Muslim Zion Pakistan As A Political Idea:

Muslim Zion Faisal Devji, 2013-09-30 Offers a detailed analysis of the various political and ideological forces that were at play in the buildup to Pakistan's creation. Los Angeles Review of Books. Pakistan is both the embodiment of national ambitions fulfilled and in the eyes of many observers a failed state. Muslim Zion cuts to the core of the geopolitical paradoxes entangling Pakistan to argue that India's rival has never been a nation state in the conventional sense. Pakistan is instead a distinct type of political geography whose closest ideological parallel is the state of Israel. A year before the 1948 establishment of Israel, Pakistan was founded on a philosophy that accords with Zionism in surprising ways. Faisal Devji understands Zion as a political form rather than a holy land, one that rejects hereditary linkages between ethnicity and soil in favor of membership based on an idea of belonging. Like Israel, Pakistan came into being through the migration of a minority population inhabiting a vast subcontinent who abandoned old lands in which they feared persecution to settle in a new homeland. Just as Israel is the world's sole Jewish state, Pakistan is the only country to be established in the name of Islam. Revealing how Pakistan's troubled present continues to be shaped by its past, Muslim Zion is a penetrating critique of what comes of founding a country on an unresolved desire both to join and reject the world of modern nation states. A trenchant analysis of Islamic politics. Publishers Weekly. Intellectual history as a page-turner. Noah Feldman, author of Cool War: The Future of Global Competition. Brilliantly written, deeply felt, an important contribution. Anatol Lieven, author of Pakistan: A Hard Country. A remarkable book. New Republic. Law and Muslim Political Thought in Late Colonial North India. Adeel Hussain, 2022. Muhammad Iqbal and Muhammad Ali Jinnah developed their crucial political ideas in the 1930s. They used India to test out how law could be used to settle political conflicts, how theological concepts could be politicized, and how to speak to an increasingly hostile All India National Congress. This book maps this development. Sufi Shrines and the Pakistani State. Umber Bin Ibad, 2018-12-21. After the creation of Pakistan in 1947, Sufi shrines became highly contested. Considered deviant and un-Islamic, they soon fell under government control as part of a state-led strategy to create an official, more unified Islamic identity. This book, the first to address the political history of Sufi shrines in Pakistan, explores the various ways in which the postcolonial state went about controlling their activities. Of key significance, Umber Bin Ibad shows that the West Pakistan Waqf Properties Ordinance, a governmental decree issued in 1959, formed when General Ayub Khan assumed the role of Chief Martial Law Administrator, allowed the state to take over shrines as waqf property. According to Islamic law, a waqf or charitable endowment had to be used for charitable or religious purposes, and the state created a separate Auqaf department to control the finances and activities of all the shrines, which were now under a state-sponsored waqf system. Focusing on the Punjab, famous for its large number of shrines, the book is based on extensive primary research, including newspapers, archival sources, interviews, court records, and the official reports of the Auqaf department. At a time when Sufi shrines are being increasingly targeted by Islamist extremists who view Sufism as heretical, this book sheds light on the

shrines contentious historical relationship with the state An original contribution to South Asian Studies the book will also be relevant to scholars of Colonial and Post Colonial History and Sufism Studies

Revisiting India's Partition Amritjit Singh, Nalini Iyer, Rahul K. Gairola, 2016-06-15 Revisiting India's Partition New Essays on Memory Culture and Politics brings together scholars from across the globe to provide diverse perspectives on the continuing impact of the 1947 division of India on the eve of independence from the British Empire The Partition caused a million deaths and displaced well over 10 million people The trauma of brutal violence and displacement still haunts the survivors as well as their children and grandchildren Nearly 70 years after this cataclysmic event Revisiting India's Partition explores the impact of the Long Partition a concept developed by Vazira Zamindar to underscore the ongoing effects of the 1947 Partition upon all South Asian nations In our collection we extend and expand Zamindar's notion of the Long Partition to examine the cultural political economic and psychological impact the Partition continues to have on communities throughout the South Asian diaspora The nineteen interdisciplinary essays in this book provide a multi vocal multi focal transnational commentary on the Partition in relation to motifs communities and regions in South Asia that have received scant attention in previous scholarship In their individual essays contributors offer new engagements on South Asia in relation to several topics including decolonization and post colony economic development and nation building cross border skirmishes and terrorism and nationalism This book is dedicated to covering areas beyond Punjab and Bengal and includes analyses of how Sindh and Kashmir Hyderabad and more broadly South India the Northeast and Burma call for special attention in coming to terms with memory culture and politics surrounding the Partition

Role Compatibility as Socialization Dorothée Vandamme, 2022-03-10 In Role Compatibility as Socialization Dorothée Vandamme examines Pakistan's socialization process in terms of role compatibility in the 2008-2018 period Adopting an Interpretative phenomenological analysis IPA method of analysis Vandamme builds on role theory to develop a theory of socialization as role compatibility to explain the dynamics of Pakistan's dysfunctioning position and its status seeking process as a fully functioning member of the international system Specifically she focuses on how Pakistani civilian and military leaders define their country's positioning towards India the United States and China In doing so she traces the link between domestic role contestation at the country's inception and the resulting domination of the military's conception of their country state identity how it projects itself externally and how it is received by others Departing from strictly structural or agent oriented explanations Vandamme expertly demonstrates Pakistan's perceived role compatibility with significant others and underlines the causality between state identity foreign policy behavior and socialization Role Compatibility as Socialization will be of interest to graduate students and researchers who work on and with role theory and socialization theory and for those with a research interest on South Asia

Citizenship, Community and Democracy in India Oliver Godsmark, 2018-01-29 On 1 May 1960 Bombay Province was bifurcated into the two new provinces of Gujarat and Maharashtra amidst scenes of great public fanfare and acclaim This decision marked the culmination of a lengthy campaign for the creation of Samyukta united Maharashtra in western India which had first been raised by some Marathi speakers during the interwar years and then persistently demanded by Marathi speaking politicians ever since the mid 1940s In the context of an impending independence some of its proponents had envisaged Maharashtra as an autonomous domain encompassing a community of Marathi speakers which would be constructed around exclusivist notions of belonging and majoritarian democratic frames As a result linguistic reorganisation was also quickly considered to be a threat posing questions for others about the extent to which they belonged to this imagined space This book delivers ground breaking perspectives upon nascent conceptions and workings of citizenship and democracy during the colonial postcolonial transition It examines how processes of democratisation and provincialisation during the interwar years contributed to demands and concerns and offers a broadened and imaginative outlook on India s partition Drawing upon a novel body of archival research the book ultimately suggests Pakistan might also be considered as just one paradigmatic example of a range of coterminous calls for regional autonomy and statehood informed by a majoritarian democratic logic that had an extensive contemporary circulation It will be of interest to academics in the fields of South Asian history in general and the Partition in particular as well as to those interested in British colonialism and postcolonial studies

Ordering Violence Paul Staniland, 2021-12-15 In Ordering Violence Paul Staniland advances a broad approach to armed politics bringing together governments insurgents militias and armed political parties in a shared framework to argue that governments perception of the ideological threats posed by armed groups drive their responses and interactions Staniland combines a unique new dataset of state group armed orders in India Pakistan Burma Myanmar and Sri Lanka with detailed case studies from the region to explore when and how this model of threat perception provides insight into patterns of repression collusion and mutual neglect across nearly seven decades Instead of straightforwardly responding to the material or organizational power of armed groups Staniland finds regimes assess how a group s politics align with their own ideological projects Explaining for example why governments often use extreme repression against weak groups even while working with or tolerating more powerful armed actors Ordering Violence provides a comprehensive overview of South Asia s complex armed politics embedded within an analytical framework that can also speak broadly beyond the subcontinent

Sharia and the State in Pakistan Farhat Haq, 2019-05-10 This book analyses the formulation interpretation and implementation of sharia in Pakistan and its relationship with the Pakistani state whilst addressing the complexity of sharia as a codified set of laws Drawing on insights from Islamic studies anthropology and legal studies to examine the interactions between ideas institutions and political actors that have enabled blasphemy laws to become the site of continuous controversy this book furthers the readers understanding of Pakistani politics and presents the transformation of sharia from a pluralistic religious precepts to a set of rigid laws Using new materials including government documents and Urdu language newspapers the author contextualises the larger political debate within Pakistan and utilises a comparative and historical framework to weave descriptions of various events with discussions on sharia and blasphemy A contribution to the growing body of literature which explores the role of state in shaping the religion and religious politics in Muslim majority countries this book will be of interest to academics working on South Asian Politics Political Islam Sharia Law and the relationship of Religion and the State

Theorizing a Bengali Nation Sucharita Sen, 2024-06-07 This book explores the philosophical and political roots of the United Bengal movement of 1947 that emerged as a final bid to keep the province united against Partition Through Abul Hashim one of its architects it explores the idea of an independent Bengali nation in the years preceding Independence and examines the underlying tensions of the concept of a Muslim led independent Bangladeshaan and its repercussions on a sizeable Hindu minority Focusing on Hashim's writings and political contributions this monograph highlights his vision of an aesthetic identity rooted within religious principles as well as civic ideals in a new united Bengal where common law underwritten through religious ideals did not need to be necessarily opposed to western discourses of a modern state A major new intervention this book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of modern Indian history especially the Partition politics and South Asian studies

Shadows at Noon Joya Chatterji, 2025-08-30 Shadows at Noon is an ambitious synthesis of decades of research and scholarship which explores the key strands of South Asian history in the twentieth century with clarity and authority Unlike other narrative histories of the subcontinent that concentrate exclusively on politics here food leisure and the household are given equal importance to discussions of nationhood the development of the state and patterns of migration While it tells the subcontinent's story from the British Raj to independence and partition and on to the forging of the modern nations of India Pakistan and Bangladesh the book's structure is thematic rather than chronological Each of the chapters illuminates an overarching theme or sphere that has shaped South Asia over the course of the century This format allows the reader to explore particular issues such as the changing character of nationalism or food consumption over time and in depth Shadows at Noon is a bold innovative and personal work that pushes back against standard narratives of inherent differences between India Pakistan and Bangladesh Its purpose is to make contemporary South Asia intelligible to readers who are fascinated by the subcontinent s cultural vibrancy and diversity but are often perplexed by its social and political make up And it illuminates the many aspects that its people have in common rather than what divides them Sunnis and Shi'a Laurence Louër,2020-02-04 A compelling history of the ancient schism that continues to divide the Islamic world When Muhammad died in 632 without a male heir Sunnis contended that the choice of a successor should fall to his closest companions but Shi'a believed that God had inspired the Prophet to appoint his cousin and son in law Ali as leader So began a schism that is nearly as old as Islam itself Laurence Louër tells the story of this ancient rivalry taking readers from the last days of Muhammad to the political and doctrinal clashes of Sunnis and Shi'a today In a sweeping historical narrative spanning the Islamic world Louër shows how the Sunni Shi'a divide was never just a dispute over succession at issue are questions about the very nature of Islamic political authority She challenges the widespread perception of Sunnis and Shi'a as bitter enemies who are perpetually at war with each other demonstrating how they have coexisted peacefully at various periods throughout the history of Islam Louër traces how sectarian tensions have been inflamed or calmed depending on the political contingencies of the moment whether to consolidate the rule of elites assert clerical control over the state or defy the powers that be Timely and provocative Sunnis and Shi'a provides needed perspective on the historical roots of today s conflicts and reveals how both branches of Islam have influenced and emulated each other in unexpected ways This compelling and accessible book also examines the diverse regional contexts of the Sunni Shi'a divide examining how it has shaped societies and politics in countries such as Iraq Pakistan Saudi Arabia Iran Yemen and Lebanon The Oxford Handbook of the Ends of Empire Martin Thomas,Andrew Thompson,2018-12-06 The Oxford Handbook of the Ends of Empire offers the most comprehensive treatment of the causes course and consequences of the ends of empire in the twentieth century The volume s contributors convey the global reach of decolonization with chapters analysing the empires of Western Europe Eastern Europe China and Japan The Handbook combines broad regional treatments of decolonization with chapter contributions constructed around particular themes or social issues It considers how the history of decolonization is being rethought as a result of the rise of the new imperial history and its emphasis on race gender and culture as well as the more recent growth of interest in histories of globalization transnational history and histories of migration and diaspora humanitarianism and development and human rights The Handbook in other words seeks to identify the processes and commonalities of experience that make decolonization a unique historical phenomenon with a lasting resonance In light of decades of historical and social scientific scholarship on modernization dependency neo colonialism failed state architectures and post colonial conflict the obvious question that begs itself is when did empires actually end In seeking to unravel this most basic dilemma the Handbook explores the relationship between the study of decolonization and the study of globalization It connects histories of the late colonial and post colonial worlds and considers the legacies of empire in European and formerly colonised societies

Prehistories of the War on Terror A. J. Yumi Lee, Karen R. Miller, 2024-09-24 Reveals fundamental continuities between the contemporary War on Terror and earlier U S imperial conflicts Prehistories of the War on Terror examines the longstanding American project of classifying enemies who challenge U S power abroad as terrorists To do so the volume brings disparate episodes of U S military empire building into dialogue across time and space From settler colonial wars in the nineteenth century American West to twentieth century wars of conquest in Asia and the Pacific the collection s essays argue that the United States has drawn both materially and ideologically on older systems of empire in the conflicts through which it has waged the present day War on Terror Attending to the local histories from which these conflicts emerged and examining the effects of U S intervention in these sites contributors analyze the cultural frameworks for understanding and remembering past conflicts that confirm challenge or refigure the logics of the War on Terror This volume reveals how contestations over sovereignty extraction and inequality must be suppressed and flattened in public discourse to maintain a coherent vision of a totalizing War on Terror Together the contributors illustrate that there was no single road that led to 9 11 or the War on Terror Rather they argue that we must follow multiple paths into the past to fully understand our present and to fight for a more just future Contributors Moustafa Bayoumi Joo Ok Kim Janne Lahti A J Yumi Lee Naveed Mansoori Karen R Miller Kalyan Nadiminti Tim Roberts Colleen Woods

Partitions Arie M. Dubnov, Laura Robson, 2019-01-29 Partition the physical division of territory along ethno religious lines into separate nation states is often presented as a successful political solution to ethnic conflict In the twentieth century at least three new political entities the Irish Free State the Dominions later Republics of India and Pakistan and the State of Israel emerged as results of partition This volume offers the first collective history of the concept of partition tracing its emergence in the aftermath of the First World War and locating its genealogy in the politics of twentieth century empire and decolonization Making use of the transnational framework of the British Empire which presided over the three major partitions of the twentieth century contributors draw out concrete connections among the cases of Ireland Pakistan and Israel the mutual influences shared personnel economic justifications and material interests that propelled the idea of partition forward and resulted in the violent creation of new post colonial political spaces In so doing the volume seeks to move beyond the nationalist frameworks that served in the first instance to promote partition as a natural phenomenon

Constitutional Foundings in South Asia Kevin YL Tan, Ridwanul Hoque, 2021-01-28 This volume addresses the idea of origins how things are formed and how they relate to their present and future in terms of constitution making which is a continuous process in South Asian states It examines the drafting nature core values and roles of the first modern constitutions during the founding of the eight modern nation states in South Asia The book looks at the constitutions of Afghanistan Bangladesh Bhutan India Maldives Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka It provides an explanatory description of the process and substantive inputs in the making of the first constitutions of these nations it sets out to analyse the internal and external including intra regional forces surrounding the making of these constitutions and it sets out theoretical constructions of models to conceptualise the nature and role of the first constitutions including constituent documents in the founding of the modern nation states and their subsequent impact on state building in the region Modern Challenges to Islamic Law Shaheen Sardar Ali,2016-10-06 This book offers unique insights into Islamic law considering its theoretical perspectives alongside its practical application in daily Muslim life

Democratic Transition and Security in Pakistan Shaun Gregory,2015-10-23 This volume examines the trajectory of Pakistan's democratic transition and the implications of this change for its security In May 2013 for the first time in its 66 year history Pakistan saw an elected government complete a full term in office and transfer power through the ballot box to another civilian government At this important moment in Pakistan's history this collection brings together twelve leading academics and writers with an aim to provide a far reaching analysis of the current situation in Pakistan and emergent trends Drawing on history diverse theoretical perspectives and empirical evidence three themed sections deal respectively with democratic transition including Islam and democracy civil military relations and economics contested borders and contested spaces the Pashtun belt Kashmir and intra Islamic conflict and regionalism bilateral relations from both Pakistani and Indian perspectives US Pakistan relations and nuclear weapons dynamics Together the contributors explore the status of Pakistan's democratic transition contemporary security dynamics and wider regional security and political dynamics and the complex interplay of the three to provide a wide ranging analysis of Pakistan's contemporary national and regional challenges its impact on the region and evidence of some positive trends for Pakistan's future The book will be of much interest to students of South Asian politics Asian security governance and IR in general as well as policy makers diplomats and military professionals Passionate politics Indrajit Roy,2023-01-31 Passions matter to politics Yet much of the work on passions in politics focuses on such spectacular events as social movements civil wars and revolutionary upheavals but ignores electoral politics as banal The contributors to this book trace the importance of passions to electoral politics with a focus on India's landmark 2019 General Elections which saw the decisive re election of Narendra Modi as the country's Prime Minister This book illustrates the economic social and cultural processes that shaped political passions in India during the summer of 2019 The contributors compel us to take seriously the structures of feeling in politics Such an approach requires interdisciplinarity Which is why the book brings together a stellar team of economists political scientists sociologists historians and geographers to explain Modi's resounding win

The breakup of India and Palestine Victor Kattan,Amit Ranjan,2023-08-15 This book is the first study of political and legal thinking about the partitions of India and Palestine in 1947 The chapters in the volume authored by leading scholars of partition draw attention to the pathways of peoples geographic spaces colonial policies laws and institutions that connect them from the vantage point of those most engaged by the process political actors party activists jurists diplomats philosophers and international representatives from the Middle East South Asia and beyond Additionally the volume investigates some of the underlying causes of partition in both places such as the hardening of religious fault lines majoritarian politics and the failure to construct viable forms of government in deeply divided societies
