Hurricane Katrina James Patterson Smith, 2012-03-05 This book presents the fullest account yet written of the impact of Hurricane Katrina on the Mississippi Gulf Coast Rooted in a wealth of oral histories it tells the dramatic but underreported story of a people who confronted the unprecedented devastation of sixty five thousand homes when the eye wall and powerful northeast quadrant of the hurricane swept a record thirty foot storm surge across a seventy five mile stretch of unprotected Mississippi towns and cities James Patterson Smith takes us through life and death accounts of storm day August 29 2005 and the precarious days of food and water shortages that followed Along the way the narrative treats us to inspiring episodes of neighborly compassion and creative responses to the greatest natural disaster in American history The heroes of this saga are the local people and local officials In often moving accounts the book addresses the Mississippi Gulf Coast's long struggle to remove a record setting volume of debris and get on with the rebuilding of homes schools jobs and public infrastructure Along the way readers are offered insights into the politics of recovery funding and the bureaucratic bungling and hubris that afflicted the storm response and complicated and delayed the work of recovery Still there are ample accounts of things done well and a moving chapter gives us a feel for the psychological spiritual and material impact of the eight hundred thousand people from across the nation who gave of themselves as volunteers in the Mississippi recovery effort When the Center Is on Fire Diane Sue Harriford, Becky W. Thompson, 2021 In this lively and provocative book two feminist public sociologists turn to classical social thinkers W E B Du Bois Max Weber Karl Marx and mile Durkheim to understand a series of twenty first century social traumas including the massacre at Columbine High School the 9 11 attacks the torture at Abu Ghraib prison and Hurricane Katrina Each event was overwhelming in its own right while the relentless pace at which they occurred made it nearly impossible to absorb and interpret them in any but the most superficial ways Yet each uncovered social problems that cry out for our understanding and remediation In When the Center Is on Fire Becky Thompson and Diane Harriford assert that classical social theorists grappled with the human condition in ways that remain profoundly relevant They show for example that the loss of double consciousness that Du Bois identified in African Americans enabled political elites to turn a blind eye to the poverty and vulnerability of many of New Orleans's citizens The authors compelling sometimes irreverent often searing interpretations make this book essential reading for students activists generations X Y

that arose out of the wreckage and everything that falls somewhere in between all of these things I will explain how the decisions that I made during this time period compounded and influenced by the arrival of Hurricane Katrina affected my life and the lives of so many people whose existence was intertwined with mine including before during and after this horrific natural and disastrous event This is not a story about Hurricane Katrina although the entire event is described in an incredibly descriptive way that will make you feel as though you are there with us I lay out some very personal and traumatic details within this book but I also explain how many negative occurrences have positive counterparts that balance the scales of life and I take care to tell about all of these things in very honest and explicit terms I am sure that I will be judged harshly by some and praised by others as a result of releasing such intimate details about who I am and what is important to me in this book But none of that matters to me because the story had to be told and in this book the entire story is told

Waiting....for Hope Ginger Allain,2007 As a man not because you may have an erection for a strange woman because of your close association with her should you proceed to gratify your flesh in a few moments of passion and ecstasy One moment in bed with a strange woman could ruin your reputation your good name and your integrity as a good man That one moment in bed could cost you to become a victim of the deadly disease of AIDS or some other kind of incurable sexually transmitted disease that you were not anticipating inflicting your body That one moment of sexual pleasure with a strange woman could cause her to commit the murder of abortion to cover up her secret prostitution with you and to save you from destroying your reputation and the image that you are trying to protect All that it takes to trick trap trip and strip a good man of his reputation his good name and his public image is just a few moments of the ecstasy and pleasure of sex outside of marriage with a strange woman As a woman whether you are married or single you should never allow yourself to become vulnerable to be tricked and trapped as a victim of sexual immorality with any man and to ruin your reputation the man s reputation and or his family if he has any You have the ability to either save or destroy a weak and foolish man who is void of understanding as Delilah did to Samson You have the capacity and the influence to save him from destroying himself and his destiny even if he insists by keeping your legs closed from him until he takes you to the alter to commit himself to you in marriage if he is a single man

Hurricane Katrina Vs the 91st Psalm Robin Girard Brown,2008-02-14 This book is an account of the events that took place from August 28 through September 9 2005 as my family sheltered in an apartment building during and after Hurricane Katrina Hurricane Katrina was the largest national disaster in the history of the United States This book explains why we did not evacuate or allow ourselves to be rescued from a flooded area in the lower ninth ward after the hurricane It reveals the goodness of God in the storm It shows how He provided for us how we sought counsel from God instead of man and how God proved His faithfulness Drowned City: Hurricane Katrina & New Orleans , She was No Lady Michael Tracey,2006-03 This is the story of one man who loses everything in the hell of Hurricane Katrina He loses home personal and professional belongings and maybe more How does he cope with the loss Where does he direct his anger his frustration How does he try to rebuild his life profession and community Does he wallow in self destruction or resurrect from the ashes Does he have the inner resources to continue How does he begin to give hope to people who have lost everything also Where does he go for support What does he discover about himself in the dark days and nights after the hurricane Are there any answers to all those questions Maybe this book will provide some answers This is his story But in a way it is everyone s story It is the story of everyone who has lost a heart a home a job a friendship a soul mate a loved one

What Mean These Stones Gilbert H. Caldwell,2005 Hurricane Katrina 9 11 and the Million Man March As different as the three of these events might be all of them prompt important questions What did they mean at the time they occurred and what do they mean today Author Gilbert H Caldwell takes a deeper look into the existence of racism and historical events in America He uses four key events in American history the Million Man March of October 1995 9 11 and Hurricane Katrina in his dissection of racism s relationship to poverty discord and national disunity Through a powerful mix of letters from those who participated in the Million Man March the diary of Katrina survivor and Mississippi resident Paula Milo Moultrie and other stories Caldwell opens up a discussion of racism to help further our understanding of this difficult yet vital subject Gil Caldwell s writing efforts are an important step in starting a true and honest dialogue on issues that require justice and reconciliation Chester Jones General Secretary The General Commission on Religion and Race of the United Methodist Church
