

TECHNIQUES OF NARRATIVE THERAPY

PUTTING TOGETHER THE NARRATIVE

Allows the client to express their thoughts and explore events in their lives and the meanings they have placed on these experiences.

EXTERNALIZING THE PROBLEM

Leading clients towards viewing their problems or behaviors as external instead of an unchangeable part of themselves - they realize they themselves are not the problem.

DECONSTRUCTION

Working with the client to break down or deconstruct their stories into smaller, more manageable parts to clarify the problem.

UNIQUE OUTCOMES

This refers to the exceptions to the dominant story. Also known as 're-authoring' or 're-storying,' clients go through their experiences to find alterations to their story or make a whole new one.

Narrative Therapy Training And Supervision:

The Integrative Family Therapy Supervisor: A Primer Robert E. Lee, Craig A. Everett, 2004-03-01 Encouraging the development of a personal model of supervision built upon the integration of theory research and regard for the uniqueness of clinical settings this new text will prepare readers for approved supervisor credential while advancing their ability to blend systemic theory with clinical practice in the context of personal and professional development Strengths-Based Supervision in Clinical Practice Jeffrey K. Edwards, 2012-04-24 Moving away from the usual medical modeled framework of mental health focused on problems Strengths Based Supervision in Clinical Practice by Jeffrey K Edwards takes a postmodern social construction approach looking for and amplifying strengths and encouraging stakeholders to use them Based on research in brain science as well as from the Information Age Connectivity Age thinking the book reframes the focus of supervision management and leadership to one that collaborates and builds on strengths with supervisees as competent stakeholders in their work with their clients Narrative Therapy Martin Payne, 2006-02-08 A thought provoking and interesting book that will be of interest to nurses and others supporting patients Accident and Emergency Nursing It is a relevant and timely book that will remind therapists of the importance of the telling of client s stories as an important component of the therapeutic process Whatever approach we use the client s story will be a part of what we work with so a sophisticated questioning of what stories narratives are will benefit our work This book is a good starting point for such an exploration It s an interesting book that will appeal to counsellors ready to challenge or add to their existing approach Therapy Today Narrative Therapy An Introduction for Counsellors Second Edition offers a clear and concise overview of this way of working without oversimplifying its theoretical underpinnings and practices Narrative therapy places peoples accounts of their lives and relationships at the heart of the therapeutic process Its main premise is that the telling and re telling of experience by means of guided questioning can facilitate changed more realistic perspectives and open up possibilities for the person seeking assistance to position him or herself more helpfully in relation to the issues brought to therapy Drawing on the ideas of Michael White and David Epston this fully revised extended and updated second edition incorporates recent developments in narrative theory and practice and introduces developments initiated by other narrative therapists worldwide New material has been added around counselling for post traumatic reactions couples conflict and a sense of personal failure The book is illustrated with extensive examples of practice with individuals and couples It is ideal for anyone on training courses in narrative therapy and also for counsellors who wish to consider common ground between narrative ideas and their current approach Martin Payne is an independent therapist and trainer in Norwich UK The Strength-Based Clinical Supervision Workbook Christopher L. Heffner, Jessica A. Cowan, 2022-08-25 Supervision is the cornerstone of clinical training across all types of mental health providers It facilitates the growth of mental health trainees and maintains the integrity of the field of mental health services by ensuring the competency of clinicians However the process can be complex and potentially confusing for both supervisors and trainees at any stage of their development or post licensure career Utilizing strength based approaches is crucial to the success of supervision This workbook facilitates a collaborative and strength based approach to clinical supervision that both supervisors and trainees can use during the entire course of supervision or for specific goals related to supervision Each chapter of this workbook contains information and activities specific to both the trainee and supervisor to facilitate dialogue about individual and combined strengths areas for growth and goals for collaborative work This is an essential start to finish guide addressing the entire supervision process from preparing for the first session to conducting the last session and everything in between

Key Features Meets the learning requirements for AAMFT mandated courses leading to certification as an approved supervisor Covers the fundamentals of supervision in the systemic context that lies at the heart of marriage and family therapy Covers supervision in the major approaches to MFT including cognitive behavioral brief narrative structural and other orientations Provides an illustrative case study across all supervision models to demonstrate the uniqueness and similarities of each approach Includes coverage of important populations and settings for MFT such as medical and post disasters

An Intersectional Approach to Sex Therapy Reece M. Malone, Marla Renee Stewart, Mariotta Gary-Smith, James C. Wadley, 2021-12-20 When a Black Indigenous or racialized individual or relationship works with a sex therapist a host of cultural circumstances can contribute to intimacy discord and sexual dysfunction This collection brings together clinicians and educators who share their approaches bridging sex therapy with a client's relationship to their racial cultural and ethnic identity This essential book aims to enhance therapists supervisory practices and clinical treatments when working with culturally diverse and marginalized populations fostering greater understanding and awareness Innovative tools that integrate the impacts of acculturation minority status intersectionality and minority stress are discussed with case studies demonstrations and critical questions included This collection is a necessary read for anyone who is training to be or who is an established sex therapist marriage and family therapist relationship counselor or sexuality educator and consultant

Solution-Focused Supervision Frank N. Thomas, 2013-01-05 New data have come to light through the Solution Focused Brief Therapy Association Archive hereafter the Archive This information is drawn from manuscripts and video featuring one of the SF founders Insoo Kim Berg MSW Archive video examples of Ms Berg conducting supervision therapy teams and case consultation as well as unpublished manuscripts written by her provide unique opportunities to illustrate specific assumptions and techniques rarely seen before The documents outline Ms Berg's philosophy assumptions and techniques to conduct supervision and the videos offer in vivo examples of her supervision and team case consultation style Together the Archive materials offer a rich resource for a book that both informs and illustrates SFS Collaborative Practice in Psychology and Therapy David A Pare, Glen Lerner, 2014-01-02 Collaborative Practice in Psychology and Therapy provides mainstream academics and practitioners with easy access to cutting edge thinking in social constructionist psychology and therapy This unique book is geared to readers who may not be familiar with narrative social constructionist or critical psychology and therapy presenting contemporary theory and practice with a minimum of jargon The field's leading practitioners and theorists demonstrate through a collaborative and relational focus how to work with people rather than on them in a mutual co constructive exchange Collaborative Practice in Psychology and Therapy bridges the gap between modern and postmodern theory providing a well rounded view that enables readers to see how contemporary theory can be applied in various subdisciplines Each user friendly chapter is virtually free of technical terms beginning with a readable thumbnail summary of the practical accessible material that follows The book includes case studies and examples illustrations tables a brief glossary of the few terms that do need explaining and suggestions for additional readings Collaborative Practice in Psychology and Therapy includes easy to apply ideas on theory therapeutic practice teaching supervision research and much more Collaborative Practice in Psychology and Therapy is a practical accessible resource for psychology and therapy students and practitioners academics working in psychotherapy training and supervision critical psychology and psychological research The book provides vital information for theorists and professionals interested in relational and collaborative practice on psychology and therapy including clinical psychologists individual couple and family therapists school counselors and social workers Reflective Practice in Psychotherapy and Counselling Jacqui Stedmon, Rudi Dallos, 2009-10-16 Reflective Practice has become established as an essential feature of practice in psychotherapy and counselling in the UK Europe USA and some other parts of the world However the writing on reflective practice is arguably fragmented and scattered and much of it is highly theoretical and abstract This book draws together conceptual and ethical issues regarding reflective practice including the meaning and development of the orientation More importantly it connects theory to day to day practice in psychotherapy and counselling addressing issues such as What does reflective practice look like in practice How do we develop the skills in carrying it out What ways does it assist practice The book offers an exploration of reflective practice within different models of psychotherapy and counselling CBT psycho dynamic and narrative systemic family therapy narrative and community approaches Throughout it employs a range of illustrations from a variety of clinical contexts to illustrate reflective practice in action These include work with children and families adult mental health trauma and abuse learning disability youth offending and bereavement and loss The mix of theoretical background along with practical examples and exercises will be key for students and practioners in the fields of psychotherapy and counselling The book will be a spur to readers to challenge dominant assumptions and modes of clinical practice and help them fulfil the compulsory requirement for a reflective practice element in their training The Complete Systemic Supervisor Thomas C. Todd, Cheryl L. Storm, 2014-04-29 The Second Edition of the definitive text on systemic clinical supervision has been fully updated and now includes a range of practical online resources New edition of the definitive text on systemic clinical supervision fully updated and revised with a wealth of case studies throughout Supported by a range of practical online resources New material includes coverage of systemic supervision outside MFT and international training contexts such as healthcare schools and the military Top level contributors include those practicing academic agency and privately contracted supervision with novice to experienced therapists The editors received a prestigious award in 2015 from the American Family Therapy Academy for their contribution to systemic supervision theory and practice Threads of Hope Susan Dale, 2016-02-22 On 1st October 2012 April Jones aged 5 was abducted from outside her home in the small Welsh market town of Machynlleth This led to the largest police search operation of its kind ever conducted in the UK and a subsequent murder investigation and trial which was scrutinised by the international media This book uses a collaborative narrative research process to explore the lived experiences of one specific group of community members who responded to this event by setting up and running a therapeutic project to support the community between 2012 and 2014 The author weaves together threads of the story taken from her own ethnographic journal and co researcher accounts together with community updates taken from press releases and academic theory to create an evocative narrative account that will enable readers to understand what it may be like to be involved in a therapeutic project of this kind The book highlights some of the challenges and offers suggestions for community leaders therapeutic practitioners and critical incident planners who may be considering setting up support in response to community trauma Clinical Supervision in the Helping Professions Gerald Corey, Robert H.
