Goodsell, 2010-10-19 In an era filled with mistrust for big government and big business Charles Goodsell goes against this grain to draw attention to public agencies admired for what they do and how well they do it In his groundbreaking new book Goodsell places renewed focus on organizational mission and its potential to be a strong energizing force in government one that animates a workforce internally and attracts admiration and talent externally He offers a normative template for the mystique that underlies this phenomenon and highlights in six rich case studies a driving sense of purpose a cultural and motivational richness and a capacity for tolerating dissent while still innovating and learning Analyzing what works best and what doesn t Goodsell provides a metric through which agency mystique can be evaluated and modeled Goodsell's fresh take on public agencies not only defines good public administration in terms of ethical conduct constitutional accountability and performance effectiveness but argues that the field must add the crucial standard of institutional vitality A Sense of Place Ranger Up! Theodore E. White and the Development of Zooarchaeology in North America R. Lee Lyman, 2016 Theodore E White and the Development of Zooarchaeology in North America illuminates the researcher and his lasting contribution to a field that has largely ignored him in its history The few brief histories of North American zooarchaeology suggest that Paul W Parmalee John E Guilday Elizabeth S Wing and Stanley J Olsen laid the foundation of the field Only occasionally is Theodore White 1905 77 included yet his research is instrumental for understanding the development of zooarchaeology in North America R Lee Lyman works to fill these gaps in the historical record and revisits some of White s analytical innovations from a modern perspective A comparison of publications shows that not only were White s zooarchaeological articles first in print in archaeological venues but that he was also at least initially more prolific than his contemporaries While the other founders of the field were anthropologists White was a paleontologist by training who studied long extinct animals and their evolutionary histories In working with remains of modern mammals the typical paleontological research questions were off the table simply because the animals under study were too recent And yet White demonstrated clearly that scholars could infer significant information about human behaviors and cultures Lyman presents a biography of Theodore White as a scientist and a pioneer in the emerging field of modern anthropological zooarchaeology Ski Trails and Wildlife Eric Burr, 2008 Snow sports are usually the first step to learning about snow country wildlife which is only as safe as knowledgeable people want it recount the adventures mythmaking and intense political battles behind the evolution of the park system and the enduring ideals that fostered its growth They capture the importance and splendors of the individual parks from Haleakala in Hawaii to Acadia in Maine from Denali in Alaska to the Everglades in Florida from Glacier in Montana to Big Bend in Texas And they introduce us to a diverse cast
