Enterprise Software Sourcing Performance Marko Nöhren, 2015-11-02 This book opens the black box of software sourcing by explaining how dynamic software alignment is established and how it impacts business performance outcomes. By investigating how software sourcing modes are related to value generation in the post implementation phase it shows researchers and managers the impact logic of on demand on premises and in house software on dynamic fit and process level performance outcomes in a client organization. It describes dynamic IT alignment as the key to success in a fast moving digital world with software as a service on the rise and highlights the fact that today companies can choose between developing software in house make or sourcing packaged systems in an on premises buy or an on demand lease mode. This book is the first to explicitly compare these sourcing arrangements with each other in terms of alignment and business performance.
