Herpes simplex virus type 1 is clinically most often associated with <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. neural lesions. 2. genital lesions. 3. cervical carcinoma. 4. oral and ocular lesions. 5. none of the above. 	4. oral and ocular lesions. Herpes simplex 1, or HSV-1 infection, is one of the most common viral infections. Almost all individuals are infected between 6 and 18 months of life, but only a small proportion become symptomatic. Those who do develop gingiva stomatitis which is characterized by multiple vesicular lesions in and around the mouth. Vesicles may also erupt over the cornea and cause blindness. The recurrent form of HSV-1 infection is extremely common. After the primary infection, the virus becomes latent in the dorsal root ganglia. At times of stress, it reactivates and causes the common fever blister. This is a vesicular lesion at the mucocutaneous border of the lip.
2. A 17-year-old patient has periodontitis involving the anterior teeth with sparse plaque. These organisms include Bacteroides, Fusobacteria, Porphyromonas, and Prevotella. In this case, however, the young age of the patient, and the absence of plaque and calculus indicate a different disease. Juvenile periodontitis has a site predilection for incisors and first molars. It is usually very fast in progression, and not associated with high plaque and calculus levels. Its main cause is the organism Actinobacillus actinomycetemcomitans, also mercifully known as "aa". So the correct answer to question is choice A.

Half of men over the age of 50 have BPH and almost all men over the age of 70 have BPH. BPH is characterized by the formation of nodules in the prostatic tissue surrounding the prostatic urethra. When these nodules enlarge, urinary obstruction often follows. Most obstruction is partial obstruction. It causes voiding difficulty. The individual cannot fully empty his bladder and he must make frequent trips to the restroom. Complete obstruction may also occur. The individual rapidly develops hydronephrosis and acute renal failure. This is a life-threatening condition as the renal failure become less and less reversible as time elapses. Carcinoma of the prostate, choice 1, rarely causes urinary retention. The carcinoma arises in the lateral lobes of the prostate. It must reach very large proportions to compromise the prostatic urethra which is located centrally. Malignant neoplasms of the urethra, choice 3, may cause urinary retention. These lesions are extremely rare, however. Bronchogenic carcinoma, choice 4, may metastasize to the bladder. However, metastatic lesions and primary tumors of the bladder usually cause hematuria rather than urinary retention.
