Musical Composition In The Twentieth Century:

Musical Composition in the Twentieth Century Arnold Whittall, 1999 This new book builds on Whittall's Music since the First World War It updates and reshapes the original text and places it in the wider context of twentieth century serious music before 1918 and after 1975 surveying the immense variety of technical developments in twentieth century music Sections of detailed analysis with particular emphasis on such major figures as Stravinsky Bartok Messiaen Tippett and Ligeti are framed by more concise sketches of a range of twentieth century composers from Fauré to Wolfgang Rihm Extensive musical examples are employed throughout

Techniques of Twentieth Century Composition Leon Dallin, 1974 The approach of Techniques of Twentieth Century Music is appropriate for composers exploring contemporary idioms for performers learning to cope with the innovations of modern music and for teachers developing their understanding and appreciation of the music of our time All three categories are served by this text It is designed to provide essential knowledge of the techniques and materials of twentieth century music and to bridge the gulf between traditional academic training and current practice

Exploring Twentieth-Century Music Arnold Whittall, 2003-02-27 In this wide ranging book Arnold Whittall considers a group of important composers of the twentieth century including Debussy Webern Schoenberg Stravinsky Bartók Janáček Britten Carter Birtwistle Andriessen and Adams He moves skilfully between the cultural and the technical the general and the particular to explore the various contexts and critical perspectives which illuminate certain works by these composers Considering the extent to which place and nationality contribute to the definition of musical character he investigates the relevance of such images as mirroring and symmetry the function of genre and the way types of identity may be suggested by such labels as classical modernist secular sacred radical traditional These categories are considered as flexible and interactive and they generate a wide ranging series of narratives delineating some of the most fundamental forces which affected composers and their works within the complex and challenging world of the twentieth century

Musical Composition Michiel W. Irik, Mike Irik, 1984 All American Music John Rockwell, 1983 Materials and Techniques of Twentieth-century Music Stefan M. Kostka, 1990 Textbook for a college level course of a few weeks to a full year Arranged by compositional technique rather than strict chronology Covers neither music history per se nor the detailed analysis of specific composers Includes examples mostly available on recordings and exercises Annotation copy Musical Aesthetics Edward A. Lippman, 1986 Musical aesthetics in this century like music itself is distinguished by its concern with specifically musical forms and principles with the interrelationships and transformation of motifs with the permutations of sets of tones with the characteristics of forms such as the fugue or sonata and with underlying or background structures that are not really audible themselves but that nevertheless are important determinants of the form and sense of the music Thus music and musical thought in this century have been significantly determined by a reaction against the predominating qualities and values of the 19th century musical hermeneutics symbolism and semiotics having replaced the traditional problem of emotional content This volume is the third of three which are designed to present the main trends of Western musical thought in the area of philosophy and aesthetics Each section of the work presenting the fundamental statements of a given aesthetic issue has its own brief introduction defining and interrelating the relevant ideas the various sections seek to clarify the underlying historical continuities of thought Each also concludes with its own bibliography
