Monumenta Graeca et Romana: Museum archetypes and collecting in the ancient world H. F. Mussche, 1963
Classical Art Caroline Vout, 2018-05-29 How did the statues of ancient Greece wind up dictating art history in the West How did the material culture of the Greeks and Romans come to be seen as classical and as art What does classical art mean across time and place In this ambitious richly illustrated book art historian and classicist Caroline Vout provides an original history of how classical art has been continuously redefined over the millennia as it has found itself in new contexts and cultures All of this raises the question of classical art's future What we call classical art did not simply appear in ancient Rome or in the Renaissance or in the eighteenth century Academy Endlessly repackaged and revered or rebuked Greek and Roman artifacts have gathered an amazing array of values both positive and negative in each new historical period even as these objects themselves have reshaped their surroundings Vout shows how this process began in antiquity as Greeks of the Hellenistic period transformed the art of fifth century Greece and continued through the Roman empire Constantinople European court societies the neoclassical English country house and the nineteenth century up to the modern museum A unique exploration of how each period of Western culture has transformed Greek and Roman antiquities and in turn been transformed by them this book revolutionizes our understanding of what classical art has meant and continues to mean

Antiquities Maxwell Lincoln Anderson, 2017 The destruction of ancient monuments by the Taliban and the Islamic State have shocked observers worldwide Art historian Maxwell Anderson's Antiquities What Everyone Needs to Know R analyzes continuing threats to our heritage as well as a balanced account of treaties and laws collections past and present forgeries and other controversial issues Antiquities explores the legal practical and moral choices we face when confronting antiquities in a museum gallery shop window or for sale on the Internet New Approaches to Ancient Material Culture in the Greek & Roman World Catherine Cooper,2020-11-16 New Approaches to Ancient Material Culture in the Greek Roman World is about Classical Archaeology at its broadest and is important reading to all Classicists As part of a recent movement to highlight the rich diversity of the subject it overcomes traditional disciplinary boundaries to show the variety of current approaches to the study of Classical Antiquity from the Late Bronze Age to the Late Antique period The multi disciplinary papers deal with archaeology and art history museum objects and fieldwork data ancient texts and material culture archaeological theory and historiography and technical and literary analysis The international contributors discuss a selection of methodologies currently used to study ancient material and illustrate their relevance through case studies which span the Greek and Roman world Old Names, New Peoples: Listing Ethnonyms in Late Antiquity Salvatore Liscardo,2023-10-30 No people is nameless and lists of words are as old as writing systems And yet both subjects can appear unpromising to historians This volume shows the contrary by examining the various meanings and functions of ethnonyms in Late Antiquity added to catalogues of provinces they reflect the political messages and the regulating power of the imperial bureaucracy included in schoolbooks they mirror educational practices and reveal the geographical and ethnic landscapes taught at school placed on a map they help make sense of the world in times of transition

Pergamon and the Hellenistic Kingdoms of the Ancient World Carlos A. Picón,Seán Hemingway,2016-04-18 The Hellenistic period the nearly three centuries between the death of Alexander the Great in 323 B C and the suicide of the Egyptian queen Kleopatra VII the famous Cleopatra in 30 B C is one of the most complex and exciting epochs of ancient Greek art The unprecedented geographic sweep of Alexander s conquests changed the face of the ancient world forever forging diverse cultural connections and exposing Greek artists to a host of new influences and artistic styles This beautifully illustrated volume examines the rich diversity of art forms that arose through the patronage of the royal courts of the Hellenistic kingdoms placing special emphasis on Pergamon capital of the Attalid dynasty which ruled over large parts of Asia Minor With its long history of German led excavations Pergamon provides a superb paradigm of a Hellenistic capital appointed with important civic institutions a great library theater gymnasium temples and healing center that we recognize today as central features of modern urban life The military triumphs of Alexander and his successors led to the expansion of Greek culture out from the traditional Greek heartland to the Indus River Valley in the east and as far west as the Strait of Gibraltar These newly established Hellenistic kingdoms concentrated wealth and power resulting in an unparalleled burst of creativity in all the arts from architecture and sculpture to seal engraving and glass production Pergamon and the Hellenistic Kingdoms of the Ancient World brings together the insights of a team of internationally renowned scholars who reveal how the art of Classical Greece was transformed during this period melding with predominantly Eastern cultural traditions to yield new standards and conventions in taste and style

Empire of Images Alyson Roy, 2024-04-01 Rome was an empire of images especially images that bolstered their imperial identity Visual and material items portraying battles myths captives trophies and triumphal parades were particularly important across the Roman empire But where did these images originate and what shaped them Empire of Images explores the development of the Roman visual language of power in the Republic in Iberian Peninsula the Gallic provinces and Greece and Macedonia centering the development of imperial imagery in overseas conquest Drawing on a range of material evidence this book argues that Roman imperial imagery developed through prolonged interaction with and adaptation by subjugated peoples Despite their starring role in Roman imagery the populations of Rome's provinces continuously reinterpreted and reimaged Roman images of power to navigate their membership in the new imperial community and in doing so contributed to the creation of a universal visual language that continues to shape how Rome is understood

Bronze Monsters and the Cultures of Wonder Nassos Papalexandrou, 2021-11-23 The eighth and seventh centuries BCE were a time of flourishing exchange between the Mediterranean and the Near East One of the period's key imports to the Hellenic and Italic worlds was the image of the griffin a mythical monster that usually possesses the body of a lion and the head of an eagle In particular bronze cauldrons bore griffin protomes figurative attachments showing the neck and head of the beast Crafted in fine detail the protomes were made to appear full of vigor transfixing viewers Bronze Monsters and the Cultures of Wonder takes griffin cauldrons as case studies in the shifting material and visual universes of preclassical antiquity arguing that they were perceived as lifelike monsters that introduced the illusion of verisimilitude to Mediterranean arts The objects were placed in the tombs of the wealthy Italy Cyprus and in sanctuaries Greece creating fantastical environments akin to later cabinets of curiosities Yet griffin cauldrons were accessible only to elites ensuring that the new experience of visuality they fostered was itself a symbol of status Focusing on the sensory encounter of this new visuality Nassos Papalexandrou shows how spaces made wondrous fostered novel subjectivities and social distinctions

A Cultural History of Color in Antiquity David Wharton, 2022-08-31 A Cultural History of Color in Antiquity covers the period 3000 BCE to 500 CE Although the smooth white marbles of Classical sculpture and architecture lull us into thinking that the color world of the ancient Greeks and Romans was restrained and monochromatic nothing could be further from the truth Classical archaeologists are rapidly uncovering and restoring the vivid polychrome nature of the ancient built environment At the same time new understandings of ancient color cognition and language have unlocked insights into the ways often unfamiliar and strange to us that ancient peoples thought and spoke about color Color shapes an individual's experience of the world and also how society gives particular spaces objects and moments meaning The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Color examines how color has been created traded used and interpreted over the last 5000 years The themes covered in each volume are color philosophy and science color technology and trade power and identity religion and ritual body and clothing language and psychology literature and the performing arts art architecture and interiors and artefacts David Wharton is Associate Professor of Classical Studies at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro USA Volume 1 in the Cultural History of Color set General Editors Carole P Biggam and Kirsten Wolf Reading Greek and Hellenistic-Roman Spolia, 2023-11-13 Plundering and taking home precious objects from a defeated enemy was a widespread activity in the Greek and Hellenistic Roman world In this volume literary critics historians and archaeologists join forces in investigating this phenomenon in terms of appropriation and cultural change In depth interpretations of famous ancient spoliations like that of the Greeks after Plataea or the Romans after the capture of Jerusalem reveal a fascinating paradox while the material record shows an eager incorporation of new objects the texts display abhorrence of the negative effects they were thought to bring along As this volume demonstrates both reactions testify to the crucial innovative impact objects from abroad may have Touch and the Ancient Senses Alex Purves, 2017-11-17 Unlike the other senses touch ranges beyond a single sense organ encompassing not only the skin but also the interior of the body It mediates almost every aspect of interpersonal relations in antiquity from the everyday to the erotic just as it also provides a primary point of contact between the individual and the outside world The essays in this volume explore the ways in which touch plays a defining role in science art philosophy and medicine and shapes our understanding of topics ranging from aesthetics and poetics to various religious and ritual practices Whether we locate the sense of touch on the surface of the skin within the body or less tangibly still within the emotions the sensory impact of touching raises a broad range of interpretive and phenomenological questions This is the first volume of its kind to explore the sense of touch in antiquity bringing a variety of disciplinary approaches to bear on the sense that is usually disregarded as the most base and obvious of the five In these pages by contrast we find in touch a complex and fascinating indicator of the body's relation to object environment and self The Origins of the Exhibition Space (1450-1750) Pamela Bianchi, 2025-10-01 Before the first purpose designed exhibition spaces and painting exhibitions emerged showing art was mainly related to the habit of dressing up spaces for political commemorations religious festivals and marketing strategies Palaces cloisters fairs squares and shops became temporary and privileged venues for art display where sociability was performed and the idea of exhibition developed What were those places and events What aesthetic cultural social and political discourses intersected with the early idea of exhibition space How did displaying art shape a new vocabulary within these events and conversely how have these occasions conditioned exhibiting practices This book traces the origins of the exhibition space by studying its visual and written imagery in the early modern period It reconsiders events and habits that contributed to shaping the imagery of the exhibition space and to defining exhibition making practices exploring micro histories and long term changes      Flavian Responses to Nero's Rome Mark Heerink, Esther Meijer, 2025-10-01 In this interdisciplinary volume a team of classicists historians and archaeologists examines how the memory of the infamous emperor Nero was negotiated in different contexts and by different people during the ensuing Flavian age of imperial Rome The contributions show different Flavian responses to Nero s complicated legacy while some aspects of his memory were reinforced others were erased Emphasizing the constant and diverse nature of this negotiation this book proposes a nuanced interpretation of both the Flavian age itself and its relation to Nero s Rome By combining the study of these strategies with architectural approaches archaeology and memory studies this volume offers a multifaceted picture of Roman civilization at a crucial turning point and as such will have something to offer anyone interested in classics ancient history and archaeology

Golden Excess Eric R. Varner, 2025-02-19 Golden Excess Art and the Aesthetics of the Incredible in Neronian Rome is the first monograph to offer a full art historical synthesis of the rich archaeological and monumental evidence for Nero s remarkable principate An outsized and innovative artistic program emerges informed by aesthetics of excess the grotesque and learned luxury that rivals the cultural achievements of Rome s first emperor Augustus and stands in stark contrast to the universally negative and disparaging accounts of Nero in ancient authors Indeed Neronian Rome witnessed an astonishing efflorescence in the arts whose lasting effects still resonate      Domesticating Empire Caitlín Eilís Barrett, 2019-03-29

Domesticating Empire is the first contextually oriented monograph on Egyptian imagery in Roman households Caitlín Barrett draws on case studies from Flavian Pompeii to investigate the close association between representations of Egypt and a particular type of Roman household space the domestic garden Through paintings and mosaics portraying the Nile canals that turned the garden itself into a miniature Nilescape and statuary depicting Egyptian themes many gardens in Pompeii offered ancient visitors evocations of a Roman vision of Egypt Simultaneously faraway and familiar these imagined landscapes made the unfathomable breadth of empire compatible with the familiarity of home In contrast to older interpretations that connect Roman Aegyptiaca to the worship of Egyptian gods or the problematic concept of Egyptomania a contextual analysis of these garden assemblages suggests new possibilities for meaning In Pompeian houses Egyptian and Egyptian looking objects and images interacted with their settings to construct complex entanglements of foreign and familiar self and other Representations of Egyptian landscapes in domestic gardens enabled individuals to present themselves as sophisticated citizens of empire Yet at the same time household material culture also exerted an agency of its own domesticizing familiarizing and Romanizing once foreign images and objects That which was once imagined as alien and potentially dangerous was now part of the domus itself increasingly incorporated into cultural constructions of what it meant to be Roman Featuring brilliant illustrations in both color and black and white Domesticating Empire reveals the importance of material culture in transforming household space into a microcosm of empire      The Museums and Collections of Higher Education Andrew Simpson, 2022-12-23 The Museums and Collections of Higher Education provides an analysis of the historic connections between materiality and higher education developed through diverse examples of global practice Outlining the different value propositions that museums and collections bring to higher education the historic link between objects evidence and academic knowledge is examined with reference to the origin point of both types of organisation Museums and collections bring institutional reflection cross disciplinary bridges digital extension options and participatory potential Given the two primary sources of text and object a singular source type predisposes a knowledge system to epistemic stasis whereas mixed sources develop the potential for epistemic disruption and possible change Museums and collections therefore are essential in the academies of higher learning With the many challenges confronting humanity it is argued that connecting intellect with social action for societal change through university museums should be a contemporary manifestation of the social contract of universities Much has been written about museums and universities but there is little about university museums and collections This book will interest museum scholars and practitioners especially those unaware that university museums are at the forefront of museological creativity It will also be of interest to academics and the growing number of leaders and managers in the modern university

Pliny the Elder and the Matter of Memory Anna Anguissola, 2021-07-28 The Roman official and intellectual Pliny the Elder's Natural History constitutes our primary source on the figural arts in Classical antiquity Since the Middle Ages Pliny's encyclopaedia has enraptured the imaginations of its readers with anecdotes and narratives about the lives and accomplishments of the great artists of the Greek past This book explores the ways in which materials and artistic processes are constructed in Natural History In doing so this work reflects current developments in the study of Graeco Roman art where the scientific analysis of sculptural stones pigments and metal alloys as well as a more detailed understanding of technologies and workshop practices has imposed radical changes in the methods and theoretical models used to approach ancient artefacts The argument considers the role of materials in discourses on Nature as well as their semantics and the language used to account for artistic creation Discussion of artistic techniques addresses the discovery of resources and technologies and the discursive implications of creation and viewing By focusing on particular passages and exemplary case studies this book explores the ideological moral and intellectual preoccupations that guide Pliny's construction of materialities and human ingenuity in a period characterised by a rapidly evolving economic landscape The material and performative aspects of artistic manual creation provided this early encyclopaedist with the fundamentals for constructing and explaining his view of Rome's imperial mission and more specifically of his own strategies as a collector and recorder of all the memorable facts of Nature This book will be of significant interest to scholars of classical archaeology Greek and Latin literature social and economic history and reception studies
