Nation Language And The Ethics Of Translation Translationtransnation:

Nation, Language, and the Ethics of Translation Sandra Bermann, Michael Wood, 2005-07-05 In recent years scholarship on translation has moved well beyond the technicalities of converting one language into another and beyond conventional translation theory. With new technologies blurring distinctions between the original and its reproductions and with globalization redefining national and cultural boundaries, translation is now emerging as a reformulated subject of lively interdisciplinary debate. Nation Language and the Ethics of Translation enters the heart of this debate. It covers an exceptional range of topics from simultaneous translation to legal theory from the language of exile to the language of new nations from the press to the cinema and cultures and languages from contemporary Bengal to ancient Japan from translations of Homer to the work of Don DeLillo. All twenty-two essays by leading voices including Gayatri Spivak and the late Edward Said are provocative and persuasive. The book's four sections—Translation as Medium and across Media, The Ethics of Translation, Translation and Difference, and Beyond the Nation—together provide a comprehensive view of current thinking on nationality and translation, one that will be widely consulted for years to come. The contributors are Jonathan E. Abel, Emily Apter, Sandra Bermann, Vilashini Cooppan, Stanley Corngold, David Damrosch, Robert Eaglestone, Stathis Gourgouris, Pierre Legrand, Jacques Lezra, Françoise Lionnet, Sylvia Molloy, Yopie Prins, Edward Said, Azade Seyhan, Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak, Henry Staten, Lawrence Venuti, Lynn Visson, Gauri Viswanathan, Samuel Weber, and Michael Wood.

Translation Flows Ilse Feinauer, Amanda Marais, Marius Swart, 2023-10-15 The genesis of this book was the 9th Congress of the European Society for Translation Studies held in Stellenbosch, South Africa, in September 2019, the first time the event took place outside Europe. Living Translation: People, Processes, Products was the Congress theme. A common thread, whether as a methodological or analytical basis, as a descriptive framework, or as a subject in itself, was that of flows and the flowing nature of translation. The contributions included here draw on a productive framework of networks and flows and foreground the inherent spatial and temporal diversity of Translation Studies. Translation as a social practice is the golden thread throughout the volume, not just translation in the conventional sense between languages and cultures but over artificial borders into new spaces between non-traditional agents and actors and through various genres and mediums. Chapters are clustered loosely based on the temporality of the topic under discussion. Work on and from the Global North constitutes the first section, and the second complements this by bringing the Global South into the picture as well. This state-of-the-art research will stimulate robust scholarly discussions as we map our way forward as a living discipline. Interpreting

Studies at the Crossroads of Disciplines Simon Zupan, Aleksandra Nuč, 2017-07-07 Interdisciplinarity has been a defining feature of Interpreting Studies from its inception. The present volume comprises a selection of papers by authors from five different European countries; the papers explore the crossroads of various subdisciplines within Interpreting Studies and beyond. The contributions show that while traditional approaches and combinations with other established disciplines such as sociology law or linguistics remain common advances in technology in particular rapid software development require that Interpreting Studies must also adapt to and accept a new social reality Using examples from a range of institutional settings the authors demonstrate what the effect of these changes has been and will be on the theory teaching and practice of interpreting

Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation Ioanna Chatzidimitriou, 2020-09-02

Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation proposes a novel theoretical lens for the study of translation as theme and practice in works by four translingual francophone authors Vassilis Alexakis Chahdortt Djavann Nancy Huston and Andre Makine In particular it argues that translation allows for the most productive encounter with otherness when it is practiced in its estuarine dimension When two foreign bodies of water come into contact in an estuary often a new environment is created at their shared border that does not however invalidate the distinctiveness chemical biological geological etc of either fresh or sea water Similarly texts translated from one language to another should ideally not transform into but rather relate to their new host s linguistic and cultural codes in ways that account both for their undiluted strangeness and the missteps gaps and discontinuities the challenging yet novel and productive articulations of relationality that proliferate at the border of the encounter

Shared Idioms, Sacred Symbols, and the Articulation of Identities in South Asia Kelly Pemberton, Michael Nijhawan, 2009-01-13 This work focuses on processes of articulating identity The notions of shared idioms and sacred symbols shaping this volume suggest both a search for common ground and boundary drawing processes Individual chapters locate sites of these modes and the conditions that engender them problematizing the truth claims of unitary markers of identity

Buddhist Nuns and Gendered Practice Nirmala S. Salgado, 2013-09-17 Based on extensive research in Sri Lanka and interviews with Theravada and Tibetan nuns from around the world Salgado s groundbreaking study urges a rethinking of female renunciation How are scholarly accounts complicit in reinscribing imperialist stories about the subjectivity of Buddhist women How do key Buddhist concepts such as dukkha samsara and sila ground female renunciant practice Salgado s provocative analysis questions the secular notion of the higher ordination of nuns as a political movement for freedom against patriarchal norms Arguing that the lives of nuns defy translation into a politics of global sisterhood equal before law she calls for more nuanced readings of nuns everyday renunciant practices

The Making of Barbarians Haun Saussy, 2024-12-17 A groundbreaking account of translation and identity in the Chinese literary tradition before 1850 with important ramifications for today Debates on the canon multiculturalism and world literature often take Eurocentrism as the target of their critique But literature is a universe with many centers and one of them is China The Making of Barbarians offers an account of world literature in which China as center produces its own margins Here Sinologist and comparatist Haun Saussy investigates the meanings of literary translation adaptation and appropriation on the boundaries of China long before it came into sustained contact with the West

When scholars talk about comparative literature in Asia they tend to focus on translation between European languages and Chinese Korean and Japanese as practiced since about 1900 In contrast Saussy focuses on the period before 1850 when the translation of foreign works into Chinese was rare because Chinese literary tradition overshadowed those around it The Making of Barbarians looks closely at literary works that were translated into Chinese from foreign languages or resulted from contact with alien peoples The book explores why translation was such an undervalued practice in premodern China and how this vast and prestigious culture dealt with those outside it before a new group of foreigners Europeans appeared on the horizon

Translation Multiples Kasia Szymanska, 2025-05-27 A new genre of writing demonstrating that translation is neither a transparent medium nor a secondary form of literature In Translation Multiples Kasia Szymanska examines what happens when translators poets and artists expose the act of translation by placing parallel translation variants next to one another in a standalone work of art presenting each as a legitimate version of the original Analyzing such translation multiples as a new genre of writing Szymanska explores how an original text can diverge into variants how such multiplicity can be displayed and embraced and how the resulting work can still be read as a coherent text To do so she focuses on contemporary projects in two different contexts Anglophone experimental practices and post 1989 Poland s emergence into democracy while viewing them against the backdrop of twentieth century cultural and political developments Szymanska first takes a broad look at Anglophone global culture debunking the myth of translation as a transparent medium and an unoriginal secondary form of writing She then turns to postcommunist Poland where projects introducing multiple translation variants with different ideological readings offered an essential platform for pluralist political discussion She examines in particular an elaborate metatranslation of La Marseillaise a triple rendering of Anthony Burgess s novel A Clockwork Orange and a quadruple book of Bertolt Brecht s poetry with distinct readings by four translators She argues that the creators of such multiples want to tell their own stories personal critical visual or political Showing why multiple translations matter Szymanska calls for a redefined practice of reading translations that follows the ethics of the multiple

Leaks, Hacks, and Scandals Tarek El-Ariss, 2018-12-04 How digital media are transforming Arab culture literature and politics In recent years Arab activists have confronted authoritarian regimes both on the street and online leaking videos and exposing atrocities and demanding political rights Tarek El Ariss situates these critiques of power within a pervasive culture of scandal and leaks and shows how cultural production and political change in the contemporary Arab world are enabled by digital technology yet emerge from traditional cultural models Focusing on a new generation of activists and authors from Egypt and the Arabian Peninsula El Ariss connects WikiLeaks to The Arabian Nights Twitter to mystical revelation cyberattacks to pre Islamic tribal raids and digital activism to the affective scene making of Arab popular culture He shifts the epistemological and historical frameworks from the postcolonial condition to the digital condition and shows how new media challenge the novel as the traditional vehicle for political consciousness and intellectual debate Theorizing the rise of the leaking subject who reveals contests and writes through chaotic yet highly political means El Ariss investigates the digital consciousness virality and affective forms of knowledge that jolt and inform the public and that draw readers in to the unfolding fiction of scandal Leaks Hacks and Scandals maps the changing landscape of Arab modernity or Nahda in the digital age and traces how concepts such as the nation community power the intellectual the author and the novel are hacked and recoded through new modes of confrontation circulation and dissent

Vernacular English Akshya Saxena,2022-03 After India's Partition and independence in 1947 cleansing Hindi by removing Urdu words was part of the nation's effort to disavow Islamic influence and to forge an exclusively Hindu Indian identity Sanskritized Hindi was anointed the official language of India in 1950 a move protested by non Hindi speaking people in 1963 lawmakers responded to these protests by making English an associate official language Itself a language steeped in a history of colonial violence English nevertheless was chosen to mend the gaps created by the imposition of Hindi and to uphold the ideal of democracy This book considers English as part of the multilingual local milieu of India a country where more than twenty languages are spoken not as a colonial language imposed from without Through a close study of English in India from the language policies under British rule to the present day Akshya Saxena argues that low castes and minority ethnic groups those oppressed by or denied access to English have routinely and effectively used the language to make political demands on the state The book examines the ways that Indians use English in literary spoken and visual media from novels to films to global protest movements to express and shape their experience within the Indian state

Guru English Srinivas Aravamudan,2006 Guru English is a bold reconceptualization of the scope and meaning of cosmopolitanism examining the language of South Asian religiosity as it has flourished both inside and outside of its original context for the past two hundred years The book surveys a specific set of religious vocabularies from South Asia that Aravamudan argues launches a different kind of cosmopolitanism into global use Using Guru English as a tagline for the globalizing idiom that has grown up around these religions Aravamudan traces the diffusion and transformation of South Asian religious discourses as they shuttled between East and West through English language use The book demonstrates that cosmopolitanism is not just a secular Western discourse that results from a disenchantment with religion but something that can also be refashioned from South Asian religion when these materials are put into dialogue with contemporary social movements and literary texts Aravamudan looks at religious forms of neoclassicism nationalism Romanticism postmodernism and nuclear millenarianism bringing together figures such as Swami Vivekananda Sri Aurobindo Mahatma Gandhi and Deepak Chopra with Rudyard Kipling James Joyce Robert Oppenheimer and Salman Rushdie Guru English analyzes writers and gurus literary texts and religious movements and the political uses of religion alongside the literary expressions of religious teachers showing the cosmopolitan interconnections between the Indian subcontinent the British Empire and the American New Age
