The Paradox of Islamic Finance Ryan Calder, 2024-08-06 How the booming Islamic finance industry became an ultramodern hybrid of religion and markets In just fifty years Islamic finance has grown from a tiny experiment operated from a Volkswagen van to a thriving global industry worth more than the entire financial sector of India South America or Eastern Europe You can now shop with an Islamic credit card invest in Islamic bonds and buy Islamic derivatives But how has this spectacular growth been possible given Islam's strictures against interest In The Paradox of Islamic Finance Ryan Calder examines the Islamic finance boom arguing that shariah scholars experts in Islamic law who certify financial products as truly Islamic have made the industry a profitable if controversial hybrid of religion and markets Critics say Islamic finance merely reproduces conventional interest based finance with the shariah scholars blessing From an economic perspective they are right the most popular Islamic products act like conventional interest bearing ones earning healthy profits for Islamic banks and global financial heavyweights like Deutsche Bank and Goldman Sachs Yet as Calder shows by delving into the shariah scholars day to day work what seem like high tech work arounds to outsiders carry deep and nuanced meaning to the scholars and to the hundreds of millions of Muslims who respect their expertise He argues that shariah scholars conception of Islamic finance is perfectly suited to the age of financialization and the global efflorescence of shariah minded Islam
