Journalism in Context Angela Phillips, 2014-09-15 Journalism in Context is an accessible introduction to the theory and practice of journalism in a changing world The book looks at the way in which power flows through media organisations influencing not only what journalists choose to present to their audiences but how they present it and then in turn what their audiences do with it Using examples from across the world as well as from her own research Angela Phillips uses them to explain complex theoretical concepts She invites readers to consider how news is influenced by the culture from which it emerges as well as the way it is paid for and how different countries have approached the problem of ensuring that democracy is served by its media rather than being undermined by it Journalism has always been an early adopter of new technologies and the most recent changes are examined in the light of a history in which although platforms keep on changing journalism always survives The questions raised here are important for all students of journalism and all those who believe that journalism matters

Media Convergence Handbook - Vol. 1 Artur Lugmayr, Cinzia Dal Zotto, 2015-11-20 The Media Convergence Handbook sheds new light on the complexity of media convergence and the related business challenges Approaching the topic from a managerial technological as well as end consumer perspective it acts as a reference book and educational resource in the field Media convergence at business level may imply transforming business models and using multiplatform content production and distribution tools However it is shown that the implementation of convergence strategies can only succeed when expectations and aspirations of every actor involved are taken into account Media consumers content producers and managers face different challenges in the process of media convergence Volume I of the Media Convergence Handbook encourages an active discourse on media convergence by introducing the concept through general perspective articles and addressing the real world challenges of conversion in the publishing broadcasting and social media sectors

Media Accountability William Babcock, 2014-06-11 A small collection of well honed tools has been employed for some time by media practitioners and the public to help maintain and improve the credibility of journalism and the mass media These media accountability tools have included ethics codes media critics news councils ombudsmen journalism reviews and public civic journalism initiatives Now in the 21st Century the mass media are increasingly being buffeted by a perfect storm of declining subscribers and audience share dwindling advertising revenue changing corporate demands unpredictable audiences and new media competition If journalism and the mass media are to stay afloat and be credible the media accountability toolbox needs to contain suitable tools for the job which begs the question Who will Watch the Watchdog in the Twitter Age This book contains answers to this question from the perspective of 17 media ethics experts from around the globe Their answers will help shape and define for years to come the tools in the media ethics toolbox This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Mass Media Ethics

Media Transparency in China Baohui Xie,2014-08-20 This book argues that the gap between the official transparency rhetoric and the censorship reality has demonstrated the discrepancy between what the Party is and what it claims to be Such a discrepancy is manifested by the reality that the reformed news industry a hybrid of market oriented commercialization and party state control has largely failed to deliver either the voice of the disenfranchised groups or the value of journalism To observe the discrepancy this book investigates the role of transparency in the Chinese news media Media transparency which goes beyond the issue of censorship and press freedom has been undermined by the consensus reached between the party state and the media on political and market control It is this mutually accommodating and benefiting scheme between power and profits that has been hollowing out the substance of the transparency rhetoric and distorting the Marxist idea of press freedom as freedom for all This book argues that the cause of such a gap between rhetoric and reality is rooted in the disjuncture of political representation of both the party state and the profit seeking media
