Politics of Inscription Joseph Robinson, 2017-08-04 Taking Northern Ireland as its primary case study this book applies the burgeoning literature in memory studies to the primary question of transitional justice how shall societies and individuals reckon with a traumatic past Joseph Robinson argues that without understanding how memory shapes moulds and frames narratives of the past in the minds of communities and individuals theorists and practitioners may not be able to fully appreciate the complex emotive realities of transitional political landscapes Drawing on interviews with what the author terms memory curators coupled with a robust analysis of secondary literature from a range of transitional cases the book analyses how the bodies of the dead the injured and the traumatised are written into or written out of transitional justice The author argues that scholars cannot appreciate the dynamism of transitional memory space unless they first engage with the often silenced or marginalised voices whose memories remain trapped behind the antagonistic politics of fear and division Ultimately challenging the imperative of national reconciliation the author argues for a politics of public memory that incubates at multiple nodes of social production and can facilitate a vibrant democratic debate over the ways in which a traumatic past can or should be remembered

Conservatism, Consumer Choice, and the Food and Drug Administration during the Reagan Era Lucas Richert, 2014-05-16 In the last quarter of the 20th century politicians in Washington as well as interest groups regulatory policy makers and drug industry leaders were forced to confront the hot button issue of pharmaceutical regulation The struggle always centered on product innovation consumer protection and choice in the free market As the American economy stuttered in the late 1970s the stakes were extremely high for the powerful drug industry and the American public At the center of this drama was the Food and Drug Administration which was censured from both the left and right of the political spectrum for being too strict and too lenient in the application of its regulatory powers Lucas Richert explores the FDA drugs and politics in the context of the watershed Reagan era a period when the rhetoric of limited government reduced regulation and enhanced cooperation between businesses and U S regulatory agencies was on the ascent As he investigates the controversies surrounding Laetrile Reye s Syndrome Oraflex patient package inserts diet pills and HIV AIDS drugs Richert argues that the practical application of conservative economic principles to the American drug industry was A Prescription for Scandal

Peyton,2024-02-07 In an increasingly broken world filled with hate and violence God s plan from the beginning was to save and restore the world to the glory for which he had created it This simple plan has not changed with the evolution of sin time or man s rejection of his creator Rather God s simple twofold plan of redemption included both a commandment to love the creator with all one s heart mind soul and strength and a commandment to love one s neighbor as one s self Neither commandment stands in isolation for one cannot fully love others without a consuming love for God and neither can one completely love God without a love for the neighbor created by God The answer to hate is love the answer to war is love the answer to violence is love and the answer to all of societal disfunction is love The answer is not a commandment to like God and others because one only likes others because of likeness Rather love is a choice A choice to love what you don t like A choice to love what you don t understand A choice to love until the God you love sets everything right in eternity Ecosocial Theory, Embodied Truths, and the People's Health Nancy Krieger,2021-09-17 Drawing on an array of novel examples such as workplace discrimination relationship abuse Jim Crow climate change and pesticides Nancy Krieger argues for a more expansive understanding of how humans biologically embody our societal and ecological contexts Adapting in the Dust Stephen M. Saideman,2016-01-27 Canada s six year military mission in Afghanistan s Kandahar province was one of the most intense and challenging moments in Canadian foreign affairs since the Korean War A complex war fought in an inhospitable environment the Afghanistan mission tested the mettle not just of Canada s soldiers but also of its politicians public servants and policy makers In Adapting in the Dust Stephen M Saideman considers how well the Canadian government media and public managed the challenge Building on interviews with military officers civilian officials and politicians Saideman shows how key actors in Canada s political system including the prime minister the political parties and parliament responded to the demands of a costly and controversial mission Some adapted well others adapted poorly or worse yet in ways that protected careers but harmed the mission itself Adapting in the Dust is a vital evaluation of how well Canada s institutions parties and policy makers responded to the need to oversee and sustain a military intervention overseas and an important guide to what will have to change in order to do better next time Sunset ,2004 *Thyra J. Issues in Investigative Interviewing, Eyewitness Memory, and Credibility Assessment Barry S. Cooper, Dorothee Griesel, Marguerite Ternes, 2013-02-01 Contingent on funding being available a Festschrift will be held in honor of Dr John Yuille's career as a Forensic Psychologist. He has become one of the most visible and respected Canadian psychologists worldwide. In light of his upcoming retirement in December 2006 the Festschrift will recognize Dr Yuille's achievements in the areas of eyewitness memory research i.e. pioneering a new research paradigm that grants better validity investigative interviewing i.e. the development and use of the Step Wise Interview Protocol and credibility assessment i.e. introducing Statement Validity Analysis to North America. New directions for future work will be explored at the workshop. The focus of this Festschrift will be three fold: 1 International: Dr Yuille's work has influenced law enforcement practices and stimulated research in and outside of Canada. The international and multicultural aspects of the work that Dr Yuille has inspired will be reflected and promoted by this workshop. 2 Interdisciplinary: Dr Yuille is internationally known as an expert consultant and trainer to law enforcement. As such Dr Yuille's work has also influenced other disciplines e.g. the law, social work, oral history. The participants of this Festschrift will gain insight into other professionals' perspectives and foster potential collaborations on future projects. 3 Emphasis on applied research: A hallmark of Dr Yuille's research has been the application of field and archival methods which made his work directly applicable to forensically relevant contexts. The potential future directions of applied forensic research will be discussed at this Festschrift. The importance of the subject at this time: A lack of integrative models in the literatures of eyewitness memory and the assessment of truthfulness and deception. Presenters of the Festschrift have recently developed such models and will discuss them at the Festschrift. Publishing these models and their discussions will spark further research to validate or modify them. New pioneering field research based on such integrative models has recently been conducted. This book would be one of the first publications of the results. Supervision for Today's Schools George E. Pawlas, Peter F. Oliva, 2007-06-29 Specifically designed for the introductory course this text provides an overview of the field of instructional supervision. Acquaints students with not only the authors' views on supervision but with those of other specialists in the field, placing heavy emphasis on practice and the supervisor's responsibilities as an instructional leader. Continues to stress that the relationship between the supervisor and teacher is built on trust and that the overall goal is to improve student achievement through better instruction. Becoming the News Ruth Palmer, 2017-12-05 What does it feel like to be featured, quoted or just named in a news story? A refugee family, the survivor of a shooting, a primary voter in Iowa: the views and experiences of ordinary people are an important component of journalism. While much has been written about how journalists work and gather stories, what do we discover about the practice of journalism and attitudes about the media by focusing on the experiences of the subjects themselves? In Becoming the News Ruth Palmer argues that understanding the motivations and experiences of those who have been featured in news stories voluntarily or not sheds new light on the practice of journalism and the importance many continue to place on the role of the mainstream media Based on dozens of interviews with news subjects Becoming the News studies how ordinary people make sense of their experience as media subjects Palmer charts the arc of the experience of making the news from the events that brought an ordinary person to journalists attention through the decision to cooperate with reporters interactions with journalists and reactions to the news coverage and its aftermath She explores what motivates someone to talk to the press whether they consider the potential risks the power dynamics between a journalist and their subject their expectations about the motivations of journalists and the influence of social media on their decisions and reception Pointing to the ways traditional news organizations both continue to hold on to and are losing their authority Becoming the News has important implications for how we think about the production and consumption of news at a time when Americans distrust the news media more than ever SPIN, 2008-09 From the concert stage to the dressing room from the recording studio to the digital realm SPIN surveys the modern musical landscape and the culture around it with authoritative reporting provocative interviews and a discerning critical ear With dynamic photography bold graphic design and informed irreverence the pages of SPIN pulsate with the energy of today s most innovative sounds Whether covering what s new or what s next SPIN is your monthly VIP pass to all that rocks Conspiracy Rising Martha F. Lee, 2011-06-13 This book offers a thoughtful analysis of how and why conspiracy thinking has become a popular mode of political discourse in the United States How did conspiracy thinking become such a significant and surprisingly widely accepted form of political thinking in the United States What compels people to respond to devastating unpredictable events terrorist acts wars natural disasters economic upheavals with the conviction that nothing is a coincidence nothing is as it seems and everything is connected Conspiracy Rising Conspiracy Thinking and American Public Life argues that while outlandish paranoid theories themselves may seem nonsensical the thread of conspiracy thinking throughout American history is a both a byproduct of our democratic form of government and a very real threat to it From the Illuminati the Knights Templar and the Freemasons to the government hiding aliens and faking the moon landing from the New World Order to the Obama Birthers the book explores the enduring popularity of a number of American conspiracy theories showing how the conspiracy hysteria that may provoke disdain and apathy in the general public can become a source of dangerous extremism
