Narrowly Escaping Escapism:

Narrowly Escaping Escapism, 2014-02-14 Escape, Escapism, Escapology John Limon, 2022-07-14

Escape Escapism Escapology American Novels of the Early Twenty First Century identifies and explores what has emerged as perhaps the central theme of 21st century American fiction the desire to escape from the commodified present from directionless history from moral death at a time of inescapable globalization The driving question is how to find an alternative to the world within the world at a time when utopian and messianic ideals have lost their power to compel belief John Limon traces the American answer to that question in the writings of some of the most important authors of the last two decades Chabon Diaz Foer Eggers Donoghue Groff Ward Saunders and Whitehead among others and finds that it always involves the faux utopian freedom and pseudo messianic salvation of childhood When contemporary novelists feature actual historical escape pervasively from slavery or Nazism it appears in their novels as escape envy or escape nostalgia as if globalization like slavery or Nazism could be escaped in a direction from this place to another Thus the closing of the world frontier inspires a mirror messianism and utopianism that in US novels can only be rendered as a performative momentary chiasmic relationship between precocious kids and their ludic guardians

Sidewalks in the Kingdom (The Christian Practice of Everyday Life) Eric O. Jacobsen, 2003-05-01 Christians often talk about claiming our cities for Christ and the need to address urban concerns But according to Eric Jacobsen this discussion has remained far too abstract Sidewalks in the Kingdom challenges Christians to gain an informed vision for the physical layout and structure of the city Jacobsen emphasizes the need to preserve the nourishing characteristics of traditional city life including shared public spaces thriving neighborhoods and a well supported local economy He explains how urban settings create unexpected and natural opportunities to initiate friendship and share faith in Christ Helpful features include a glossary a bibliography and a description of New Urbanism Pastors city dwellers and those interested in urban ministry and development will be encouraged by Sidewalks in the Kingdom

The Transcendent Vision of Mythopoeic Fantasy David S. Hogsette, 2022-07-22 An ever expanding critical library on fantasy fiction requires an analysis of why the genre is so ubiquitous enduring and beloved This work analyzes the mythic elements in foundational fantasy texts arguing that mythopoeic fantasy reveals timeless truths that link human cultures past and present Through close readings of works like Phantastes The King of Elfland's Daughter The Fellowship of the Ring The Lion the Witch and the Wardrobe A Wizard of Earthsea The Neverending Story A Wrinkle in Time and Out of the Silent Planet this book explores how mythopoeic fantasy speaks to the deepest concerns of the human heart It investigates the genre's use of an imagination that is sometimes atrophied by the demands of contemporary life and explores how fantasy provides restoration consolation and hope within a cultural context that too often decries such ideas Each chapter focuses on a representative text providing author background and engaging relevant scholarship on a variety of relevant thematic issues Offering new insights on these classic texts by drawing upon post secular critical approaches this work is suitable for both new and seasoned students of fantasy Dangerous Edges of Graham Greene Dermot Gilvary, Darren J. N. Middleton, 2011-11-17 Informative broad ranging this title sheds new light on the life and literary art of one of the last century's most celebrated authors The first volume to be authorized by the Graham Greene Birthplace Trust Dangerous Edges of Graham Greene brings together writers, journalists and scholars to investigate as well as to assess Greene's prolific oeuvre and intense personal interests Here the reader may explore everything from Greene's Vienna at the time of the filming of The Third Man to his sometimes fraught relationship with Evelyn Waugh from Greene's unconventional fictional treatment of women to his believing skepticism While Greene often informed friends that a ruling passion gives to a shelf of novels the unity of a system critics of his literary art have found it extraordinarily difficult to define the content of this ruling passion Perhaps this is because Greene's own character seems so paradoxical ironic even Moreover in believing that sin contains within itself the seeds of saintliness he consistently loiters on what Robert Browning calls the dangerous edge of things In exploring this dangerous edge this book covers the full breadth of Greene's life and literary career Postmodern Fiction and the Break-Up of Britain Hywel Dix, 2011-11-03 This study explores how British identity has been explored and renegotiated by contemporary writers It starts by examining the new emphasis on space and place that has emerged in recent cultural analysis and shows how this spatial emphasis informs different literary texts Having first analysed a series of novels that draw an implicit parallel between the end of the British Empire and the break up of the unitary British state the study explores how contemporary writing in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales contributes to a sense of nationhood in those places and so contributes to the break up of Britain symbolically Dix argues that the break up of Britain is not limited to political devolution in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales It is also an imaginary process that can be found occurring on a number of other conceptual coordinates Feminism class regional identities and ethnic communities are all terrains on which different writers carry out a fictional questioning of received notions of Britishness and so contribute in different ways to the break up of Britain Awakening to Justice The Dialogue on Race and Faith Project, Jemar Tisby, Christopher P. Momany, Sègbégnon Mathieu Gnonhossou, David D. Daniels, R. Matthew Sigler, Douglas M. Strong, Diane Leclerc, Esther Chung-Kim, Albert G. Miller, Estrela Y. Alexander, 2024-03-26 The Dialogue on Race and Faith project presents groundbreaking scholarship on the writings of David Ingraham and his two Black colleagues James Bradley and Nancy Prince Through considering connections between the revivalist holiness and abolitionist movements they offer insight and hope for Christians concerned about racial justice Steven Spielberg: Lights, Camera, Emotion Fabricio Sales Silva, 2025-05-06 From a very young age I always knew that my passion for cinema was not just a hobby but a calling I learned very early on that fear can be a great motivator When I was making Jaws I faced numerous technical and logistical challenges that made me question whether we could finish the film But it was this fear that pushed me to find creative solutions which eventually defined the film's success Fear is not a signal to retreat but an impulse to move forward with more courage I understood that curiosity is the key to keeping passion alive I've always strived to tell stories that challenge not only the audience but also myself Exploring themes ranging from the sheer adventure in Indiana Jones to the ethical dilemmas in Minority Report kept me engaged and constantly learning Curiosity is what drives us to explore to discover and ultimately to understand a little more about ourselves and the world around us Finally one of the biggest lessons I've learned is about the power of empathy The ability to see the world through someone else's eyes is what truly enriches our lives It guided me not only as a filmmaker but also as a person Through my films I have tried to open a window into different cultures histories and emotions fostering a deeper understanding and greater connection between people

Death by Drama and Other Medieval Urban Legends

Jody Enders, 2005-05-15 Part of every legend is true Or so argues Jody Enders in this fascinating look at early French drama and the way it compels us to consider where the stage ends and where real life begins This ambitious and bracing study explores fourteen tales of the theater that are at turns dark and dangerous sexy and scandalous humorous and frightening stories that are nurtured by the confusion between truth and fiction and imitation and enactment until it becomes impossible to tell whether life is imitating art or art is imitating life Was a convicted criminal executed on stage during a beheading scene Was an unfortunate actor driven insane while playing a madman Did a theatrical enactment of a crucifixion result in a real one Did an androgynous young man seduce a priest when portraying a female saint Enders answers these and other questions while presenting a treasure trove of tales that have long seemed true but are actually medieval urban legends On topics ranging through politics religion marriage class and law these tales Enders argues do the cultural work of all urban legends they disclose the hopes fears and anxieties of their tellers Each one represents a medieval meditation created or dramatized by the theater with its power to blur the line between fiction and reality engaging anyone who watches performs or is represented by it Each one also raises pressing questions about the medieval and modern world on the eve of the Reformation when Europe had never engaged more anxiously and fervently in the great debate about what was real what was pretend and what was pretense Written with elegance and flair and meticulously researched Death by Drama and Other Medieval Urban Legends will interest scholars of medieval and Renaissance literature history theater performance studies and anyone curious about urban legends
