Patient-Subject Constructions in Mandarin Chinese Xiaoling He, 2019-06-15 As a distinctive syntactic structure in Mandarin Chinese the Patient Subject Construction PSC is one of the most interesting but least well understood structures in the language This book offers a comprehensive account of the history structure meaning and use of the PSC Unlike previous descriptions which were framed in terms of pre-existing grammatical notions such as topicalization passivization and ergativization this book offers a fresh look at the PSC in which its syntactic and semantic as well as its discourse functions are examined within the system of major construction types of the language as a whole The PSC being low in transitivity serves primarily the function of backgrounding in discourse Typologically the PSC bears a resemblance to middle constructions in Indo European and other languages raising interesting questions about ways to understand congruent and divergent syntactic structures across the world's languages This book will be of interest to students of Chinese Linguistics as well as Language Typology      Ni Hao 3 Shumang Fredlein,2003      The Video Librarian ,2003

Whitaker's Five-year Cumulative Book List ,1968      China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia Romi Jain,2021-05-17 This empirical work illuminates how China uses the higher education mechanism in South Asia to advance its national interests and investigates the outcomes for China including both challenges and opportunities Using a soft power theoretical framework this book employs the case study of Nepal a South Asian country of profound geostrategic value for the two competing powers of China and India Illustrating how higher education is the mechanism for achieving soft power goals it draws on data analysis based on archival sources and interviews with China and South Asia experts including academics and politico bureaucratic elites as well as interviews with Nepalese students and alumni Importantly though this book advances an innovative conceptual model of geointellect to trace the evolving dimensions of China's global dominance in higher education research and innovation paradigm especially in the context of the Belt and Road Initiative and ultimately reveals how foreign policy and higher education policy reinforce each other in the context of China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia provides an empirically rich resource for students and scholars of education international relations Asian studies and China's soft power      The Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1889      Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1996-10      Internationalizing the Academic Standards Indiana University, Bloomington.
