as those developed by China are shifting traditional arm's length methods to a quasi-formulary apportionment system. Providing a comprehensive understanding of all aspects of the formulary apportionment option, this state-of-the-art summary of history, current practice, proposals and prospects in the ongoing debate over arm's length versus formulary apportionment methodologies will be welcomed by practitioners, policy makers and academics concerned with international taxation, all of whom will gain an understanding of the case put forward by proponents for adoption of formulary apportionment in Europe and globally and the counter arguments they face. Readers will acquire a better understanding of the implications of formulary apportionment and its central role in the current debate about the future of international taxation rules, providing all the intellectual ammunition needed to carefully re-examine one of the ideas traditionally considered as apocryphal by the OECD and to a significant portion of the tax professional community. Readers of this book will come away not only with a renewed understanding of the multiple facets of formulary apportionment but also of some of the fundamental pressure points in the international tax system. Accordingly, it is a welcome and timely addition to the literature. Dr Stjepan Gad, Assistant Professor at University of Rijeka Faculty of Law, British Tax Review 2021 Issue 2 p243-246. Western Multinational Corporations in Latin America Moritz Kappler, 2022-05-20. This book advances the debate on socio-economic development and multinational corporations (MNCs). It provides an actor-centered perspective and develops the framework called Conflating Capitalisms that allows for a better understanding of both MNC-induced institutional change in the host country and the subsequent impact on local development. The book uses the empirical case of Western MNCs in Latin America. It applies a sequential mixed method design including a large-scale elite survey on corporate behavior and in-depth semi-structured interviews with local decision makers on the institutionalization of German dual vocational training (DVT) in Brazil. The book presents strong evidence for both behavioral contradiction in the host country with MNCs showing alien to the system behavior and subsequent actor-induced institutional change with varied developmental impact. Additionally, the book offers novel insights into MNCs' handling of missing complementary institutions and the institutionalization process of coordinated practices in Latin America. This book appeals to scholars, students and practitioners who are interested in advancing the field of development and MNCs. Strategic Management and International Business Policies for Maintaining Competitive Advantage De Moraes, Ailson J., 2023-07-17.
