Helen Thomas Rafia Zakaria Impulse to Act Othon Alexandrakis, 2016-10-03 What drives people to take to the streets in protest What is their connection to other activists and how does that change over time How do seemingly spontaneous activist movements emerge endure and evolve especially when they lack a leader and concrete agenda How does one analyze a changing political movement immersed in contingency Impulse to Act addresses these questions incisively examining a wide range of activist movements from the December 2008 protests in Greece to the recent chto delat in Russia Contributors in the first section of this volume highlight the affective dimensions of political movements charting the various ways in which participants coalesce around and belong to collectives of resistance The potent agency of movements is highlighted in the second section where scholars show how the emerging actions and critiques of protesters help disrupt authoritative political structures Responding to the demands of the field today the novel approaches to protest movements in Impulse to Act offer new ways to reengage with the traditional cornerstones of political anthropology Sharia Dynamics Timothy P. Daniels, 2017-01-12 This multidisciplinary volume explores the role of Islamic law within the dynamic processes of postcolonial transformation nation building and social reform Here eleven international scholars examine Islamic law in several contemporary sociopolitical contexts focusing specifically on Malaysia Indonesia Pakistan China Tunisia Nigeria the United States and the International Islamic Fiqh Academy IIFA of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation OIC The contributors also address the entanglement of Islamic law and ethics with the history of Muslim religious discourses shifts toward modernity gender relations and efforts to construct exclusive or plural national communities Sharia Dynamics at once enchanting and enlightening is a must read for scholars of contemporary Islam Divorcing Traditions Katherine Lemons, 2019-03-15 Divorcing Traditions is an ethnography of Islamic legal expertise and practices in India a secular state in which Muslims are a significant minority and where Islamic judgments are not legally binding Katherine Lemons argues that an analysis of divorce in accordance with Islamic strictures is critical to the understanding of Indian secularism Lemons analyzes four marital dispute adjudication forums run by Muslim jurists or lay Muslims to show that religious law does not muddle the categories of religion and law but generates them Drawing on ethnographic and archival research conducted in these four institutions NGO run women s arbitration centers mahila panchayats sharia courts dar ul qazas a Muslim jurist s authoritative legal opinions fatwas and the practice of what a Muslim legal expert mufti calls spiritual healing Divorcing Traditions shows how secularism is an ongoing project that seeks to establish and maintain an appropriate relationship between religion and politics A secular state is always secularizing And yet as Lemons demonstrates the state is not the only arbiter of the relationship between religion and law religious legal forums help to constitute the categories of private and public religious and secular upon which secularism relies In the end because Muslim legal expertise and practice are central to the Indian legal system and because Muslim divorce s contested legal status marks a crisis of the secular distinction between religion and law Muslim divorce argues Lemons is a key site for understanding Indian secularism Pious Labor

Improvisational Islam Nur Amali Ibrahim, 2018-10-15 In this landmark account Nur Amali Ibrahim paints a nuanced detailed portrait of students seeking to reconcile some of the major social forces that inflect everyday life across the Muslim world Islam liberalism radicalism and secularism as they strive to both find and define their place in a fast changing democratizing nation Ibrahim demonstrates the critical importance of scholarly attention in both anthropology and religious studies to this vibrant country the world's largest Muslim nation Daromir Rudnyckyj Associate Professor University of Victoria and author of the award winning Spiritual Economies Improvisational Islam is about novel and unexpected ways of being Muslim where religious dispositions are achieved through techniques that have little or no precedent in classical Islamic texts or concepts Nur Amali Ibrahim foregrounds two distinct autodidactic university student organizations each trying to envision alternative ways of being Muslim independent from established religious and political authorities One group draws from methods originating from the business world like accounting auditing and self help to promote a puritanical understanding of the religion and spearhead Indonesia's spiritual rebirth A second group reads Islamic scriptures alongside the western human sciences Both groups he argues show a great degree of improvisation and creativity in their interpretations of Islam These experimental forms of religious improvisations and practices have developed in a specific Indonesian political context that has evolved after the deposal of President Suharto's authoritarian New Order regime in 1998 At the same time Improvisational Islam suggests that the Indonesian case study brings into sharper relief processes that are happening in ordinary Muslim life everywhere To be a practitioner of their religion Muslims draw on and are inspired by not only their holy scriptures but also the non traditional ideas and practices that circulate in their society which importantly include those originating in the West In the contemporary political discourse where Muslims are often portrayed as uncompromising and adversarial to the West and where bans and walls are deemed necessary to keep them out this story about flexible and creative Muslims is an important one to tell

The Religious Right and the Talibanization of America Masood Ashraf Raja, 2016-05-06 This highly original book suggests that the practices of Taliban and the American far right two very significant and poorly understood groups share common features This commonality can be found in the philosophical basis of their ideological beliefs in their comparative worldviews and in their political practices As Raja argues the Taliban are much less the product of an irrational fundamentalism and the radical right in America is much more the result of such a mindset than Americans recognize After providing a detailed explanation of his theoretical concepts and specialized vocabulary the author develops a discussion of the subject in this brief but penetrating book This is a book that should attract a wide readership among both academics and the general public

Imagining the Public in Modern South Asia Brannon Ingram, J. Barton Scott, SherAli K Tareen, 2018-02-02 In South Asia as elsewhere the category of the public has come under increased scholarly and popular scrutiny in recent years To better understand this current conjuncture we need a fuller understanding of the specifically

South Asian history of the term To that end this book surveys the modern Indian public across multiple historical contexts and sites with contributions from leading scholars of South Asia in anthropology history literary studies and religious studies As a whole this volume highlights the complex genealogies of the public in the Indian subcontinent during the colonial and postcolonial eras showing in particular how British notions of the public intersected with South Asian forms of publicity Two principal methods or approaches the genealogical and the typological have characterised this scholarship This book suggests more in the mode of genealogy that the category of the public has been closely linked to the sub continental history of political liberalism Also discussed is how the studies collected in this volume challenge some of liberalism s key presuppositions about the public and its relationship to law and religion

Beyond Neoliberalism Marian Burchardt, Gal Kirn, 2017-02-20 This book explores how changes that occurred around 1989 shaped the study of the social sciences and scrutinizes the impact of the paradigm of neoliberalism in different disciplinary fields The contributors examine the ways in which capitalism has transmuted into a seemingly unquestionable triumphant framework that globally articulates economics with epistemology and social ontology The volume also investigates how new narratives of capitalism are being developed by social scientists in order to better understand capitalism s ramifications in various domains of knowledge At its heart Beyond Neoliberalism seeks to unpack and disaggregate neoliberalism and to take readers beyond the analytical limitations that a traditional framework of neoliberalism entails This book is a result of discussions at and support from the Irmgard Coninx Foundation

Studies in Religion and the Everyday Farhana Ibrahim, 2024 Studies in Religion and the Everyday is a collection of essays addressing the contours of religious beliefs and practices in the context of everyday life in India Events and processes in contemporary India especially post the 1990s have contributed to distinct modes of articulating religious practices This volume is an attempt to historicize and problematize the categorization of religion as a universally held and analytically distinct feature of human life and seeks to understand the conditions historical political discursive and processes of authorization under which a particular set of practices values and dispositions constitutes the religious at a specific point in time By bringing together studies that draw from diverse methodological and epistemological approaches the book will serve as a useful introduction to religion in India for the general reader and as an indispensable resource for students and researchers The volume presents fresh perspectives on existing fields of study such as the city capital minorities secularization and the state no longer seen as distinct from religion but actively co produced with religion in the context of the theoretical rubric of the everyday thereby marking a departure from approaching the question of religion solely through the lens of identity and conflict

Far from the Caliph's Gaze Nicholas H. A. Evans, 2020-05-15 How do you prove that you re Muslim This is not a question that most believers ever have to ask themselves and yet for members of India s Ahmadiyya Muslim Community it poses an existential challenge The Ahmadis are the minority of a minority people for whom simply being Muslim is a challenge They must constantly ask the question What evidence could ever be sufficient to prove that I belong to the faith In Far from the Caliph's Gaze Nicholas H A Evans explores how a need to respond to this question shapes the lives of Ahmadis in Qadian in northern India Qadian was the birthplace of the Ahmadiyya community's founder and it remains a location of huge spiritual importance for members of the community around the world Nonetheless it has been physically separated from the Ahmadis spiritual leader the caliph since partition and the believers who live there now and act as its guardians must confront daily the reality of this separation even while attempting to make their Muslimness verifiable By exploring the centrality of this separation to the ethics of everyday life in Qadian Far from the Caliph's Gaze presents a new model for the academic study of religious doubt one that is not premised on a concept of belief but instead captures the richness with which people might experience problematic relationships to truth

Intra-Muslim Polemics in South India Nandagopal R. Menon, 2024-03-14 How do we understand differences and disputes among various branches of Islam This book places intimacies rather than radical incompatibilities at the centre of its in depth ethnographic account of mass publicized theological polemics among Sunni Muslims in the south Indian state of Kerala What unites Muslims of different Sunni groups also divides them and incites polemics Islam as a shared system of knowledge and practices bonds of kinship and other social relations and the common condition of being a beleaguered religious minority in a Hindu majoritarian democracy Diverging from works that have focused on how Islamic practices like ritual prayers facilitate the fashioning of theologically grounded pious selves the book argues that intra Muslim polemics marginalize theology and have little to do with cultivating piety Instead polemics constitute inter and intra religious socialities enable Muslims to articulate their connections to India and other imaginaries and produce Islam as a public religion in a secular nation state
