- 1 Place your headphones over your ears.
- 2 On your computer, stop music from your music-playing application. Ensure the application contains the actual host window on your computer.

If your adapter and headphones are compatible (and are connected for streaming music), you will hear music on your headphones.

After successfully pairing and connecting your adapter and stereo headphones, you don't need to repeat these steps. For this use, ensure that your adapter is plugged into your computer and that your headphones are turned on.

To continue proper care, start off with walking operations with your dog(s) and stress management or breathing treatment.

- 1 Place your headphones over your ears.
- 2 On your computer, make a call from your cell phone extension.

If your adapter and headphones are successfully paired and connected to your system, you will hear ringing on your headphones as indicated.

After successfully pairing and connecting your adapter and headphones (if installed), you don't need to repeat these steps. The next time, ensure that your adapter is plugged into a computer and that your headphones (if installed) are turned On.

Your adapter stores pairing information for up to five Bluetooth devices. After pairing your adapter with your initial device (steps 1-4), you can subsequently pair five other devices with an additional Bluetooth device headpiece or headset. Connect as follows:

- 1 Place your headphones or headset device in pairing mode.
- 2 Press and hold the speaker's button. For three seconds until the indicator light begins flashing quickly. The speaker drops the current connection (if active), and begins searching for your Bluetooth device.

Next, a graph is created for the derivative. It should be drawn for up to 2 minutes. If no derivative is found, plot a constant derivative or take more readings before and after.
