Hate Speech and Human Rights in Eastern Europe Viera Pejchal, 2020-04-03 Hate Speech and Human Rights Democracies need to understand these terms to properly adapt their legal frameworks Regulation of hate speech exposes underlining and sometimes invisible societal values such as security and public order equality and non discrimination human dignity and other democratic vital interests The spread of hatred and hate speech has intensified in many corners of the world over the last decade and its regulation presents a conundrum for many democracies This book presents a three prong theory describing three different but complementary models of hate speech regulation which allows stakeholders to better address this phenomenon It examines international and national legal frameworks and related case law as well as pertinent scholarly literature review to highlight this development After a period of an absence of free speech during communism post communist democracies have sought to build a framework for the exercise of free speech while protecting public goods such as liberty equality and human dignity The three prong theory is applied to identify public goods and values underlining the regulation of hate speech in the Czech Republic and Slovakia two countries that share a political sociological and legal history as an example of the differing approaches to hate speech regulation in post communist societies due to divergent social values despite identical legal frameworks This book will be of great interest to scholars of human rights law lawyers judges government NGOs media and anyone who would like to understand values that underpin hate speech regulations which reflect values that society cherishes the most

Landscape Conflicts Karsten Berr, Lara Koegst, Olaf Kühne, 2024-07-03 Landscape conflicts for example in connection with in view of the energy transition climate policy transport policy nature conservation the extraction of mineral raw materials the design of urban landscapes or tourism are potentially associated with high economic social and political costs even before a possible escalation It is therefore undoubtedly useful to gain a better understanding of landscape related conflicts in terms of their causes their course their dynamics their inherent logic and possible regulatory procedures Frequently such conflicts manifest themselves in particular in different claims and aspired or arrogated interpretative sovereignties concerning what can or may be considered together as landscape here understood as a special case to space and these conflicts are not limited to the economic dimension but they also ignite in social political and cultural often also in aesthetic and moral questions The contributions to this anthology therefore focus on the question of how landscape conflicts can be seen as a productive social normality and be brought to a non violent and not necessarily consensual settlement

Jesus, Paul, and Power Rick F. Talbott, 2010-08-01 Jesus of Nazareth and Paul of Tarsus represent two of the most influential figures of history because of the expansion of later Christianity But Christianity's historical development includes a checkered and troubling past of abusive power that also impugns both Jesus and Paul European colonialism carried the gospel to the world claiming Jesus and Paul as architects of its oppressive empire building Modern churches in America quote Jesus and Paul to inspire inform and justify a host of cultural values that often include the subordination of women and marginalization of others who differ in beliefs values and lifestyles Talbott analyzes how Jesus and Paul responded to the systems of oppressive power in their day and how each in turn used power to form their respective communities The conclusions are based on the most recent scholarly approaches to Jesus and Paul and will enable modern readers to judge for themselves how Jesus and Paul envisioned the use of power among their communities

Approaching the World's Religions, Volume 2 Robert Boyd, 2017-06-20 Evangelical theology strives to be evangelical conservative and contemporary In a world in which everyone is Christian evangelical theology provides a balanced position between fundamentalism and liberalism While theological debates within the family will occur to be evangelical is a breath of fresh air for many However we do not live in such a world We do find ourselves living in a secular global society It is secular because no religious organization dictates how we live our lives It is global for at least two reasons First our technology brings us immediately in contact with those faraway places Second and of more importance we can simply step outside our front doors and encounter our neighborhoods that reflect a global pluralism This raises the question how shall we then live The intent of An Evangelical Theology of Religions is to suggest a direction for evangelicals to think about the secular global society in which they live in a way that is not only conservative but also evangelical and contemporary The final essay strives to address the evangelical aspect of our tradition that places an emphasis on the Great Commission and the law of love

Staying Human Harris Bor, 2021-11-17 Futurists speculate that we are heading towards a singularity where AI will outsmart human beings and humanity will coalesce into a single ever expanding mind for which data is everything The idea mirrors conceptions of God as everything singular and all knowing But is this idea of the singularity or God good for humanity Oneness has its attractions But what space does it leave for individuality and difference In this book British Jewish theologian Harris Bor explores these questions by applying approaches to oneness and difference found in the thought of philosophers Benedict Spinoza 1632 1677 and Martin Heidegger 1889 1976 to the challenges of religious belief and practice in the era of AI What emerges is a dynamic religion of the everyday capable of balancing all aspects of being while holding tight to a God who is both singular and wholly other and which urges us above all to stay human Cause, Knowledge and Responsibility António Manuel Martins, 2015 The present volume discusses aspects of Cause Knowledge and Responsibility from various theoretical points of view The contributions provide input to intense discussions on these contested topics The volume is based on results of the conference of the Institut International de Philosophie IIP in 9-13 September 2009 at the University of Coimbra Cyber Attacks and International Law on the Use of Force Samuli Haataja, 2018-12-07 Examining the thematic intersection of law technology and violence this book explores cyber attacks against states and current international law on the use of force The theory of information ethics is used to critique the law's conception of violence and to develop an informational approach as an alternative way to think about cyber attacks Cyber attacks against states constitute a new form of violence in the information age and international law on the use of force is limited in its capacity to regulate them This book draws on Luciano Floridi's theory of information ethics to critique the narrow conception of violence embodied in the law and to develop an alternative way to think about cyber attacks violence and the state The author uses three case studies the 2007 cyber attacks against Estonia the Stuxnet incident involving Iran that was discovered in 2010 and the cyber attacks used as part of the Russian interference in the 2016 US presidential election to demonstrate that an informational approach offers a means to reimagine the state as an entity and cyber attacks as a form of violence against it This interdisciplinary approach will appeal to an international audience of scholars in international law international relations security studies cyber security and anyone interested in the issues surrounding emerging technologies Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association American Philosophical Association, 2006 List of members in v 1 COVID-19 J. Michael Ryan, 2021-03-29 The SARS CoV 2 virus commonly referred to as COVID 19 is perhaps the greatest threat to life and lifestyles around the world in more than a century Although there is little global agreement on many issues related to the virus there is widespread agreement that the actual number of cases both of those infected and of those who have died as a result of infection is certainly much higher than official numbers suggest The impact of the virus however has spread well beyond the realm of the medical also heavily impacting social cultural economic political and quotidian ways of living for nearly every human being on the planet The two edited volumes in this set contribute to a broader understanding of the impact COVID 19 is having and will have on our understandings efforts and decisions of the future of global society The Oxford Handbook of Atheism Stephen Bullivant, Michael Ruse, 2013-11 This handbook is a pioneering edited volume exploring atheism understood in the broad sense of an absence of belief in the existence of a God or gods in its historical and contemporary expressions It probes the varied manifestations and implications of unbelief from an array of disciplinary perspectives and in a range of global contexts
