The Armed Forces Covenant in action? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2013-07-18 A series of Ofsted inspections on Army Apprenticeships conducted in 2013 rated the overall effectiveness as good This was an improvement over the last inspection in 2009 rated as satisfactory now called requires improvement Some 28 per cent of Army recruits were less than 18 years of age Further information is needed on why the Army is so dependent on recruiting personnel under the age of 18 years compared to the other two Services and whether steps are being taken to reduce this dependency Of those recruited in 2012 3 5 per cent of the Army were rated at entry level 2 for literacy that of a 7 to 8 year old and 39 per cent had a literacy level of an eleven year old If as the MoD states it has to recruit personnel at whatever level of attainment is available then it should boost remedial action when recruitment entry standards are particularly low In light of changes brought about by Future Force 2020 it may be that recruiting personnel with higher levels of attainment would better meet the future needs of the Armed Forces Whilst the Committee recognises that some recruits may not be eager to take further academic exams the MoD should encourage more recruits to undertake English and Maths GCSEs which would stand them in good stead for future employment The MoD has carried out some useful pilot projects with paramedic training and should identify more potential projects to ensure that vital skills paid for by the MoD are not lost to the country

National Defence Force Annual Report ,1994 Recruitment and retention in the armed forces Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2007-07-03 The armed forces are short of servicemen and women At April 2007 the overall shortfall was 5 850 personnel or 3 2 per cent and none of the three Services were within their targets known as manning balance Many highly specialised areas such as nurses and linguists have larger shortfalls The impact of continuous downsizing pressures and overstretch is affecting the ability of the Ministry of Defence MoD to retain and provide a satisfactory life for Armed Forces personnel Numbers leaving early have risen in the last two years and are now at a ten year peak for Army and Royal Air Force Officers and for Royal Air Force Other Ranks The frequency of deployments is creating pressure on some personnel with large numbers exceeding the harmony guidelines on time spent away from home The MoD has operated above the most demanding level of operations under Defence Planning Assumptions since 2001 but has not adjusted its manning requirements Short term financial measures to improve retention have had some success but do not address the key drivers for leaving such as servicemen and women s inability to plan ahead and the impact on their family life The MoD also lacks basic information on the costs of its measures which would enable it to make more informed judgements on incentives to improve recruitment and retention Past cuts in recruitment activity have had a damaging longer term effect on manning in some areas Such cutbacks are almost impossible to recover as budget and capacity constraints prevent the MoD from over recruiting to make up for shortfalls in previous years Core Tax
