Sharing the Past J.A. Weingarten, 2019-09-05

Sharing the Past is an unprecedentedly detailed account of the intertwining discourses of Canadian history and creative literature When social history emerged as its own field of study in the 1960s it promised new stories that would bring readers away from the elite writing of academics and closer to the everyday experiences of people Yet the academy's continued emphasis on professional distance and objectivity made it difficult for historians to connect with the experiences of those about whom they wrote and those same emphases made it all but impossible for non academic experts to be institutionally recognized as historians Drawing on interviews and new archival materials to construct a history of Canadian poetry written since 1960 Sharing the Past argues that the project of social history has achieved its fullest expression in lyric poetry a genre in which personal experiences anchor history Developing this genre since 1960 Canadian poets have provided an inclusive model for a truly social history that indiscriminately shares the right to speak authoritatively of the past Anne Around classic      Decolonizing the English Literary Curriculum Ato Quayson, Ankhi Mukherjee, 2023-11-09 George Floyd's death on May 25th 2020 marked a watershed in reactions to anti Black racism in the United States and elsewhere. Intense demonstrations around the world followed. Within literary studies the demonstrations accelerated the scrutiny of the literary curriculum, the need to diversify the curriculum and the need to incorporate more Black writers. Decolonizing the English Literary Curriculum is a major collection that aims to address these issues from a global perspective. An international team of leading scholars illustrate the necessity and advantages of reform from specific decolonial perspectives with evidence based arguments from classroom contexts as well as establishing new critical agendas. The significance of Decolonizing the English Literary Curriculum lies in the complete overhaul it proposes for the study of English literature. It reconnects English studies, the humanities and the modern international university to issues of racial and social justice. This book is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core.

The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story Maria Löschnigg, 2022-12-30 This volume aims to introduce undergraduates, graduates and general readers to the diversity and richness of Canadian short story writing and to the narrative potential of short fiction in general. Addressing a wide spectrum of forms and themes, the book will familiarise readers with the development and cultural significance of Canadian short fiction from the early 19th century to the present. A strong focus will be on the rich reservoir of short fiction produced in the past four decades and the way in which it has responded to the anxieties and crises of our time. Drawing on current critical debates, each chapter will highlight the interrelations between Canadian short fiction and historical and socio-cultural developments. Case studies will zoom in on specific thematic or aesthetic issues in an exemplary manner. The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story will provide an accessible and comprehensive overview, ideal for students and general readers interested in the multifaceted and thriving medium of the short story in Canada.

Women, Collecting, and Cultures Beyond Europe Arlene Leis, 2022-11-04 This book examines collecting around the world and how women have participated in and formed collections globally. The edited volume builds on recent research and offers a wider lens through which to examine and challenge women's collecting histories. Spanning from the seventeenth century to the twenty-first, although not organized chronologically, the research herein extends beyond European geographies and across time periods. It brings to light new research on how artificialia and naturalia were collected, transported, exchanged and/or displayed beyond Europe. Women Collecting and Cultures Beyond Europe considers collections as points of contact that forged transcultural connections and knowledge exchange. Some authors focus mainly on collectors and what was collected, while others consider taxonomies, travel patterns of consumption, migration, markets and the afterlife of things. In its broad and interdisciplinary approach, this book amplifies women's voices and aims to position their collecting practices toward new transcultural directions, including women's relation to distinct cultures, customs and beliefs, as well as exposing the challenges women faced when carving a place for themselves within global networks. This study will be of interest to scholars working in collections and collecting conservation museum studies art history women s studies material and visual cultures Indigenous studies textile histories global studies history of science social and cultural histories      Mosaic Fictions Emily Robins Sharpe,2020-04-02 Mosaic Fictions is the first book length critical analysis of Canadian Spanish Civil War literature Exploring published and archival writings the book focuses on the extensive contributions of Jewish Canadian authors as they articulate the stakes of the Spanish Civil War 1936-9 in the language of a nascent North American multiculturalism Placing Jewish Canadian writers within overlapping North American networks of Jewish Black immigrant female and queer writers challenges the national distinctions that dominate current critical approaches to Anglophone Spanish Civil War literature Reframing the narrative of Spain s noble but tragic struggle against fascism in the Spanish Civil War the book demonstrates how marginalized North American supporters of the Spanish Republic crafted narratives of inclusive citizenship amidst a national crisis not entirely their own Mosaic Fictions examines texts composed between the war s outbreak and the present to illuminate the integral connections between Canada s developing national identity and global leftist action      The Routledge Handbook of Black Canadian Literature Andrea A. Davis,Leslie Sanders,2024-12-09 The Routledge Handbook of Black Canadian Literature offers a comprehensive overview of the growing and increasingly significant field of Black Canadian literary studies Including historical and contemporary analysis this volume is an essential text that maps the field over the almost 200 years of its existence across a range of genres from slave narratives to prose fiction poetry theatre and dub and spoken word It presents Black Canadian literature as encompassing a diverse set of viewpoints approaches and practices touching every aspect of Canadian territory and life and as deeply influencing debates and understandings of Black peoples far beyond its borders This Handbook employs an interdisciplinary framework that incorporates literary historical geographical and cultural analysis This book comprising 32 chapters is organized into five sections that chart the literature s development into a recognizable canon trace Black literary geographies across Canada from east to west delineate the literature s various genres and expressive forms and honor the writers and thinkers who have influenced the growth of the field This volume s range of subject and plurality of perspectives provide an excellent resource for teachers researchers and students from multiple disciplines including Canadian studies and literature Caribbean studies global Black studies hemispheric studies diaspora studies history and cultural studies      Handbook of Canadian Literature (English) Archibald MacMurchy,1906      The Reception of Northrop Frye ,2021-08-31 The widespread opinion is that Northrop Frye s influence reached its zenith in the 1960s and 1970s after which point he became obsolete his work buried in obscurity This almost universal opinion is summed up in Terry Eagleton s 1983 rhetorical question Who now reads Frye In The Reception of Northrop Frye Robert D Denham catalogues what has been written about Frye books articles translations dissertations and theses and reviews in order to demonstrate that the attention Frye s work has received from the beginning has progressed at a geomantic rate Denham also explores what we can discover once we have a fairly complete record of Frye's reception in front of us such as Hayden White's theory of emplotments applied to historical writing and Byron Alm's theory of musical narrative. The sheer quantity of what has been written about Frye reveals that the only valid response to Eagleton's rhetorical question is a very large and growing number, the growth being not incremental but exponential.

Shakespeare and Canada Irena R. Makaryk, Kathryn Prince, 2017-03-08 Shakespeare in Canada is the result of a collective desire to explore the role that Shakespeare has played in Canada over the past two hundred years but also to comprehend the way our country's culture has influenced our interpretation of his literary career and heritage. What function does Shakespeare serve in Canada today? How has he been reconfigured in different ways for particular Canadian contexts? The authors of this book attempt to answer these questions while imagining what the future might hold for William Shakespeare in Canada. Covering the Stratford Festival, the cult CBC television program Slings and Arrows, major Canadian critics such as Northrop Frye and Marshall McLuhan, the influential acting teacher Neil Freiman, the rise of Qu'becois and First Nation approaches to Shakespeare, and Shakespeare's place in secondary schools today, this collection reflects the diversity and energy of Shakespeare's afterlife in Canada. Collectively, the authors suggest that Shakespeare continues to offer Canadians remembrance of ourselves. This is a refreshingly original and impressive contribution to Shakespeare studies, a considerable achievement in any work on the history of one of the central figures in the western literary canon. Published in English.

Home Feelings Jody Mason, 2019-12-18 Literature, literacy, and citizenship took on new and contested meanings in early twentieth-century Canada, particularly in frontier work camps. In this critical history of the reading camp movement, Jody Mason undertakes the first sustained analysis of the organization that became Frontier College in 1919. Employing an interdisciplinary approach, Home Feelings investigates how the reading camp movement used fiction, poetry, songs, newspapers, magazines, school readers, and English as a second language and citizenship manuals to encourage ideas of selfhood that were individual and intimate rather than collective. Mason shows that British Canadian settlers' desire to define themselves in relation to an expanding non-British immigrant population, as well as a need for immigrant labour, put new pressure on the concept of citizenship in the first decades of the twentieth century. Through the Frontier College, one of the nation's earliest citizenship education programs emerged, drawing on literature's potential to nourish home feelings as a means of engaging socialist and communist print cultures and the non-British immigrant communities with which these were associated. Shifting the focus away from urban centres and postwar state narratives of citizenship, Home Feelings tracks the importance of reading projects and conceptions of literacy to the emergence of liberal citizenship in Canada prior to the Second World War.

The Ethics of Survival in Contemporary Literature and Culture Rudolf Freiburg, Gerd Bayer, 2021-12-14 The Ethics of Survival in Contemporary Literature and Culture delves into the complex problems involved in all attempts to survive. The essays analyze survival in contemporary prose narratives, short stories, poems, dramas, and theoretical texts but also in films and other modes of cultural practices. Addressing diverse topics such as memory and forgetting in Holocaust narratives stories of refugees and asylum seekers and representations of war the ethical implications involved in survival in texts and media are brought into a transnational critical discussion The volume will be of potential interest to a wide range of critics working on ethical issues the body and the politics of art and literature

A Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J. Do You Want to Be Happy and Write? Robert Lecker, 2023-09-01 Michael Ondaatje has achieved international prominence and recognition in a way that few other writers have let alone Canadian writers This popularity is most pronounced for works of historical fiction such as The English Patient winner of the Golden Man Booker Prize and In the Skin of a Lion set in 1930s Toronto shortlisted for the Governor General's Award and winner of the Canada Reads competition in 2002 But Ondaatje has been writing for over fifty years and his innovative works include some of the most accomplished poetry in the English speaking world Taking its title from a question in his poem Tin Roof Do You Want to Be Happy and Write reassesses Ondaatje's writing and the role of the poet from his troubled explorations of the self reflexive artist to his most recent novels Comprehensive in both approach and coverage this new collection offers groundbreaking analysis informed by an understanding of Ondaatje's entire oeuvre placing early poetry collections like The Collected Works of Billy the Kid and There's a Trick with a Knife I'm Learning to Do alongside the full range of his novels and his extensive work as a literary editor The book highlights the transnational postcolonial and diasporic issues that have become increasingly apparent in Ondaatje's work Contributors explore key interests that have reappeared and been rethought across his fiction and poetry the construction of identity the nature of memory and its relation to family origins and history the human body as a site of contestation and struggle the contrast between Eastern and Western values and the Southeast Asian diaspora the writer's responsibility in depictions of war psychic trauma and genocide and an ongoing fascination with the visual and the media of photography and film An eclectic celebration of an iconic author Do You Want to Be Happy and Write offers an authoritative reference point for scholars and students of literature and reveals new facets of a major author to his readers around the world

The Top Books of the Year Oxford Handbook Canadian Literature Handbooks The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. Oxford Handbook Canadian Literature Handbooks : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Oxford Handbook Canadian Literature Handbooks : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Oxford Handbook Canadian Literature Handbooks : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
