The Blackwell Companion to The New Testament David E. Aune, 2010-01-22 The Blackwell Companion to the New Testament is a detailed introduction to the New Testament written by more than 40 scholars from a variety of Christian denominations. Treats the 27 books and letters of the New Testament systematically beginning with a review of current issues and concluding with an annotated bibliography. Considers the historical social and cultural contexts in which the New Testament was produced exploring relevant linguistic and textual issues. An international contributor list of over 40 scholars represent wide field expertise and a variety of Christian denominations. Distinctive features include a unified treatment of Luke through Acts, articles on the canonical Gospels and a discussion of the apocryphal New Testament.

Alternative Lives of Jesus Roland H. Worth, Jr., 2010-06-28 There is a body of religious literature most of which was written centuries after the New Testament that attempts to provide supplemental or alternative accounts of the life of Jesus Christ. The most exhaustive surviving alternative versions to the New Testament come from orthodox circles and are often creative imaginings that try to fill holes in the canonical gospel accounts of Jesus' life. This work investigates the origins and nature of noncanonical retellings in detail both orthodox and heretical as well as Roman and traditionalist Jewish ones. Extensive summaries of the text as well as substantial verbatim extracts of key incidents and assertions are provided to give the reader a feel for the character and intents of the various sources. A concise introduction to a much neglected area of Bible-related study that should be of potential use to students of Biblical literature, comparative religion, and early medieval thought.

Ancient Christian Apocrypha Outi Lehtipuu, Silke Petersen, 2022-08-05 This latest volume in the Bible and Women series examines ancient noncanonical Christian texts for what they reveal about women, their engagement with Scripture, and attitudes toward them in texts dating to the second to eighth century. Three sections include once-forgotten texts rediscovered in locations such as Nag Hammadi; those that have been in continuous use through the centuries; and works written by women that are traditionally excluded from discussions of noncanonical texts. Contributors: Bernadette J. Brooten, Marjorie Jos Cabezalillo, Anna Carfora, Ute E. Eisen, Judith Hartenstein, Ursula Ulrike Kaiser, Karen L. King, Outi Lehtipuu, Heidrun Mader, Antti Marjanen, Silvia Pellegrini, Silke Petersen, Uwe Karsten Plisch, Cristina Simonelli, Anna Rebecca Solev, M. Dolores Martin Trutet, and Carmen Bernabé Ubieta examine a range of texts including noncanonical gospels and acts, poems, prophecy, and grave inscriptions.

Collected Works of Erasmus Desiderius Erasmus, 2017-05-08 Volume 58 in the Collected Works of Erasmus series contains for the first time the English translation of Erasmus' Annotations on Paul's Epistles to the Galatians and Ephesians. Erasmus' Annotations began as marginal comments in his own copy of the New Testament and were subsequently published in 1516 as a supplement to the Novum Instrumentum. His annotations were intended to justify his changes based on the Greek text. In each successive edition published between 1516 and 1535 the Annotations grew in size and scope providing Erasmus with the opportunity to defend his translations in the face of growing criticism from orthodox Catholic theologians. This volume notes the editorial changes made in the five editions and also provides the reader with information about the patristic, medieval and contemporary sources consulted by Erasmus and about the evolving relations with contemporary critics. The Annotations played a pivotal role in the development of sixteenth century biblical exegesis and mark a significant stage in the evolution of humanist biblical scholarship.

Mark C. Clifton Black, 2001-09-13 Explores the figure and function of Mark the apostolic associate to whom Christians have traditionally attributed authorship of the second gospel. Using a variety of critical lenses historical, literary and theological Black examines the images of Mark the Evangelical which emerge from the New Testament and from the writings of the early church fathers. He shows how these images helped the early church in the formation of its religious memory and theological identity.

Mark: Images of an Apostolic Interpreter C. Clifton Black, In this study of early Christian traditions C. Clifton Black explores the figure and function of Mark the apostolic associate to whom Christians traditionally have attributed authorship of the New Testament's anonymous Second Gospel and whose very existence has been a controversial issue among scholars. Black contends that in their justifiable doubt about Mark's writing of the Second Gospel biblical scholars have neglected the development of that ascription as well as its religious motivations. Using a variety of critical lenses historical, literary and theological Black examines the images of Mark that emerge from the New Testament and from the writings of the early church fathers. Black's comprehensive investigation culminates in a fresh appraisal of the relationship between the Gospel of Mark and the legends surrounding its composition. Black concludes that the figure of Mark was carefully crafted as a part of the interpretive framework within which early Christians read the Second Gospel and heard its witness as faithful to their understanding of Jesus. Like the Markan Gospel itself the image of Mark the Evangelist helped the early church in the formation of its religious memory and theological identity.

The Ancient Novel and Early Christian and Jewish Narrative: Fictional Intersections Marília Futre Pinheiro, Judith Perkins, Richard I. Pervo, 2013-01-06 This innovative collection explores the vital role played by fictional narratives in Christian and Jewish self-fashioning in the early Roman imperial period. Employing a diversity of approaches including cultural studies, feminist, philological and narratological expert scholars from six countries offer twelve essays on Christian fictions or fictionalized texts and one essay on Aseneth. All the papers were originally presented at the Fourth International Conference on the Ancient Novel in Lisbon, Portugal in 2008. The papers emphasize historical contextualization and comparative methodologies and will appeal to all those interested in early Christianity, the Ancient novel, Roman imperial history, feminist studies and canonization processes.

Ancient Jewish and Christian Scriptures John J. Collins, Craig A. Evans, Lee Martin McDonald, 2020-08-25 Ancient Jewish and Christian Scriptures examines the writings included in and

excluded from the Jewish and Christian canons of Scripture and explores the social settings in which some of this literature was viewed as authoritative and some was viewed either as uninspired or as heretical John J Collins Craig A Evans and Lee Martin McDonald examine how those noncanonical writings demonstrate the historical literary and religious aspects of the culture that gave rise to the writings They also show how literature excluded from the Jewish and Christian canons of Scripture remains valuable today for understanding the questions and conflicts that early Jewish and Christian faith communities faced Through this discussion contemporary readers acquire a broader understanding of biblical Scripture and of Jewish and Christian faith inspired by Scripture

Images of Rebirth Hugo Lundhaug, 2010-08-09 This book offers fresh readings of the Gospel of Philip NHC II 3 and the Exegesis on the Soul NHC II 6 from new theoretical and historical perspectives Eschewing the category of Gnosticism and challenging common categorisations the book analyses the preserved Coptic texts as coherent Christian compositions contemporary with the production and use of the Nag Hammadi Codices A methodological framework based on Cognitive Poetics is outlined and applied to illuminate how the texts present a soteriology of transformation through religious rituals and practices using complex conceptual and intertextual blends with important polemical and paraenetic functions The analysis highlights the use of metaphors and allusions in re interpretations of authoritative Scripture ritual and dogma Complete Coptic texts and translations are included

Recovering Jewish-Christian Sects and Gospels Petri Luomanen, 2011-11-25 This book provides a new approach to patristic sources on the earliest Jewish Christians It shows the artificial nature of the church fathers discourse and challenges the widely accepted theory of three Jewish Christian gospels bringing the Gospel of the Hebrews closer to its synoptic cousins

Archeology of Intangible Heritage Francisco Vaz da Silva, 2008 It is remarkable how often we consider certain constructs in other peoples worldview to be myths while in our own case we regard equally arbitrary assumptions as inherent to the nature of things As every anthropologist knows one s most cherished cultural assumptions tend to remain implicit in other words worldview is largely unconscious This book explores the possibility of plumbing obscure aspects of one s own culture in order to assess what some might call regarding other cultures the mythic underpinnings of worldview Seven explorations in folklore and ethnography exhume a conceptual heritage that still influences perception albeit in unconscious ways This archeology of intangible heritage provides the sort of break in intellectual routine that allows us to look anew at familiar things

Manichaeism in the Later Roman Empire Nicholas Baker-Brian, 2009 The book is the first monograph length study of Augustine s Contra Adimantum and demonstrates that despite previous neglect of the work by Patristic scholars a full appreciation of Augustine s reaction to the Manichaean exegesis of the Bible is essential in understanding the development of Augustine s early theology personalities and events described in the Gospels For here is the largest ritual bathing pool ever found in the Jerusalem area and found in the village where John the Baptist was born showing unmistakable signs of ritual use in the first century AD Also in the cave is the earliest ever Christian art depicting John the Baptist as well as the three crosses of the crucifixion By using the forensic techniques available to the modern archaeologist Gibson and his international team have been able to draw information from the drawings pottery coins bones remains of ritual fire and pieces of cloth found in the cave and match these up with the contemporary literary sources This is a unique opportunity to build up a picture of the very first Christians how they lived and even what they believed As Gibson writes By fitting together the new archaeological facts with the historical information available and sometimes buried in scholarly literature I believe I am able to throw an amazing amount of light on the personality and mission of John the Baptist Who was he Where did he come from What were his beliefs and what was the baptism all about
