Music To Move The Stars A Life With Stephen Hawking Hardcover:

Music to Move the Stars Jane Hawking, 1999 Jane Hawking divorced wife of Professor Stephen Hawking and mother of his three children has written a memoir which relates the story of a marriage begun in optimism despite facing the terrible odds of motor neurone disease and of its gradual decline which became inescapably apparent as Hawking's academic career and renown began to soar Jane Hawking writes of her marriage and remembers the vigorous young man with whom she fell in love prior to the onset of his debilitating motor neurone disease Moreover she tells of the difficulties of looking after a wheelchair bound husband and three small children all demanding attention 24 hours a day These experiences coupled with the author's evident inner strength can offer inspiration to others faced with a similar family situation The collapse of the high profile Hawking marriage provoked by Stephen's affair with a nurse is related in honest detail and Jane's recent re marriage to an old family friend offers the hope of happy ending to a life of struggle and alienation Quill & Quire ,2007

Choosing to Live, Choosing to Die Carolyn Lee, 2021-09-24 At 45 Bill Johnson faced with chronic illness and the loss of everything important to him decided to die seemingly in stark contradiction to how he'd lived his life Since his devastating accident at 13 he'd fought for decades against disability and prejudice to achieve a fulfilling and successful life As his wife Carolyn Lee witnessed his final conundrum and was persuaded to support him as he died by euthanasia This is the story of Bill's death and his life much of which the author discovered afterwards in seeking to understand his fearless final decision Somehow I must tell of that day It is after all the initiating event of his story It caused everything that followed the bad first which endured for a long time But also the good This event set up the defining paradox of his life To fight endlessly for a satisfying quality of life but once that quality was gone to face death with more than bravery to embrace it A moving and intensely reflective journey into a life a love and a death Margaret Simons Walkley Award winning journalist and author
