Screw Your Perception Kareem A Rashed,2022-08-22 Basically Screw Your Perception is to remind us all that we are one How is our ego getting in the way and stopping us from listening and accepting others just as they are How can we learn to live in love and in relation with another How can we learn and understand one another What if we listened What if we allowed others to be themselves What if we let go What if we were willing to look ourself in the mirror What if we might just be each other s reflection What if we were here to learn to show empathy to love and to accept one another Can we accept others just as they are Can we accept them even when to us what they are saying thinking or doing seems so different from what we are saying thinking or doing The big question Can we deflate our ego and stop trying to change everyone else Maybe it is about changing ourselves Maybe it is all about connection rather than division

Dying and Death in 18th-21st Century Europe Corina Rotar,Marius Rotar,2014-03-17 This book features the second selection of the most representative papers presented at the international conference Dying and Death in 18th 21st Century Europe ABDD a traditional scientific event organized every year in Alba Iulia Romania The book invites the reader on a fascinating journey across the last three centuries of Europe using the concept of death as a guide The past and present realities of the complex phenomena of death and dying in Romania the United Kingdom Lithuania Serbia Macedonia Poland USA Germany Sweden Finland and Italy are dealt with by authors from varying backgrounds including historians sociologists psychologists priests humanists anthropologists and doctors This is proof that death as a topic cannot be confined to one science the deciphering of its meanings and of the shifts it effects requires a joint interdisciplinary effort Engendered Death Joseph W.

Laythe,2011-12-16 Engendered Death Pennsylvania Women Who Kill is an historical and interdisciplinary study of women who kill in Pennsylvania from the 18th century to the present It is not an examination of what motivates women to kill although the reader may deduce that from the case studies included Instead it is an examination of how society perceives women who kill and how the gender lens is applied to them throughout the legal process in the media and in the courtroom What makes this work particularly unique is its combination of both scholarly analysis and narrative case studies As such it will appeal to both the scholar and the reader of true crime non fiction If we are to recognize the complex variables at play in all criminal offenses we will need to understand that the laws of a community its social values its politics economics and even geography play a factor in what laws are enforced and against whom they are enforced The decision to define and label certain behaviors and certain people was based on social political and economic considerations of each community Thus the commission of murder by a woman in Arizona may have a variety of factors associated with it that are not present in the case of a woman who murdered her husband in Maine This study in part because of the volume of cases and in part to limit the variables affecting the cases has limited its scope of women killers to the state of Pennsylvania Pennsylvania is the ideal state to study because of its long and stable legal and political traditions its historically diverse population and the large number of newspapers that will help us gauge the public s view of women and women who kill By limiting our scope to one state we know that the legal definitions are fairly consistent for all of the women during a certain period and we can more easily identify the shifts in social values regarding women and homicide Death Squad Jeffrey A. Sluka,2010-08-03

There is real personal danger for anthropologists who dare to speak and write against terror by doing so they potentially and sometimes actually bring the terror down on themselves Jeffrey A Sluka from the Introduction Death Squad is the first work to focus specifically on the anthropology of state terror It brings together an international group of anthropologists who have done extensive research in areas marked by extreme forms of state violence and who have studied state terror from the perspective of victims and survivors The book presents eight case studies from seven countries Spain India Punjab and Kashmir Argentina Guatemala Northern Ireland Indonesia and the Philippines to demonstrate the cultural complexities and ambiguities of terror when viewed at the local level and from the participants point of view Contributors deal with such topics as the role of Loyalist death squads in the culture of terror in Northern Ireland the three tier mechanism of state terror in Indonesia the complex role of religion in violence by both the state and insurgents in Punjab and Kashmir and the ways in which disappearances are used to destabilize and demoralize opponents of the state in Argentina Guatemala and India
