidisciplinary platform for presenting interacting and disseminating research. It also aims to foster awareness and discussion on Creation Transformation and Metamorphosis focusing on different visions relevant to Architecture Arts and Humanities Design and Social Sciences and its importance and benefits for the sense of identity both individual and communal. Creation Transformation and Metamorphosis has been a powerful motor for development since the Western Early Modern Age. Its theoretical and practical foundations have become the working tools of scientists, philosophers and artists seeking strategies and policies to accelerate development in different contexts. Intermarriage throughout History Luminița Dumănescu, Marius Eppel, Daniela Mârza, 2014-06-02. Going beyond classical theoretical approaches, Intermarriage throughout History provides a rich and unique collection of twenty-five essays which shed light on various models of family formation through non-homogamic marriage from an historical and multi-disciplinary perspective. The volume originated from an international conference held at Babes Bolyai University of Cluj, Romania, in early summer 2013, with a large international participation drawn mostly from Europe, Russia, North and South America. The book also has its roots in the long academic tradition of family and demographic historical and ethnographic studies in Transylvania, where scholars have been particularly active in these fields during recent decades at the international level. Given the strong pressures towards endogamy, people in the past who had a mixed marriage deserve researchers' full attention. How did they overcome the obstacles put in their path by church, family, state and community? Can scholars disclose the reasons for their remarkable choice of partner? And what were the implications of their mixed marriage for their daily lives and those of their children? Mixed marriages offer a window on the tensions between societal norms and social control on the one hand and individual variation and individual choice or agency on the other.

Dictatorship and Daily Life in 20th-Century Europe Lisa Pine, 2022-11-03. Bringing together leading scholars from across the UK, North America and mainland Europe, this book provides a uniquely comparative exploration of daily life under dictatorship in 20th-century Europe. With coverage of well-known regimes and some that are relatively underrepresented in the literature from right across the continent, it examines the impact felt on people's lives amidst political administrations characterised by some or all of the following: a one-party state in which opposition or multiple parties were banned; a cult surrounding the leader; the censorship of the press and other publications; the widespread use of propaganda and political persuasion; and the threat or use of force by the regime and its agents. The chapters investigate crucial questions in relation to life under dictatorships as follows: What was the impact of censorship on access to news or entertainment? How was leisure time conducted? What was the impact of the regime on working life? What was the scope for dissent and resistance? To what extent were these possible? How much did the regime coerce the population and how much did it try to indoctrinate? What was the difference for Party leaders, comrades and members in terms of the possibilities and opportunities that opened up compared to everyone else in society With the shutting down to a large extent of civil society and state intrusion into private life what restrictions were placed on ordinary and day to day activities What happened to religious life and to cultural life and the arts How were personal choices in aspects of life such as reproduction education and even eating affected by these regimes What was the impact of different political ideologies on people s way of life whether Fascist Nazi or Communist Dictatorship and Daily Life in 20th Century Europe addresses these issues and more striking to the heart of European life in the darkest episodes of its recent history

Encounters with Jazz on Television in Cold War Era Portugal Pedro Cravinho,2022-03-29 Encounters with Jazz on Television in Cold War Era Portugal 1954 1974 explores the relationship between jazz and television by investigating the experiences of performers and producers in one of the last European colonial states Portugal during a period of political and social repression and global isolation This new model of systemic analysis reveals a paradoxical interrelationship between state controlled television and international media industries highlighting the space where these two forces collide and locating television jazz production within an important cultural milieu with a lasting impact on Portuguese society From the days of the first feasibility studies for a proposed public television service in 1954 to the military coup that overthrew the far right Estado Novo regime in 1974 this book maps the institutionalization of jazz in Portugal as a social and musical practice one that played a significant role in fostering cultural diversity It looks at the musicians repertoires production processes broadcasts policies and strategies that fuelled the launch of Radiotevis o Portuguesa RTP and the rise of television an indispensable new medium that granted Portuguese people access to the wider world a world curated by public television producers with individual cultural political and aesthetic attitudes to influence the dissemination of jazz In exploring the connections between these national and international jazz scenes Encounters with Jazz on Television in Cold War Era Portugal 1954 1974 addresses opportunities for in depth comparison of the Portuguese experience with that of other countries situating Cold War era Portuguese television jazz broadcasting as part of a bigger still unwritten story

More than just a 'Home' Rosalina Pisco Costa,Sampson Lee Blair,2024-05-29 Considering the ways in which a family socially constructs a home this is a much needed investigation into how the house its architecture spatial arrangements and internal and external divisions shape and reshape family relationships in the face of constant challenges and change

Renegotiating Masculinities in European Digital Spheres Inês Amaral,Rita Basílio de Simões,Sofia José Santos,2024-11-18 This book explores from a feminist and intersectional perspective how masculinities have been re negotiated in today s European digital sphere By considering new gender based European trends and scenarios for example metoo gender ideology and cultural backlash the book addresses masculinities in a time of social political economic and cultural transformations in Europe Bringing together research focused on online media representations of what it means to be and behave like a man in today s Europe and the way audiences have reacted to those representations the analysis contributes to a comprehensive reflection on the stereotypes that underlie

discourses in online media and how audiences co opt confront criticize renegotiate and seek to promote gender alternatives that challenge gender in equity This timely volume will be of interest to all scholars and students of media studies digital and new media gender and masculinity feminism digital cultures critical cultural studies European cultural studies and sociology

The Singer-Songwriter in Europe Isabelle Marc, Stuart Green, 2016-03-22 The Singer Songwriter in Europe is the first book to explore and compare the multifaceted discourses and practices of this figure within and across linguistic spaces in Europe and in dialogue with spaces beyond continental borders The concept of the singer songwriter is significant and much debated for a variety of reasons Many such musicians possess large and zealous followings their output often esteemed politically and usually held up as the nearest popular music gets to high art such facets often yielding sizeable economic benefits Yet this figure per se has been the object of scant critical discussion with individual practitioners celebrated for their isolated achievements instead In response to this lack of critical knowledge this volume identifies and interrogates the musical linguistic social and ideological elements that configure the singer songwriter and its various equivalents in Europe such as the French auteur compositeur interpr te and the Italian cantautore since the late 1940s Particular attention is paid to the emergence of this figure in the post war period how and why its contours have changed over time and space subsequently cross cultural influences and the transformative agency of this figure as regards party and identity politics in lyrics and music often by means of individual case studies The book s polycentric approach endeavours to redress the hitherto Anglophone bias in scholarship on the singer songwriter in the English speaking world drawing on the knowledge of scholars from across Europe and from a variety of academic disciplines including modern language studies musicology sociology literary studies and history

A People's History of the Portuguese Revolution Raquel Varela, 2019-02-20 On the 25th April 1974 a coup destroyed the ranks of Portugal s fascist Estado Novo government as the Portuguese people flooded the streets of Lisbon placing red carnations in the barrels of guns and demanding a land for those who work in it This became the Carnation Revolution an international coalition of working class and social movements which also incited struggles for independence in Portugal s African colonies the rebellion of the young military captains in the national armed forces and the uprising of Portugal s long oppressed working classes It was through the organising power of these diverse movements that a popular front government was instituted and Portugal withdrew from its overseas colonies Cutting against the grain of mainstream accounts Raquel Carneira Varela explores the role of trade unions artists and women in the revolution providing a rich account of the challenges faced and the victories gained through revolutionary means

Women, Crime, and Forgiveness in Early Modern Portugal Darlene Abreu-Ferreira, 2016-03-09 Looking at the experiences of women in early modern Portugal in the context of crime and forgiveness this study demonstrates the extent to which judicial and quasi judicial records can be used to examine the implications of crime in women s lives whether as victims or culprits The foundational basis for this study is two sets of manuscript sources that highlight two distinct yet connected experiences of women as participants in the criminal process One consists of a collection of archival documents from the first half of the seventeenth century a corpus called querelas in which formal accusations of criminal acts were registered This is a rich source of information not only about the types of crimes reported but also the process that plaintiffs had to follow to deal with their cases The second primary source consists of a sampling of documents known as the perd o de parte The term refers to the victim's pardon unique to the Iberian Peninsula which allowed individuals implicated in serious conflicts to have a voice in the judicial process By looking at a sample of these pardons found in notary collections from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Abreu Ferreira is able to show the extent to which women exercised their agency in a legal process that was otherwise male dominated
