Outposts of Monopoly Capitalism Neva Makgetla, Ann Willcox Seidman, 1980 Theory, Change and Southern Africa P. Vale, L. Swatuk, B. Oden, 2001-06-26 As dramatic changes unfold throughout the world and the new millennium begins many in South Africa have begun to ask what next The scale and pace of change have led to a feeling of powerlessness How to cope with globalization regionalization a depleting ozone layer new diseases rampant militarization let alone unseen structures of influence and oppression like race class and gender While there is no shortage of theoretical models on offer many feel that they are inadequate for the case of Southern Africa In this book scholars of both international relations and Southern Africa present a wide variety of thoughts on the future of the region and the place of theory in helping us to understand the bewildering array of events characterizing the late modern early twenty first century world This book marks a call to theory if Southern Africans are to overcome the divisive legacy of the past and to move toward a more prosperous and sustainable collective future theory must be placed at the centre of everyday life For it is our understanding of the world that shapes both it and us Studies in the Economic History of Southern Africa Z.A. Konczacki, Jane L. Parpart, Timothy M. Shaw, 2014-01-14 First Published in 1990 Volume Two of Studies of Economic History of South Africa looks at the Lesotho and Swaziland regions The unfolding history and historiography of Southern Africa pose profound challenges for both analysis and praxis in the last decade of the twentieth century These challenges are reflected in the range of investigations and contradictions some of which are treated here which together constitute an intellectual and political conjuncture This collection of studies deals with the countries which were not included in the companion book on the economic history of the Front Line States Most of the space in the present volume is devoted to South Africa primarily because of its importance to the region but also because contributions to the economic history of that country in English are very extensive as compared to the other states of Southern Africa Global Rivalries From the Cold War to Iraq Kees van der Pijl, 2006-08-20 This book offers a highly original analysis of world events in the light of the Iraq War It explores the history and development of relations between major countries in the international community and the impact that successive wars and changes in the global political economy have had on the way states relate to each other today Tracing the liberal state structure back to the closing stages of the English Civil War and settlement in North America it argues that the rise of the English speaking West has created rivalries between contender states that are never entirely put to rest With each round of Western expansion new rivalries are created Offering a truly global analysis that covers every area of the world from Europe and America to China the Middle East Latin America and Russia he analyses the development of international relations post WWII and questions whether the neoliberal project and its human rights ideology have collapsed back into authoritarianism under the guise of the war on terror The Oxford Handbook of Economic Imperialism Zak Cope, Immanuel Ness, 2022 Including thirty four chapters written by academics and experts in the field of international political economy The Oxford Handbook of Economic

A Spatial Approach to Regionalisms in the Global Economy M. Niemann,2016-01-26 The author challenges the traditional manner in which regionalization has been approached and suggests that the failure to come to grips with this phenomenon is the result of the modernist regulation of space to margins of analysis He advances instead a spatially orientated approach which views states as one of multiple layers of a global social space Regionalization represents the construction of new layers in an effort to search for an institutional fix to the challenges of globalization
