The Cedar Choppers Ken Roberts, 2018-04-12 At the low water bridge below Tom Miller Dam west of downtown Austin during the summer of his tenth or eleventh year Ken Roberts had his first encounter with cedar choppers On his way to the bridge for a leisurely afternoon of fishing he suddenly found himself facing a group of boys who clearly came from a different place and culture than the middle class suburban community he was accustomed to Rather they looked hard tanned skinny dirty These were not kids you would see in Austin When Roberts's fishing companion curtly refused the strangers offer to sell them a stringer of bluegills the three boys went away only to reappear moments later one of them carrying a club Roberts and his friend made a hasty retreat This encounter provoked in the author the question Who are these people The Cedar Choppers Life on the Edge of Nothing is his thoughtful entertaining and informative answer Based on oral history interviews with several generations of cedar choppers and those who knew them this book weaves together the lively gritty story of these largely Scots Irish migrants with roots in Appalachia who settled on the west side of the Balcones Fault during the mid nineteenth century subsisting mainly on hunting trapping moonshining and by the early twentieth century cutting transporting and selling cedar fence posts and charcoal The emergence of Austin as a major metropolitan area especially after the 1950s soon brought the cedar choppers and their hillbilly lifestyle into direct confrontation with the gentrified urban population east of the Balcones Fault This clash of cultures which provided the setting for Roberts's encounter as a young boy propels this first book length treatment of the cedar choppers their clans their culture and mores and their longing for a way of life that is rapidly disappearing
