Johnston, Jamie Sexton, Elodie A. Roy, 2025-01-09 This cross disciplinary collection provides the first comprehensive study of library music practices in the 1960s and 1970s Library music was inexpensive off the shelf music available to license for a small fee It was widely used in television and film as a cheaper alternative to commissioned soundtracks The book pays attention to the different individuals groups organisations and institutions involved in making library music as well as to its transnational sites of production from continental recording studios to regional cutting rooms It addresses questions of distributed creativity collective authorship and agency Combining empirical and theoretical research the book unveils the modus operandi of a highly secretive yet enduringly significant cultural industry By drawing attention to the cultural ubiquity and intersectionality of library music the collection also shifts emphasis from individual film and TV composers to the invisible community of music publishers writers and session musicians It argues that the latter were collectively responsible for fashioning much of the sonic identity of 1960s and 1970s film and television As well as providing a nuanced understanding of historical library music cultures the collection shows how they continue to inform contemporary audiovisual cultures

My Life on Earth and Elsewhere R. Murray Schafer, 2014-05-14 Music is central to many of R Murray Schafer's memories One of the sounds that I'd almost forgotten until I began to write this chronicle was the tinkling of the piano keys when my mother used to wipe them with a wet cloth he writes In the early years the high and low keys would be passed over quite quickly while the middle notes got the heavy scrubbing The detail of this small nearly forgotten childhood memory is a poignant example of the way sounds can remain present in the imagination even when they are originated in the distant past Schafer recounts childhood summers spent in Manitoba lassoing gophers and being paid two cents a head for them and a music education marked by his cheerful but total resistance to the conventional instruction that was available His youthful travels in Germany France Austria Italy and Eastern Europe are recreated in a lively impressionist style with plenty of comic and melancholy stories gleaned from his diaries of the time including an account of a folk music convention in Communist Romania which he attended with imaginative but shaky credentials identifying him as a representative of the CBC The Globe and Mail the University of Toronto Press and even the Kiwanis Club The conference proving dull Schafer eluded the government minders and took an unauthorized trip to see a girl he had met on the train and despite knowing nothing of the language spent an idyllic few days with her at her parents' remote village while the police questioned every young man with a beard in the area of Bucharest in a fruitless search for the suspected spy On his return to Canada teaching assignments took him first to Newfoundland then to Vancouver where he created the World Soundscape Project In 1975 Schafer resigned from university teaching and for many years has devoted himself full time to writing and composing My Life on Earth and Elsewhere continues the story of his domestic and international musical adventures up to the present day
