General Principles and Sector-Specific Rules in European Administrative Laws Giacinto della Cananea, Jean-Bernard Auby, 2024-06-19

In the field of administrative law, there is no systematic body of rules similar to those characteristic of European civil codes. General principles are therefore of fundamental importance. This volume, the sixth in the series concerning the common core of European administrative laws, explores this importance through two strands. Firstly, it examines in detail the relationship between general principles of law, such as due process and sector specific rules established by legislative and regulatory provisions, for example in licensing and disciplinary matters. Several questions about the nature of general principles emerge through this analysis: Are general principles about filling gaps? Or do they have a foundational role because they give meaning to the values that are shared by European legal systems, such as respect for the rule of law and for fundamental rights? Secondly, this volume also explores the interaction between commonality and diversity in European administrative law. It considers whether there are shared standards of administrative conduct, including the duty to give reasons, or if there are fundamental differences with regard to non-European legal systems, such as that of China and Venezuela. These questions are investigated through factual analysis based on a set of hypothetical cases which are discussed by national experts. This book then scrutinizes these questions to determine how commonality and diversity have extended and interact with one another within and across legal systems, both diachronically and synchronically over the course of a century. It shows that there are both unexpected areas of agreement between the European legal systems, notably concerning the right to be heard, expressed by the maxim audi alteram partem, and the duty to give reasons, and there are also areas of disagreement, for example as far as the right to remain silent vis-à-vis the administration, that is nemo tenetur se detegere, is concerned.

The Transformation of Private Law - Principles of Contract and Tort as European and International Law Maren Heidemann, 2024-04-20

Eminent lawyers from academia, international judiciary and legal practice join up to honour Professor Mads Andenas. KC Hon. Contributions form a cutting edge volume across legal disciplines, led by an advisory editorial committee including Prof Guido Alpa, Prof Carl Baudenbacher, Prof Eirik Bjorge, Prof Giuseppe Conte and Prof Duncan Fairgrieve. The general private law of tort and delict is subject to a transformation where the traditional national framework is becoming gradually less relevant. Much of the modernisation of private law takes place not at the domestic level but at a European or international level, such as in international commercial conventions or EU consumer protection legislation. Remedies in regulatory law are becoming ever more important. The role of the European Court of Justice in developing general principles of contract and tort is ever increasing Tort liability is an important subject of international conventions with the caselaw of the International Court of Justice developing general principles of tort liability in public international law
