New Tech New Ties How Mobile Communication Is Reshaping Social Cohesion:

New Tech, New Ties Richard Ling, 2010-09-24 How cell phones and mobile communication may in many cases strengthen social cohesion The message of this book is simple the mobile phone strengthens social bonds among family and friends With a traditional land line telephone we place calls to a location and ask hopefully if someone is there with a mobile phone we have instant and perpetual access to friends and family regardless of where they are But when we are engaged in these intimate conversations with absent friends what happens to our relationship with the people who are actually in the same room with us In New Tech New Ties Rich Ling examines how the mobile telephone affects both kinds of interactions those mediated by mobile communication and those that are face to face Ling finds that through the use of various social rituals the mobile telephone strengthens social ties within the circle of friends and family sometimes at the expense of interaction with those who are physically present and creates what he calls bounded solidarity Ling argues that mobile communication helps to engender and develop social cohesion within the family and the peer group Drawing on the work of Emile Durkheim Erving Goffman and Randall Collins Ling shows that ritual interaction is a catalyst for the development of social bonding From this perspective he examines how mobile communication affects face to face ritual situations and how ritual is used in interaction mediated by mobile communication He looks at the evidence including interviews and observations from around the world that documents the effect of mobile communication on social bonding and also examines some of the other possibly problematic issues raised by tighter social cohesion in small groups

Mobile Communication Scott Campbell, Rich Ling, 2017-09-05 Mobile Communication covers a wide range of topics These include the replacement of co present interaction with mediated contact and analysis of mobile based cohesion and gender The authors also explore the role of media choice and its effect on the quality as well as quantity of social cohesion Other topics include mobile communication and communities of interest and mobile communication cohesion and youth This volume brings together scholars from around the world to consider how mobile communication both builds and destroys our sense of social cohesion There is no question that uses of technology can lead to increased cohesion within personal communities For example this volume includes research on caravan couples in Australia factory workers in China young couples in Germany citizens in Slovenia and sports clubs in Ireland It also includes research on drunken calls between university students in the US calls of international students in Switzerland and communications between immigrant women in Melbourne Australia However the contributors also argue that as social networks become inundated with mobile communication users these users may become increasingly isolated and social division can ensue

Cross-Modal Analysis of Speech, Gestures, Gaze and Facial Expressions Anna Esposito, Robert Vích, 2009-07-14 This volume brings together the peer reviewed contributions of the participants at the COST 2102 International Conference on Cross Modal Analysis of Speech Gestures Gaze and Facial Expressions held in Prague Czech Republic October 15 18 2008 The conference was sponsored by COST European Cooperation in the Field of Scientific and Technical Research www.cost.esf.org/domains_actions/ict in the main of Information and Communication Technologies ICT for disseminating the research advances developed within COST Action 2102 Cross Modal Analysis of Verbal and Nonverbal Communication <http://cost2102.cs.stir.ac.uk> COST 2102 research networking has contributed to modifying the conventional theoretical approach to the cross modal analysis of verbal and nonverbal communication changing the concept of face to face communication with that of body to body communication as well as developing the idea of embodied information Information is no longer the result of a difference in perception and is no longer measured in terms of quantity of stimuli since the research developed in COST 2102 has proved that human information processing is a nonlinear process that cannot be seen as the sum of the numerous pieces of information available Considering simply the pieces of information available results in a model of the receiver as a mere decoder and produces a huge simplification of the communication process Networks of Communication in South Africa R.

Sooryamoorthy, 2017-06-15 This book is an original study on the development of media technologies communications and social networks in South Africa It is for those researching the growth of communication technology and new media in Africa as well as those more widely involved in development studies and economics Mobile Assemblages and Maendeleo in Rural Kenya Jerop Komen, 2021-09-17 In this book Leah Komen explores the impact of mobile telephony on the lives of people in rural Kenya The book analyses the outcomes of complex intersections and interactions between mobile phones individuals and the broader society as distinct from the traditional cause effect relationships in the discourse of development in the changing world It subverts the traditional notion of synchronic development that ignores target populations involvement in decision making and sees development from the lens of developed economies where information and communication technologies like mobile telephones have originated Komen's analysis advances a diachronic type of development that focuses on human technology's interrelationships instead of the synchronic model that privileges technology as engendering social transformations and development The diachronic model is fundamentally Maendeleo a Swahili term denoting process participation progress and growth and views social transformations and development as an interaction between mobile telephony users and their specific contexts The book argues that the mobile phone has become an increasingly personalised device It encourages a sense of community through the sharing of the device by multiple users promotes co presence and interpersonal communication enhances kinship ties and social connectedness and creates new ways of organising and conducting everyday socioeconomic activities However it also can disintegrate relationships and remodel some This is a book about power negotiation gender relations cultural inclinations and socioeconomic dispositions within the context of mobile telephony's domestic use to facilitate social change and development Playful Identities Michiel Lange, Joost Raessens, Jos Mul, Sybille Lammes, Valerie Frissen, 2025-10-01 In this edited volume eighteen scholars examine the increasing role of digital media technologies in identity construction through play Going beyond computer games this interdisciplinary collection argues that present day play and games are not only appropriate metaphors for capturing postmodern human identities but are in fact the means by which people create their identity From discussions of World of Warcraft and Foursquare to digital cartographies the combined essays form a groundbreaking volume that features the most recent insights in play and game studies media research and identity studies

Mobility and Locative Media Adriana de Souza e Silva, Mimi Sheller, 2014-08-07 Mobilities has become an important framework to understand and analyze contemporary social spatial economic and political practices Especially as mobile media become seamlessly integrated into transportation networks navigating urban spaces and connecting with social networks while on the move researchers need new approaches and methods to bring together mobilities with mobile communication and locative media Mobile communication scholars have focused on cell phones often ignoring broader connections to urban spaces geography and locational media As a result they emphasized virtual mobility and personalized communication as a way of disconnecting from place location and publics The growing pervasiveness of location aware technology urges us to rethink the intersection among location mobile technologies and mobility Few studies have addressed the many transformations taking place in mobile sociality and in urban spatial processes through the appropriation of these technologies Chapter 12 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 3.0 license

Communications/Media/Geographies Paul C. Adams, Julie Cupples, Kevin Glynn, André Jansson, Shaun Moores, 2016-09-19 Although there are human geographers who have previously written on matters of media and communication and those in media and communication studies who have previously written on geographical issues this is the first book length dialogue in which experienced theorists and researchers from these different fields address each other directly and engage in conversation across traditional academic boundaries The result is a compelling discussion with the authors setting out statements of their positions before responding to the arguments made by others One significant aspect of this discussion is a spirited debate about the sort of interdisciplinary area that might emerge as a focus for future work Does the already established idea of communication geography offer the best way forward If so what would applied or critical forms of communication geography be concerned to do Could communication geography benefit from the sorts of conjunctural analysis that have been developed in contemporary cultural studies Might a further way forward be to imagine an interdisciplinary field of everyday life studies which would draw critically on non representational theories of practice and movement Readers of Communications Media Geographies are invited to join the debate thinking through such questions for themselves and the themes that are explored in this book for example of space place meaning power and ethics will be of interest not only to academics in human geography and in media and communication studies but also to a wider range of scholars from across the humanities and social sciences

Promoting Democracy Abroad Peter Burnell, 2017-09-08 Promoting democracy has grown from a small little known activity to a high profile endeavor It now involves academia think tanks and the popular media The number of countries and organizations inter governmental non governmental as well as governmental involved in supporting the spread of democracy is now legion Countries touched by these efforts include a majority of all the world's states and some independent territories that are not yet fully sovereign The definitional boundaries between promoting democracy and international advocacy and defense of human rights and good governance are not precise Similarly the concept of promoting democracy itself is not uniformly accepted It has become a slogan that attracts both fervent support and grave condemnation For Burnell promoting democracy refers to a wide range of non coercive attempts to spread democracy abroad for whatever reason At its heart it is political intervention in the domestic affairs of other countries that seeks to affect the distribution of power whether by patient and non violent involvement or more urgent action democracy assistance projects form a core activity Burnell holds that participation in the democracy assistance industry will continue to grow However the industry s progress up until now has in part been contingent on the progress of democratization itself The slowdown that is currently happening in the advance of freedom and democracy around the world and the strength shown by leading authoritarian or semi authoritarian regimes must raise questions about the outlook for democracy promotion If democracy promotion and assistance are to be fit for the future then the need for a broadly based appropriately contextualized examination of the policy and the performance is greater now than at any time in the past

Mobile Media Practices, Presence and Politics Kathleen M. Cumiskey, Larissa Hjorth, 2013-08-29 As an example of convergence the mobile phone especially in the form of smartphone is now ushering in new promises of seamlessness between engagement with technology and everyday common experiences This seamlessness is not only about how one transitions between the worlds of the device and the physical environment but it also captures the transition and convergences between devices as well i e laptop to smartphone smartphone to tablet This volume argues however that these transitions are far from seamless We see divisions between online and offline virtual and actual here and there taking on different cartographies emergent forms of seams It is these seams that this volume acknowledges challenges and explores socially culturally technologically and historically as we move to a deeper understanding of the role and impact of mobile communication s saturation throughout the world

Digital Materialities Sarah Pink, Elisenda Ardèvol, Dèbora Lanzeni, 2020-05-26 As the distinction between the digital and the material world becomes increasingly blurred the ways in which we think about design are also shifting and evolving How can the human digital and material be brought together to intervene in the world What constitutes our digital material environments How can we engage with digital technologies to make sustainable healthy and meaningful decisions both now and in the future Digital Materialities presents twelve chapters by scholars and practitioners working at the intersection between design and digital research in the UK Spain Australia and the USA By incorporating in depth understandings of the digital material world from both the social sciences and design the book considers how this combined knowledge might advance our capacity to design for the future Divided into three parts the focus of the book moves from the theoretical to the practical how different digital materialities are imagined and emerge through software emulation urban sensors and smart homes how new digital designs are sparked through collaborations between social scientists and designers and finally how digital design emerges from the insider work of everyday designers A fascinating ground breaking book for students and scholars of digital anthropology media and communication and anyone interested in the future of digital design

(Im)mobile Homes Earvin Charles B. Cabalquinto, 2022 The home has been on the forefront of rapid economic political social and technological transformations for many individuals and families across the world As a country reliant on the exportation of human labor to sustain its national economy the Philippines exemplifies a valuable case study of the impacts of a globalized and networked society on the everyday dynamics of a transnational family arrangement Despite ranking among the heaviest Internet users in the world Filipino citizens are often left with no choice but to navigate digital and transnational environments orchestrated by the uneven distribution of both national and international resources and opportunities Im mobile Homes investigates the role of smartphones social media channels and various mobile applications in forging and sustaining intimate ties among dispersed Filipino family members Examining the digital lifeworlds of transnational Filipino family in Australia this volume draws on rich ethnographic study to explore the benefits of digital communication as well as the tensions enabled by the influences of socio cultural structures socio economic conditions technological affordances and institutional policies and processes on mobile practices It portrays the physically distributed yet virtually connected nature of the transnational Filipino family through diverse contexts such as observing family rituals performing intimate care and managing crises and foregrounds their unique strategies in addressing the interruptions of connecting at a distance Ultimately this volume underscores how mobile practices of the transnational Filipino family negotiate the pre existing and broader structural systems that re produce marginalization in a digital and global era Enriched by moving stories of transnational families Im mobile Homes offers a critical lens towards interrogating the possibilities and politics of a home from afar in the digital era
