Muslim Britain Tahir Abbas, 2013-04-04 This edited collection is a cogent exploration of how the events of September 11 and the subsequent war on terror have impacted on the lived experiences of British South Asian Muslims in a number of important spheres namely religious and ethnic identity citizenship Islamophobia gender and education radicalism media and political representation The contributors to this volume are specialists in the fields of sociology social geography anthropology theology and law Each of the chapters explores the positions of South Asian Muslims from different analytical perspectives based on various methodological approaches A number of the chapters carry primary empirical analysis therefore making this one of the most pertinent compilations in this field Other contributions are more discursive providing valuable polemics on the current positions of British South Asian Muslims

The Asian Gang Revisited Claire E. Alexander, 2024-01-11 In her groundbreaking ethnography The Asian Gang published in 2000 Claire Alexander explored the creation of Asian Muslim masculinities in South London Set against the backdrop of the moral panic over Asian gangs in the mid 1990s and based on 5 years of ethnographic fieldwork the book explored the idea of the gang friendships and the role of brothers in the formation performance and negotiation of ethnic religious and gendered identities The Asian Gang Revisited picks up the story of the Asian gang over the subsequent two decades examining the changing identities of the original participants as they transition into adulthood in the context of increased public and political concerns over Muslim masculinities spanning the War on Terror grooming gangs and increased Islamophobia Building on her ongoing relationships with the men over 25 years the book explores education employment friendship marriage and fatherhood and religious identity and examines both the changes and the continuities that have shaped this group It traces the lives of its participants from their teenage years through to their early mid 40s A unique longitudinal study of this small diverse but still close cohort of men the book offers an intimate rich and textured account of what it means to be a Muslim man in contemporary Britain

Women's Football in the UK Jayne Caudwell, 2013-10-18 This book examines the complex ways in which girls and women experience football cultures in Britain It extends current debate surrounding women and football namely how gender has functioned to shape women's experiences of playing the game by focusing on organisational administrative and coaching practices alongside the particular issues surrounding sexuality ethnicity and disability not only gender The book analyses football and gender to reveal the subtle forms of discrimination that persist It is important to highlight the many challenges and transformations made by girls and women but more importantly to consider the ways power continues to operate to devalue and undermine girls and women involved in the game The UK based authors make use of their recent research findings to offer critical debate on girls and women s current experiences of British football cultures Overall the book reveals the present day complexities of marginalisation and exclusion This book was published as a special issue of Sport and Society

Youth, Multiculturalism and Community Cohesion Paul Thomas,2011-03-08 This book discusses the meaning and practice of British community cohesion policies youth identities in racially tense areas and the British government s attempts to prevent violent extremism amongst young Muslims Sport, Leisure and Culture in the Postmodern City Stephen Wagg,2016-04-01 The widespread concept of the postmodern city is frequently linked to the decline of traditional manufacturing industries and a corresponding wane of white working class culture In place of these appear flexible working practices a diversified workforce and a greater emphasis on consumption leisure and tourism Illustrated by an interdisciplinary study of Leeds a typical postmodern city this volume examines how such cities have reinvented themselves commercially politically and spatially over the past two decades The work addresses issues like cultural policy city centre development sport leisure and identity and explores different urban processes in relation to changing configuration of class gender and ethnicity in the postmodern city Supporting and Educating Young Muslim Women Amanda Keddie,2017-05-25 This book draws on the stories of female educators and young Muslim women to explore issues of identity justice and education Situated against a backdrop of unprecedented Islamophobia and new articulations of White lash this book draws on case study research conducted over a ten year period and provides insight into the diverse worlds of young Muslim women from education and community contexts in Australia and England Keddie discusses the ways in which these young women find spaces of agency and empowerment within these contexts and how their passionate and committed educators support them in this endeavour Useful for researchers and educators who are concerned about Islamophobia and its devastating impacts on Muslim women and girls this book positions responsibility for changing the oppressions of Islamophobia and gendered Islamophobia with all of us Such change begins with education The stories in this book hope to contribute to the change process Muslims and Political Participation in Britain Timothy Peace,2015-05-01 This new volume showcases the latest research into Muslim political participation both in terms of electoral politics and civil society initiatives Muslims play a prominent role in British political life yet what do we actually know about the involvement of British Muslims beyond the existence of a handful of Muslim MPs What is unique about political participation in Muslim communities All the major parties actively seek to court a Muslim electorate but does such a phenomenon exist Despite the impact that Muslims have had on election campaigns and their roles in various political institutions research on this topic remains scant Indeed much of the existing work was couched within the broader areas of the participation of ethnic minorities or the impact of race on electoral politics The chapters in this volume address this lacuna by highlighting different aspects of Muslim participation in British politics They investigate voting patterns and election campaigns civil society and grassroots political movements the engagement of young people and the participation of Muslims in formal political institutions Written in an accessible style this book will be of interest to students and scholars of political participation and religious studies

Muslim Spaces of Hope Richard Phillips, 2013-07-04 Debates about contemporary Islam and Muslims in the West have taken some negative turns in the depressing atmosphere of the war on terror and its aftermath This book argues that we have been too preoccupied with problems not enough with solutions The increased mobilisation and scrutiny of Muslim identities has taken place in the context of a more general recasting of racial ideas and racism a shift from overtly racial to ostensibly ethnic and cultural including religious categories within discourses of social difference The targeting of Muslims has been associated with new forms of an older phenomenon imperialism New divisions between Muslims and others echo colonial binaries of black and white colonised and coloniser within practices of divide and rule This book speaks to others who have been marginalised and colonised and to wider debates about social difference oppression and liberation

Unfolding Islamophobic Racism in American Fiction Humaira Riaz, 2022-12-19 Unfolding Islamophobic Racism in American Fiction presents Islamophobia as a manifestation of racism in literary texts to understand American perspective of Islam and Muslims By deconstructing selected literary works of Lorraine Adams John Updike and Don DeLillo within Fredrickson's notion of racism as scavenger ideology Humaira Riaz argues that fiction incorporates racism cloaked in Islamophobia The author concludes that necessitating interfaith community interaction may help in decreasing religious conflicts Many of the Western and American assumptions about Islam are generated from ignorance This work proposes a thorough discursive understanding of Islam as a code of life

Young British Muslims Nahid Afrose Kabir, 2012-03-14 In Britain's highly politicised social climate in the aftermath of the 7/7 London bombings this book provides an in depth understanding of British Muslim identity Nahid Kabir has carried out over 200 in depth semi structured interviews with young Muslims in five British cities London Leicester Bradford Leeds and Cardiff By emphasising the importance of biculturalism Kabir conveys a realistic and hopeful vision for their successful integration into British society

In the Shadow of Islamophobia Özge Onay, 2025-02-25 This book explores the multifaceted experiences of British Turks particularly focusing on how they navigate and negotiate Islamophobia in contemporary British society It delves into the complexities of identity ethnicity and religion shedding light on the unique ways in which British Turks respond to and reshape the discourses surrounding Islamophobia By examining the intersection of Turkish secularism national identity and global socio political dynamics this book offers a nuanced understanding of how Islamophobia is both experienced and deflected within this community Through a combination of in depth interviews ethnographic insights and analysis of social discourses the book highlights how British Turks engage in practices of passing and identity negotiation It uncovers how these strategies are informed by broader themes such as Brexit cosmopolitanism and the legacy of Turkey's relationship with Europe. This study challenges monolithic interpretations of Islamophobia, presenting a more diverse and intricate portrayal of its impact on different Muslim communities. This book is an essential resource for scholars and students of Sociology, Criminology, Cultural Studies, and Religious Studies, as well as policymakers and practitioners working in multicultural and multi-ethnic contexts. It will be of particular interest to those studying the intersections of race, religion, and identity in the Middle East and Contemporary Europe.

Writing British Muslims Rehana Ahmed, 2024-06-04. The Rushdie affair, September 11, 2001, and 7/7 pushed British Muslims into the forefront of increasingly fraught debate about multiculturalism. Stereotyping images have proliferated, reducing a heterogeneous minority group to a series of media soundbites. This book examines contemporary literary representations of Muslims by British writers of South Asian Muslim descent, including Salman Rushdie, Hanif Kureishi, Monica Ali, and Nadeem Aslam, to explore the contribution they make to urgent questions about multicultural politics and the place of Muslims within Britain. By focusing on class and its intersection with faith, race, and gender in identity and community formation, it challenges the dichotomy of secular freedom versus religious oppression that constrains thinking about British Muslims and offers a more nuanced perspective on multicultural debates and controversies. Writing British Muslims will appeal to academics and postgraduate and final year undergraduate students in the fields of postcolonial studies, English studies, and cultural studies.

Framing Muslims Peter Morey, Amina Yaqin, 2011-09-05. Can Muslims ever fully be citizens of the West? Can the values of Islam ever be brought into accord with the individual freedoms central to the civic identity of Western nations? Not if you believe what you see on TV. Whether the bearded fanatic, the veiled oppressed female, or the shadowy terrorist plotting our destruction, crude stereotypes permeate public representations of Muslims in the United States and western Europe. But these Muslims are caricatures, distorted abstractions wrought in the most garish colors that serve to reduce the diversity and complexity of the Muslim world to a set of fixed objects suitable for sound bites and not much else. In Framing Muslims: Stereotyping and Representation after 9/11, Peter Morey and Amina Yaqin dissect the ways in which stereotypes depicting Muslims as an inherently problematic presence in the West are constructed, deployed, and circulated in the public imagination, producing an immense gulf between representation and a considerably more complex reality. Crucially, they show that these stereotypes are not solely the province of crude-minded demagogues and their tabloid megaphones but multiply as well from the lips of supposedly progressive elites, even those who presume to speak from within on Muslims' behalf. Based on nuanced analyses of cultural representations in both the United States and the UK, the authors draw our attention to a circulation of stereotypes about Muslims that sometimes globalizes local biases and at other times brings national differences into sharper relief.

Disorientation: Muslim Identity in Contemporary Anglophone Literature E. Santesso, 2013-09-12. Focusing on British novels about the Muslim immigrant experience published after 9/11, this book examines the promise as well as the limits of British Muslim identity as a viable form of self-representation and the challenges particularly for women of reconciling non Western religious identity with the secular policies of Western states

Muslims in the Bulgarian and the British Press Desislava Cheshmedzhieva-Stoycheva, 2024-09-28 This book compares the ways in which the national media in two different countries construct frame and develop the image of the religious other in this case Muslims in all their variety Although it introduces concepts such as race and racism otherness Orientalism and Islamophobia which may be familiar to the majority of readers in this manuscript they serve the purpose of a comparative analysis which has not been done on the subject to date The manuscript analyzes the thematic distribution of the articles as well as the definitions metaphors and stereotypes used thus presenting a complete and diverse image of Muslims along with the similarities and differences in the thinking patterns employed by Bulgarians and British on the subject and expressed in the respective mainstream media In this respect the manuscript fills a void in the scholarly literature on the ways the media discourses in two very different countries present the image of a religious group Here we can even talk about the existing divide between East and West and the changing perception of the religious Other fostered by the general digitalization and free flow of information As English is an international language it undeniably makes access to information easier however there are not many culture specific studies presenting the current state of a problem or the analyses on that particular topic the image of Muslims in that international medium Therefore the manuscript aims at introducing English speaking scholars students media people and generally everyone interested in the topic to the Bulgarian way of seeing depicting and talking about Muslims As stated above the manuscript draws parallels between the language used by the Bulgarian and the British media thus providing a similar starting point as the majority of the potential readers are probably more familiar with the latter In addition scholars working extensively with other local cultures and or media and resorting to English as a medium for the popularization of their research can use the presented analytical frame to their specific analyses and contribute even further to the enrichment of the global data base on the topic

Identity and Political Participation Among Young British Muslims A. Mustafa, 2015-01-30 This book tackles unanswered questions on British Muslims and political participation What makes religion a salient political identity for young Muslims over any other identity How do young British Muslims identify themselves and how does it relate to their political engagement A fascinating insight into the lives of young British Muslims

Muslim Communities in England 1962-90 Jed Fazakarley, 2017-07-10 This book analyses Muslim integration into English society from the 1960s to the 1990s The author argues that contrary to common narratives built around a sudden transformation during the Rushdie affair religious identity was of great importance to English Muslims throughout this period The study also considers what the experiences of Muslim communities tell us about British multiculturalism With chapters which consider English Muslim experiences in education employment and social services British multiculturalism is shown to be a capacious artifice variegated across and within localities and resistant to periodization It is understood as positing separate ethnic communities and serving these communities with special provisions aimed ultimately at integration It is argued moreover to have developed its own momentum limiting the efficacy of 21st century backlashes against it Muslim Communities in England 1962-90 will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including sociology history and politics Britain's rural Muslims Sarah Hackett, 2020-06-06 Immigration has long been associated with the urban landscape from accounts of inner city racial tension and discrimination during the 1960s and 1970s and studies of minority communities of the 1980s and 1990s to the increased focus on cities amongst contemporary scholars of migration and diaspora Though cities have long provided the geographical frameworks within which a significant share of post war migration has taken place Sarah Hackett argues that there has long existed a rural dimension to Muslim integration in Britain This book offers the first comprehensive study of Muslim migrant integration in rural Britain across the post 1960s period examining the previously unexplored relationship between Muslim integration and rurality by using the county of Wiltshire in the South West of England as a case study Drawing upon a range of archival material and oral histories it challenges the long held assumption that local authorities in more rural areas have been inactive and even disinterested in devising and implementing migration integration and diversity policies and sheds light on smaller and more dispersed Muslim communities that have traditionally been written out of Britain's immigration history Culture, Diaspora, and Modernity in Muslim Writing Rehana Ahmed, Peter Morey, Amina Yaqin, 2012-08-21 Fiction by writers of Muslim background forms one of the most diverse vibrant and high profile corpora of work being produced today from the trail blazing writing of Salman Rushdie and Hanif Kureishi which challenged political and racial orthodoxies in the 1980s to that of a new generation including Mohsin Hamid Nadeem Aslam and Kamila Shamsie This collection reflects the variety of those fictions Experts in English South Asian and postcolonial literatures address the nature of Muslim identity its response to political realignments since the 1980s its tensions between religious and secular models of citizenship and its manifestation of these tensions as conflict between generations In considering the perceptions of Muslims contributors also explore the roles of immigration class gender and national identity as well as the impact of 9/11 This volume includes essays on contemporary fiction by writers of Muslim origin and non Muslims writing about Muslims It aims to push beyond the habitual populist framing of Muslims as strangers or interlopers whose ways and beliefs are at odds with those of modernity exposing the hide bound conservative assumptions that underpin such perspectives While returning to themes that are of particular significance to diasporic Muslim cultures such as secularism modernity multiculturalism and citizenship the essays reveal that Muslim writing grapples with the same big questions as serve to exercise all writers and intellectuals at the present time How does one reconcile the impulses of the individual with the requirements of community How can one belong in the modern world What is the role of art in making sense of chaotic contemporary experience
