Lunch Megan Elias, 2014-03-06

Lunch has never been just a meal the meal most often eaten in public lunch has a long tradition of establishing social status and cementing alliances From the ploughman's lunch in the field to the power lunch at the Four Seasons the particulars of lunch decisions where with whom and what we eat often mark our place in the world Lunch itself has galvanized political movements and been at the center of efforts to address poverty and malnutrition the American School Lunch Act of 1946 enforced the notion that lunch could represent the very health of the nation and sit ins and protests at lunch counters in the 1960s thrust this space into moral territory Issues of who cooks lunch who eats what and how and when we eat in public institutions continue to spur activists Exploring the rich history and culture of this most observed and versatile meal Lunch draws on a wide range of sources Letters and memoirs Fiction Cookbooks Institutional records Art and popular media Tea room menus Lunch truck Twitter feeds and more Elias considers the history of lunch not only in America but around the world to reveal the rich traditions and considerable changes this meal has influenced over the years

Cuisine and Empire Rachel Laudan, 2015-04-03 Rachel Laudan tells the remarkable story of the rise and fall of the world's great cuisines from the mastery of grain cooking some twenty thousand years ago to the present in this superbly researched book Probing beneath the apparent confusion of dozens of cuisines to reveal the underlying simplicity of the culinary family tree she shows how periodic seismic shifts in culinary philosophy beliefs about health the economy politics society and the gods prompted the construction of new cuisines a handful of which chosen as the cuisines of empires came to dominate the globe Cuisine and Empire shows how merchants missionaries and the military took cuisines over mountains oceans deserts and across political frontiers Laudan's innovative narrative treats cuisine like language clothing or architecture as something constructed by humans By emphasizing how cooking turns farm products into food and by taking the globe rather than the nation as the stage she challenges the agrarian romantic and nationalistic myths that underlie the contemporary food movement
