The Guru Granth Sahib Pashaura Singh, 2003-09-26 This book examines three closely related questions in the process of canon formation in the Sikh tradition how the text of the Adi Granth came into being the meaning of gurbani and how the Adi Granth became the Guru Granth Sahib The censure of scholarly research on the Adi Granth was closely related to the complex political situation of Punjab and brought the whole issue of academic freedom into sharper focus This book addresses some of these issues from an academic perspective The Adi Granth the sacred scripture of the Sikhs means first religious book from the word adi which means first and granth which means religious book Sikhs normally refer to the Adi Granth as the Guru Granth Sahib to indicate a confession of faith in the scripture as Guru The contents of the Adi Granth are commonly known as bani utterance or gurbani the utterance of the Guru The transcendental origin or ontological status of the hymns of the Adi Granth is termed dhur ki bani utterance from the beginning This particular understanding of revelation is based upon the doctrine of the sabad or divine word defined by Guru Nanak and the succeeding Gurus This book also explores the revelation of the bani and its verbal expression devotional music in the Sikh tradition the role of the scripture in Sikh ceremonies and the hymns of Guru Nanak and Guru Arjan

The Unification of the Arts Steven Brown, 2021-11-25 What are the arts What functions do the arts serve in human life There has been a surge of cognitive biological and evolutionary interest in the arts in recent years most of it oriented towards individual artforms However there has been virtually no bridging work to integrate the arts under a single theoretical perspective This book presents the first integrated cognitive account of the arts that unites visual art theatre literature dance and music into a single framework with supporting discussions about creativity and aesthetics Its comparative approach identifies both what is unique to each artform and what they share shedding light on how the arts can combine with one another to form syntheses such as choreographing dance movements to music or setting lyrics to music to create a song While studies in the psychology of the arts tend to focus on perceptual processes and aesthetic responses alone this book offers a holistic sensorimotor account that examines the full gamut of processes from creation to perception This allows for a broad discussion of the evolution of the arts including the origins of rhythm the co evolution of music and language the evolution of drawing and cultural evolution of the arts Finally the book unifies a number of topics that have not previously been fully related to one another including theatre and literature music and language creativity and aesthetics dancing and acting and visual art and music A unique volume providing a bold new approach to the integration of the arts for academics or general readers of the arts psychology cognitive neuroscience anthropology and evolutionary studies CCFCS collection of musical instruments: Volume 2 Roy W. Gibbons, 1983-01-01 This volume constitutes a catalogue of one hundred and sixteen idiophones and membranophones from a wide range of cultures in the collections of the Canadian Centre for Folk Culture Studies Published in English
