creating satisfying traditions when the traditions you grew up with aren't appropriate for your life style Includes ideas for mixed marriages single parents people who are far from home and single people The Peddler's Grandson Edward Cohen,2009-09-28 Edward Cohen grew up in Jackson Mississippi the heart of the Bible Belt thousands of miles from the northern centers of Jewish culture As a child he sang Dixie in his segregated school said the shema at temple While the civil rights struggle exploded all around he worked at the family clothing store that catered to blacks His grandfather Moise had left Romania and all his family for a very different world the Deep South Peddling on foot from farm to farm sleeping in haylofts he was the first Jew many Mississippians had ever seen Moise's brother joined him and they married two sisters raising their children under one roof an island of Judaism in a sea of southern Christianity In the 1950s insulated by the extended family of double cousins Edward believed the world was populated totally by Jews until the first day of school when he had the disquieting realization that he was the only Jew in his class At times he felt southern almost but his sense of being an outsider slowly crystallized as he listened to daily Christian school prayers tried to explain his annual absences to classmates who had never heard of Rosh Hashanah At Christmas his parents house was the only one without lights In the seventh grade he was the only child not invited to dance class In a compelling work that is nonfiction throughout but conveyed with a fiction writer's skill and technique Cohen recounts how he left Mississippi for college to seek his own tribe Instead he found that among northern Jews he was again an outsider marked by his southernness They knew holidays like Simchas Torah he knew Confederate Memorial Day He tells a story of displacement of living on the margin of two already marginal groups and of coming to terms with his dual loyalties to region and religion In this unsparingly honest and often humorous portrait of cultural contradiction Cohen's themes the separateness of the artist the tug of assimilation the elusiveness of identity resonate far beyond the South The Evangelical Dictionary of World Religions H. Wayne

House,2019-02-19 With all of the different religions sects denominations and belief systems out there it can be difficult to separate the facts from mere opinion especially if one is relying solely on online sources which may or may not be vetted and which often have an ideological or political slant to them How can we truly understand if we cannot even be sure we are getting the facts straight In this comprehensive resource more than 75 evangelical scholars offer a thoroughly researched guide to Christianity other world religions and alternative religious views including entries on movements theological terms and major historical figures Perfect for pastors students and anyone who wants ready access to information on today's religious landscape Hands-On Art Activities for the Elementary Classroom Jude Cataldo,2006-09-22 Whether you

Desmond Fosbery, 2016-03-26 A man loses his memory in an accident He spends over two years with Colombian rebels and has now been shipwrecked on a small Pacific Atoll He is in the company of two Swiss psychologists Some of his old skills have re-emerged But does he have enough to survive the ensuing adventure including facing a firing squad The banner headline read SHOOT ME Doctor tells how he prevented Tanzanians from killing captured Seychelles Mercenaries Beneath the headline was a photograph of Calix and me in JAHOS cabin and a small portrait snap of Brooks and Carey showing their facial injuries Good Neighbors, Bad Times Revisited Mimi Schwartz, 2021-03 Mimi Schwartz's father was born Jewish in a tiny German village thirty years before the advent of Hitler when as he'd tell her We all got along In her original memoir Good Neighbors Bad Times Schwartz explored how human decency fared among Christian and Jewish neighbors before during and after Nazi times Ten years after its publication a letter arrived from a man named Max Sayer in South Australia Sayer it turns out grew up Catholic in the village during the Third Reich and in 1937 moved into an abandoned Jewish home five houses away from where the family of Schwartz's father had lived for generations before fleeing to America a few months earlier The two families had never met Sayer wrote an unpublished memoir about his childhood memories and in Schwartz's new edition Good Neighbors Bad Times Revisited the two memoirs talk to each other Weaving excerpts from Sayer's memoir and from a yearlong correspondence with him into her book Schwartz revisits village history from a new perspective deepening our understanding of decency and demonization Given the rise of xenophobia white supremacy and anti-Semitism in the world today this exploration seems more urgent than ever Nature Force Coby Ingram, 2018-12-07 I think it's cool Howie said from his hunched over position The rain was lessening Here we are supposed to be getting together with Greenpeace and protesting this lab opening And we just randomly show up at the wrong gate Five kids with nature powers Fire and water and plants and animals And electricity He nodded toward Olaudah Christian kids Four kids I replied I don't have powers Howie's eyes laughed at me I seen you playing with that fire Cave Man You make it do your will His native drawl was musical soft and reserved merciless and accepting at the same time I shook my head I was thinking people who can't light fires shouldn't criticize those who can But he was walking over to me Reached out his hand with a decisive look Gimme your lighter Fair enough I handed it to him He flicked it a couple times to make sure it was working Then he made a fist and squirted butane gas into it from the thumb side Then with a flick and a scratch he opened his hand and held a ball of flame there for a second Ever did that I nodded He reached out the lighter expecting me to make a fist I let him spray the gas into my hand and then at a nod from him I flipped my hand over and opened it The flames leaped up an ephemeral orange ball Tongues of flame licked the air around it and then the fuel was gone at one with the air I looked at him So He held up the lighter waved it It was still in his hand He hadn't lit the fire You have powers white boy BJL Beginnings Rosh
