Evidence, pt. 2, 1864 Evidence, pt. 2 Great Britain. Commissioners appointed to inquire into the revenues and management of certain colleges and schools, and the studies pursued and instruction given therein, 1862 The Politics of Translation in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance Renate Blumenfeld-Kosinski, 2001-03-07 The articles in this collection written by medievalists and Renaissance scholars are part of the recent cultural turn in translation studies which approaches translation as an activity that is powerfully affected by its socio political context and the demands of the translating culture The links made between culture politics and translation in these texts highlight the impact of ideological and political forces on cultural transfer in early European thought While the personalities of powerful thinkers and translators such as Erasmus Etienne Dolet Montaigne and Leo Africanus play into these texts historical events and intellectual fashions are equally important moments such as the Hundred Years War whose events were partially recorded in translation by Jean Froissart the Political tussles around the issues of lay readers and rewriters of biblical texts the theological and philosophical shift from scholasticism to Renaissance relativism or European relations with the Muslim world add to the interest of these articles Throughout this volume translation is treated as a form of writing as the production of text and meaning carried out in a certain cultural and political ambiance and for identifiable though not always stated reasons No translation this collection argues is an innocent transparent rendering of the original Catalogue of the Dante Collection Presented by Willard Fiske: pt.2.
