Flat Aesthetics Christian Moraru, 2022-12-15 Flat Aesthetics seeks to secure a more granular and ontologically demotic handle on the contemporary in American literature While contemporaneity can be viewed as our period Christian Moraru approaches the contemporary as some thing made by things themselves The making of the contemporary is variously restaged by the body of fictional prose under scrutiny here

Thus this corpus itself participates in the making of contemporaneity In dialogue with object oriented ontology and various new materialisms Moraru contends that the contemporary does not preexist objects or the novels featuring them it is not their background but an outcome of things self presentation As objects beings or existents present themselves in the present in our now they foster thing configurations that together compose the form of and essentially make the contemporary the present s cultural material signature as Moraru calls it To decipher this signature Flat Aesthetics provides a cross sectional reading of postmillennial American fiction Discussed are solely post 2000 works by writers who have also established themselves over the past two decades or so from Nicole Krauss Michael Chabon and Ben Lerner to Colson Whitehead and Emily St John Mandel Their output Moraru claims bears witness to the onset of a flat aesthetics in American letters after September 11 2001 Organized into five parts the books canvases objectual constellations of contemporaneity shaped by material dynamics of language museality and display spatiality zombification and thing rhetoric and post anthropocentric kinship

The Good Life and the Greater Good in a Global Context Laura Savu Walker, 2015-11-19 The Good Life and the Greater Good in a Global Context offers a timely contribution to the debates about the good life that surround us every day in the media politics the humanities and social sciences The authors examine the relationship between the good life and the greater good as represented across different genres media cultures and disciplines This enables them to develop a framework of values that transcends the overly rational and individualistic model of the good life advanced by neoliberalism and the happiness industry Thus over and against normative conceptualizations of the good life that reduce meaning to money creativity to consumption and compassion to self help the contributors propose an ethically charged philosophy of living that views the care for the self for the other and for the planet as the catalysts of true human flourishing In addition to recovering the original usage of the good life from classical thought especially the Aristotelian understanding of eudaimonia as living well and doing well the essays gathered here highlight its entanglement with distinctly modern ideas of happiness wellbeing flourishing progress revolution democracy the American Dream utopia and sustainability As such the essays capture the breadth and depth of the conversation about the good life that is of central importance to how we relate to the past engage the present and envision the future
