Narrative Pedagogy Life History And Learning Counterpoints:

Narrative Pedagogy Ivor Goodson, Scherto Gill, 2011 It is widely recognised that we are living through an age of the narrative Many of the constituent disciplines in the social sciences resonate with this trend by using life history and narrative approaches and methods As we move on from the modernist period which prioritised objectivity into the postmodern regard for subjectivity this resort to narrative is likely to become more apparent and explicit in academic as well as social and commercial discourse One aspect of this narrative form which is commonly overlooked is that of the pedagogic encounter This is the phenomenon which is addressed by all narrative and biographical research Fundamentally reflecting and examining the narrative of our lives in the process of learning this book provides a series of studies and guidelines for what we have termed narrative pedagogy It presents a resource for an exploration of those narrative processes that can lead to meaningful change and development for individuals and groups within a learning environment and in life learning This focus on life history allows us to identify and support routes to learning within the narrative landscape of learners and through these pedagogic encounters

Dramatherapy Richard Hougham, Bryn Jones, 2021-08-05 This book investigates the nature and phenomena of interruption in ways that have relevance for contemporary dramatherapy practice It is a timely contribution amidst an age of interruption and examines how dramatherapists might respond with agency and discernment in personal professional and cultural contexts The writing gathers fresh ideas on how to conceptualise and utilise interruptions artistically socially and politically Individual chapters destabilise traditional conceptions of verbal and behavioural models of psychotherapy and offer a new vision based in the arts and philosophy There are examples of interruption in practice contexts augmented by extracts from case studies and clinical vignettes The book is not a sequential narrative rather a bricolage of ideas which create intersections between aesthetics language and the imagination New and international voices in dramatherapy emerge to generate a radical immanence from Greek shadow puppetry to the Japanese horticultural practice of Shakkei from the appearance of ghosts in the consulting room to images in the third space of the therapeutic encounter interruptions are reckoned with as relevant and generative This book will be of interest to students arts therapists scholars and practitioners who are concerned with the nature of interruption and how dramatherapy can offer a means of active engagement Issues and Innovations in Prison Health Research Matthew Maycock,Rosie Meek,James Woodall,2020-09-30 This book constitutes the first publication to utilise a range of social science methodologies to illuminate diverse and new aspects of health research in prison settings Prison contexts often have profound implications for the health of the people who live and work within them Despite these settings often housing people from extremely disadvantaged and deprived communities many with multiple and complex health needs health research is generally neglected within both criminology and medical sociology Through the fourteen chapters of this book a range of issues emerge that the authors of each contribution reflect upon The ethical concerns that emerge as a consequence of undertaking prison health research are not ignored indeed these lie at the heart of this book and resonate across all the chapters Foregrounding these issues necessarily forms a significant focus of this introductory chapter Alongside explicitly considering emerging ethical issues our contributing authors also have considered diverse aspects of innovation in research methodologies within the context of prison health research Many of the chapters are innovative through the methodologies that were used often adapting and utilising research methods rarely used within prison settings The book brings together chapters from students scholars practitioners and service users from a range of disciplines including medical sociology medical anthropology criminology psychology and public health Marketing Rural Tourism Gunjan Saxena,2016-11-25 Gunjan Saxena seeks to encourage a fuller understanding of rural tourism marketing by uncovering the lived experiences and enterprise of different actor groups as they respond to the impact of tourism on their communities and cultural identities In so doing the author makes a key contribution to the wider marketing discourse that circulates around place marketing and rural destinations Caste Discrimination and Exclusion in Indian Universities N. Sukumar,2022-07-25 This book studies the exclusion and discrimination that is meted out to Scheduled Caste SC students in the Indian Higher Education system and the psychosocial consequences of such practices It foregrounds the conceptual debates around caste exclusion and reservations in Indian academia discussing the social dominance and the roots of prejudices in the university spaces The volume reflects upon the fragile social world in which students from the margins struggle for survival in the academic space It reveals that these students navigate the various facets of academia like classrooms pedagogy scholarships hostels peer groups and teachers only to find the academic space a dystopian universe The book also sheds light on suicide cases committed by the marginalized groups as a testimony of protest Based on in depth ethnographic research this book will be of interest to teachers students and researchers of education sociology political science psychology and exclusion studies It will also be useful for policymakers social activists NGOs research centers and those working in higher education reservations public policy caste and exclusion studies
