Museum Studies is an indispensable resource for the study of the development roles and significance of museums in contemporary society      Museum Making Suzanne Macleod, Laura Hourston Hanks, Jonathan Hale, 2012-03-15 Over recent decades many museums galleries and historic sites around the world have enjoyed an unprecedented level of large scale investment in their capital infrastructure in building refurbishments and new gallery displays This period has also seen the creation of countless new purpose built museums and galleries suggesting a fundamental re evaluation of the processes of designing and shaping of museums Museum Making Narratives Architectures Exhibitions examines this re making by exploring the inherently spatial character of narrative in the museum and its potential to connect on the deepest levels with human perception and imagination Through this uniting theme the chapters explore the power of narratives as structured experiences unfolding in space and time as well as the use of theatre film and other technologies of storytelling by contemporary museum makers to generate meaningful and it is argued here highly effective and affective museum spaces Contributions by an internationally diverse group of museum and heritage professionals exhibition designers architects and artists with academics from a range of disciplines including museum studies theatre studies architecture design and history cut across traditional boundaries including the historical and the contemporary and together explore the various roles and functions of narrative as a mechanism for the creation of engaging and meaningful interpretive environments      Australian Fashion Unstitched Bonnie English, Liliana Pomazan, 2010-04-06 Australian Fashion Unstitched provides a compelling survey of Australian fashion over the last sixty years      Museums in Arabia Karen Exell, Sarina Wakefield, 2016-05-12 Museum activity has in recent years undergone major and rapid development in the Arabian Peninsula with the regeneration of existing museums as well as the establishment of new ones Alongside such rapid expansion questions are inevitably raised as to the new challenges museums face in this region and whether the museum as a central focus of heritage preservation also runs the risk of overshadowing local forms of heritage performance and preservation With contributions from leading academics from a range of disciplines and heritage practitioners with first hand experience of working in the region this volume addresses the issues and challenges facing museums in Kuwait Saudi Arabia Qatar Yemen and the UAE It focuses on the themes of politics public engagement and the possibility of a new museum paradigm which might appropriately reflect the interests and culture of the region The interdisciplinary approaches analyse museum development from both an inside and outside perspective suggesting that museums do not follow a uniform trajectory across the region but are embedded within each states socio cultural context individual government agendas and political realities Including case study analysis which brings the more marginal nations into the debates as well as new empirical data and critical evaluation of the role of the museum in the Arabian Peninsula societies this book adds fresh perspectives to the study of Gulf heritage and museology It will appeal to regional and international practitioners and academics across the disciplines of museum studies cultural studies and anthropology as well as to anyone with an interest in the Gulf and Middle East      The Porous Museum

Gabriela Nicolescu, 2023-07-27 The Porous Museum examines questions of museum practice aesthetics and politics through a focused study of The National Museum of the Romanian Peasant in Bucharest The museum has functioned successively as a museum of art a communist museum the headquarters of the communist secret police and a museum of folk art Gabriela Nicolescu traces the museum's spectacular biography and follows the transformation of its practices and aesthetics through three very different political regimes in the 20th and early 21st century monarchist socialist and post socialist Nicolescu's fascinating study starts with a focus on a dumped and smashed statue of the revolutionary figureheads Marx Engels and Lenin in the museum's rear yard as an expression of the complicated journey of modern Romania She considers questions of recycling and rupture with some exhibits and practices carried over from one regime to another whilst others have been discarded in favour of the completely new Through this process the museum can be seen as a microcosm of the wider nation state and the ways in which the past is remembered or rejected The interdependency of politics ethics and aesthetics that Nicolescu terms porosity is an attribute of museums all over the world Applying original anthropological research to key ethnographic museums in Romania and elsewhere in Europe the book moves beyond regional and media stereotypes by arguing for the influence of local oral histories on national history

Curious Lessons in the Museum Claire

Robins, 2016-05-13 Amongst recent contemporary art and museological publications there have been relatively few which direct attention to the distinct contributions that twentieth and twenty first century artists have made to gallery and museum interpretation practices There are fewer still that recognise the pedagogic potential of interventionist artworks in galleries and museums This book fills that gap and demonstrates how artists have been making curious but none the less useful contributions to museum education and curation for some time Claire Robins investigates in depth the phenomenon of artists interventions in museums and examines their pedagogic implications She also brings to light and seeks to resolve many of the contradictions surrounding artists interventions where on the one hand contemporary artists have been accused of alienating audiences and on the other appear to have played a significant role in orchestrating positive developments to the way that learning is defined and configured in museums She examines the disruptive and parodic strategies that artists have employed and argues for that they can be understood as part of a move to re establish the museum as a discursive forum This valuable book will be essential reading for students and scholars of museum studies as well as art and cultural studies

Postcolonialism and Postsocialism in Fiction and Art Madina Tlostanova, 2017-02-08 This book tackles the intersections of postcolonial and postsocialist imaginaries and sensibilities focusing on the ways they are reflected in contemporary art fiction theater and cinema After the defeat of the Socialist modernity the postsocialist space and its people have found themselves in the void Many elements of the former Second world experience echo the postcolonial situations including subalternization epistemic racism mimicry unhomedness and transit the revival of ethnic nationalisms and neo imperial narratives neo Orientalist and mutant Eurocentric tendencies indirect forms of resistance and life asserting modes of re existence Yet there are also untranslatable differences between the postcolonial and the postsocialist human conditions The monograph focuses on the aesthetic principles and mechanisms of sublime the postsocialist postcolonial decolonization of museums the perception and representation of space and time through the tempolocalities of post dependence the anatomy of characters tricksters with shifting multiple identities the memory politics of the post traumatic conditions and ways of their overcoming

The ^AOxford Handbook of the History of Crime and Criminal Justice Paul Knepper,Anja Johansen,2016-04-15 The Oxford Handbook of the History of Crime and Criminal Justice provides a systematic and comprehensive examination of recent developments across criminology and criminal justice Chapters examine methodological and theoretical approaches to criminology on going debates and controversies and contemporary issues such as drug trafficking terrorism and the intersections of gender race and class in the context of crime and punishment The Dynamics of Heritage Laurence Gouriévidis, 2016-03-23 There has been much academic interest in the role of museums as places where understanding of the past is shaped and legitimised for a wide and increasingly diverse public This book focuses on the museum representations of the Highland Clearances a much neglected aspect of one of the most disputed and politically charged issues in modern Scottish history Drawing together a range of inter disciplinary themes and notions it considers the cultural legacy of the period brings to light the socially and historically conditioned meanings and values encapsulated in museum narratives of the Clearances and shows the significance of collective memory in the negotiations inherent in heritage work Examining both national and local museums in Scotland and concluding with comparisons with Australian museums of migration Dynamics of Heritage contributes to our understanding of the processes of heritage construction and its relationship to issues of memory and other modes of engagement with the past

Modernity and the Museum in the Arabian Peninsula Karen Exell, 2016-03-10 Modernity and the Museum in the Arabian Peninsula is dedicated to the recent and rapid high profile development of museums in the Arabian Peninsula focusing on the a number of the Arabian Peninsula states Bahrain Kuwait Oman Qatar and the UAE These Gulf states are dynamically involved in the establishment of museums to preserve and represent their distinct national culture and heritage as well as engaging in the regional and global art worlds through the construction of state of the art art museums Alongside such developments is a rich world of collection and displaying material culture in homes and private museums that is little known to the outside world Museum Studies literature has struggled to keep pace with such developments and Modernity and the Museum in the Arabian Peninsula is the first book to coherently present a contemporary overview of the ever evolving landscape of museums and related heritage projects in the Arabian Peninsula a critical evaluation of the nature of these museum projects within the political and cultural conditions in the Arabian Peninsula suggestions for productive ways forward for museum developments in the Arabian Peninsula Museums Studies students and museum professionals now have a book that fills an important gap in the picture of the museum worldwide Contextualising this study in the history and politics of the region from a scholar working within the region this in depth overview and critical analysis of museums in the Arabian Peninsula stands alone as an entry into this important topic The Imagery of Interior Spaces Michael J.

Kelly, Dominique Bauer, 2019 On the unstable boundaries between interior and exterior private and public and always in some way relating to a beyond the imagery of interior space in literature reveals itself as an often disruptive code of subjectivity and of modernity The wide variety of interior spaces elicited in literature from the odd room over the womb secluded parks and train compartments to the city as a world under a cloth reveal a common defining feature these interiors can all be analyzed as codes of a paradoxical both assertive and fragile subjectivity in its own unique time and history They function as subtexts that define subjectivity time and history as profoundly ambiguous realities on interchangeable existential socio political and epistemological levels This volume addresses the imagery of interior spaces in a number of iconic and also lesser known yet significant authors of European North American and Latin American literature of the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries Djuna Barnes Edmond de Goncourt William Faulkner Gabriel Garc a M rquez Benito P rez Gald s Elsa Morante Robert Musil Jules Romains Peter Waterhouse and mile Zola      Doing Museology Differently Duncan

Grewcock,2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice Doing Museology Differently charts a different course A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation      Artifacts and Allegiances

Peggy Levitt,2015-07-07 What can we learn about nationalism by looking at a country s cultural institutions How do the history and culture of particular cities help explain how museums represent diversity Artifacts and Allegiances takes us around the world to tell the compelling story of how museums today are making sense of immigration and globalization Based on firsthand conversations with museum directors curators and policymakers descriptions of current and future exhibitions and inside stories about the famous paintings and iconic objects that define collections across the globe this work provides a close up view of how different kinds of institutions balance nationalism and cosmopolitanism By comparing museums in Europe the United States Asia and the Middle East Peggy Levitt offers a fresh perspective on the role of the museum in shaping citizens Taken together these accounts tell the fascinating story of a sea change underway in the museum world at large      The Fate of Anatomical Collections Rina Knoeff,Robert Zwijnenberg,2016-03-09 Almost every medical faculty possesses anatomical and or pathological collections human and animal preparations wax and other models as well as drawings photographs documents and archives relating to them In many institutions these collections are well preserved but in others they are poorly maintained and rendered inaccessible to medical and other audiences This volume explores the changing status of anatomical collections from the early modern period to date It is argued that anatomical and pathological collections are medically relevant not only for future generations of medical faculty and future research but they are also important in the history of medicine the history of the institutions to which they belong and to the wider understanding of the cultural history of the body Moreover anatomical collections are crucial to new scholarly interdisciplinary studies that investigate the interaction between arts and sciences especially medicine and offer a venue for the study of interactions between anatomists scientists anatomical artists and other groups as well as the display and presentation of natural history and medical cabinets In considering the fate of anatomical collections and the importance of the keeper s decisions with respect to collections this volume will make an important methodological contribution to the study of collections and to discussions on how to preserve universities academic heritage
