Mathilde Vialard, 2024-02-26 Drawing on the recent academic interest in approaching health and wellbeing from a humanities perspective Sensation Novels and Domestic Minds investigates how the Victorians dealt with questions of mental health by examining literary works in the genre of sensation fiction The novels of Mary Elizabeth Braddon and Wilkie Collins two prominent writers of the genre often portray characters suffering from mental illnesses commonly diagnosed at the time among which are monomania moral insanity melancholia and hypochondria By studying the fictional works of Braddon and Collins alongside medical texts from the nineteenth century it sets out to investigate how these novels fictionally represented real mental sufferings This book considers the different mental illnesses the characters of sensation novels develop inside and outside the home as they struggle to define their own identity against Victorian social expectations It demonstrates how these novels fictionalised the crisis of the leisured upper classes who spent most of their time at home and found themselves at odds with a society that increasingly separated the domestic and working environments while also considering the impact that a lack of a sense of domestic belonging could have on their mental health Sensation Novels and Domestic Minds further analyses the extent to which domesticity in its excess or lack could afflict the mental health of Victorian men and women through the fictional representation of suicidal thoughts and acts in the novels of Braddon and Collins Transatlantic Sensations John Cyril Barton, Kristin N. Huston, a Preface by David S. Reynolds, 2016-02-24 Bringing together sensation writing and transatlantic studies this collection makes a convincing case for the symbiotic relationship between literary works on both sides of the Atlantic Transatlantic Sensations begins with the prehistories of the genre looking at the dialogue and debate generated by the publication of sentimental and gothic fiction by William Godwin Susanna Rowson and Charles Brockden Brown Thus establishing a context for the treatment of works by Louisa May Alcott Mary Elizabeth Braddon Dion Boucicault Wilkie Collins Charles Dickens George Lippard Charles Reade Harriet Beecher Stowe and George Thompson the volume takes up a wide range of sensational topics including sexuality slavery criminal punishment literary piracy mesmerism and the metaphors of foreign literary invasion and diseased reading Concluding essays offer a reassessment of the realist and domestic fiction of George Eliot Charlotte Yonge and Thomas Hardy in the context of transatlantic sensationalism emphasizing the evolution of the genre throughout the century and mapping a new transatlantic lineage for this immensely popular literary form The book's final essay examines an international kidnapping case that was a journalistic sensation at the turn of the twentieth century

Women and the Victorian Occult Tatiana Kontou, 2013-10-31 Increasingly contemporary scholarship reveals the strong connection between Victorian women and the world of the nineteenth century supernatural Women were intrinsically bound to the occult and the esoteric from mediums who materialised spirits to the epiphanic experiences of the New Woman from theosophy to telepathy This volume addresses the various ways in which Victorian women expressed themselves and were constructed by the occult through a broad range of texts By examining the roles of women as automatic writing mediums spiritualists authors editors theosophists socialists and how they interpreted the occult in their life and work the contributors in this edition return to sensation novels ghost stories autobiographies sciences and fashionable magazines to access the visible and invisible worlds of Victorian life The variety of texts analysed by the authors in this collection demonstrates the many interpretations of the occult in nineteenth century culture and the ways that women used supernatural imagery and language to draw attention to issues that bore immediate implications on their own lives Either by catering for the fad of ghost stories or by giving public trance speeches women harnessed the metaphorical and financial forces of the supernatural As the articles in this book demonstrate the occult was after all a female affair This book was published as a special issue of Women's Writing

The Victorian Approach to Modernism in the Fiction of Dorothy L. Sayers Aoife Leahy, 2009-05-27 Dorothy L. Sayers wrote bestselling detective novels and short stories in the 1920s and 1930s Working within a popular medium Sayers promotes nineteenth century and modernist literature with skills learnt during a period of employment in an advertising agency In much of her fiction she recommends her choice of good books by name She also suggests that taking Victorian literature as a foundation can bring her reader to a better understanding of literary modernism With a didactic intent Sayers shows how Lewis Carroll s Alice can help us to eventually read Virginia Woolf for instance Her approach to educating her readers is always through entertainment Sayers worked briefly as a teacher before taking up copywriting and retained important insights on how to improve the learning experience for any reader Sayers admiration for the Victorian sensation author Wilkie Collins is widely recognised This book examines Sayers attention to equally important Victorian influences from John Ruskin and George Eliot to Oscar Wilde particularly in relation to the topic of education She often questions the boundaries between popular and serious literature Sayers personal views on the connections between mid Victorian late Victorian and high modernist authors are also considered

Sensational Deviance Heidi Logan,2018-07-06 Sensational Deviance Disability in Nineteenth Century Sensation Fiction investigates the representation of disability in fictional works by the leading Victorian sensation novelists Wilkie Collins and Mary Elizabeth Braddon exploring how disability acts as a major element in the shaping of the sensation novel genre and how various sensation novels respond to traditional viewpoints of disability and to new developments in physiological and psychiatric knowledge The depictions of disabled characters in sensation fiction frequently deviate strongly from typical depictions of disability in mainstream Victorian literature undermining its stigmatized positioning as tragic deficit severe limitation or pathology Close readings of nine individual novels situate their investigations of physical sensory and cognitive disabilities against the period s disability discourses and interest in senses perception stimuli the nervous system and the hereditability of impairments The importance of moral insanity and degeneration theory within sensation fiction connect the genre with criminal anthropology suggesting the genre s further significance in the light of the later emergence of eugenics psychoanalysis and genetics

Cote, 2020-02-25 Lacing cultural criticism Victorian literature and storytelling together TOO MUCH spills over with intellect with sparkling prose and with the brainy arguments of Vorona Cote who posits that women are all in some way or another still susceptible to being called too much Esm Weijun Wang A weeping woman is a monster So too is a fat woman a horny woman a woman shrieking with laughter Women who are one or more of these things have heard or perhaps simply intuited that we are repugnantly excessive that we have taken illicit liberties to feel or fuck or eat with abandon After bellowing like a barn animal in orgasm hoovering a plate of mashed potatoes or spraying out spit in the heat of expostulation we've flinched enough that was so gross I am so gross On rare occasions we might revel in our excess belting out anthems with our friends over karaoke perhaps but in the company of less sympathetic souls our uncertainty always returns A woman who is Too Much is a woman who reacts to the world with ardent intensity is a woman familiar to lashes of shame and disapproval from within as well as without Written in the tradition of Shri! Dead Girls Sex Object and other frank books about the female gaze TOO MUCH encourages women to reconsider the beauty of their excesses emotional physical and spiritual Rachel Vorona Cote braids cultural criticism theory and storytelling together in her exploration of how culture grinds away our bodies souls and sexualities forcing us into smaller lives than we desire An erstwhile Victorian scholar she sees many parallels between that era's fixation on women's hysterical behavior and our modern policing of the same in the space of her writing you're as likely to encounter Jane Eyre and Lizzie Bennet as you are Britney Spears and Lana Del Rey This book will tell the story of how women from then and now have learned to draw power from their reservoirs of feeling all that makes us Too Much
