New Wealth Commercialization Of Science And Technology For Business And Economic Development:

New Wealth George Kozmetsky, Social Culture and High-Tech Economic Development F. Phillips, 2006-04-12 Techno regions have generated most of the new jobs in the past decade and this technology is driving economic development however problems persist This book highlights the potential pitfalls and suggests methods by which a sustainable distinctive and prosperous technology based regional economy can exist Promoting Sustainable Local and Community Economic Development Roland V. Anglin, 2017-09-25 Growing local economies empowering communities revitalizing downtowns developing entrepreneurship building leadership and enhancing nonprofits you can achieve all these benefits and more with a comprehensive and strategic revitalization plan Chronicling the struggle of local revitalization as organizers move from trial and error to effective revitalization strategies Promoting Sustainable Local and Community Economic Development documents the current transformation in community revitalization from market based incentives to mixed strategies of public sector learning partnerships and community capacity Knowledge about the field and what works is growing but not always publicized and readily accessible This reference surveys the breadth of innovative place and people development practices presenting lessons and examples at a general and textured level putting information about innovative ways to change influence and improve the economic development process within easy reach Roland Anglin brings his unique vantage point to the topic his experience as a practitioner and applied academic allowed him to see how community economic development practices grow over time in size scale and impact He highlights the difference between what is now termed community economic development CED and traditional local economic development practice specifically the priority placed on community involvement in economic development partnerships between the private sector and government The book includes case studies that demonstrate what has and has not worked in revitalization efforts as well as how active public and private sector partnerships have been the most effective in revitalization efforts A Resource Guide is included at the end of the book for readers who may want a more expansive understanding of community economic development Economic Impact or Contribution Murat Arik, 2015-12-17 Economic Impact or Contribution contributes to the applied regional economic literature by providing a framework for handling a diverse set of projects and providing detailed case studies of fieldwork regarding the health care industry higher education institutions the nonprofit sector infrastructure investment and a major musical entertainment event Economic Impact or Contribution accomplishes three major tasks by answering the following questions What are the differences between the economic concepts used in economic versus fiscal assessment studies How can we structure an economic and business issue or challenge How can we create a research product that helps the project s sponsors solve their problem This book has emerged as an answer to many research related questions in dealing with regional business and economic issues and challenges City in a Garden Andrew M. Busch, 2017-05-16 The natural beauty of Austin Texas has always been central to the city s identity From the beginning city leaders residents planners and employers consistently imagined Austin as a natural place highlighting the region's environmental attributes as they marketed the city and planned for its growth. Yet as Austin modernized and attracted an educated and skilled labor force, the demand to preserve its natural spaces was used to justify economic and racial segregation. This effort to create and maintain a city in a garden perpetuated uneven social and economic power relationships throughout the twentieth century. In telling Austin's story, Andrew M. Busch invites readers to consider the wider implications of environmentally friendly urban development. While Austin's mainstream environmental record is impressive, its minority groups continue to live on the economic, social, and geographic margins of the city. By demonstrating how the city's midcentury modernization and progressive movement sustained racial oppression, restriction, and uneven development in the decades that followed, Busch reveals the darker ramifications of Austin's green growth.

Entrepreneurship, the New Economy and Public Policy

Uwe Cantner, Elias Dinopoulos, Robert F. Lanzillotti, 2005-12-12. Silicon Valley is the most salient example of high tech industrial clusters. Public policymakers throughout the world would like to learn the secrets of Silicon Valley in order to build their own high tech economies. The existing literature on industrial clusters, which traces back to Marshall (1920), focuses on the way in which firms benefit from locating in a cluster; it suggests that once a cluster comes into existence, it tends to reinforce itself by attracting more firms. However, a more important question is how to reach this critical mass in the first place. In contrast to the literature, evidence suggests that entrepreneurs rarely move when they establish high tech start-ups. Cooper and Folta (2000) This contradicts the notion that location choice analyses lead entrepreneurs to a high tech cluster. A high tech industrial cluster such as Silicon Valley is characterized by concentrated entrepreneurship. Following Schumpeter, we emphasize the fact that the appearance of one or a few entrepreneurs facilitates the appearance of others. Schumpeter (1934). We propose an agent-based computational model to show how high tech industrial clusters could emerge in a landscape in which no firms existed originally. The model is essentially a spatial version of the Nelson-Winter model. Boundedly rational agents are scattered over an explicitly defined landscape. Each agent is endowed with some technology which determines his firm's productivity if he has one. During each period of time, an agent with no firm would make a decision as to whether he wants to start one. This decision is mostly affected by the behavior of his social contacts, who are all his neighbors.

Profiles in Operations Research Arjang A. Assad, Saul I. Gass, 2011-06-28. Profiles in Operations Research: Pioneers and Innovators recounts the development of the field of Operations Research (OR), the science of decision making. The book traces the development of OR from its military origins to a mature discipline that is recognized worldwide for its contributions to managerial planning and complex global operations. Over the past six decades, OR analyses have impacted our daily lives when making an airline or hotel reservation waiting in line at a bank getting the correctly blended fuel at the gas station and ensuring that the book you are holding arrived at its destination on time OR originated in the late 1930s when British scientists from various disciplines joined Royal Air Force officers to determine the most effective way to employ new radar technology for intercepting enemy aircraft During World War II similar applied research groups were formed to study test and evaluate military operations on both sides of the Atlantic Their work resulted in great improvements OR helped the Allies win the war The scientific field that emerged from these studies was called operational research in the U K and operations research in the U S Today OR provides a broad and powerful science to aid decision making Profiles describes the lives and contributions of 43 OR pioneers and innovators and relates how these individuals with varying backgrounds and diverse interests were drawn to the nascent field of OR The profiles also describe how OR techniques and applications expanded considerably beyond the military context to find new domains in business and industry In addition to their scientific contributions these profiles capture the life stories of the individuals interwoven with personal tales vivid vignettes family backgrounds and views of the mission and future of OR Collectively the profiles recount the fascinating story of the growth and development of a field enriched by the convergence of different disciplines The Editors Arjang A Assad is Dean of the School of Management University at Buffalo State University of New York Saul I Gass is Professor Emeritus Department of Decision Operations Information Technologies Smith School of Business University of Maryland College Park From the Reviews Profiles In Operations Research Pioneers and Innovators Book Review by Nigel Cummings U K OR Society s e journal Inside OR Sept 2011 I can thoroughly recommend this book I found it both enlightening and undeniably gripping so much so in fact you may find it difficult to put it down once you have commenced reading it Arjang A Assad and Saul I Gass have created a masterwork which will serve to immortalise the pioneers of OR for many years to come For a list of all known typos plus further discussion on the book please visit <http://profiles.inoperationsresearch.com>
