Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1993-04 Narrative and Genre Paul Thompson, 2017-09-29 Any life story whether a written autobiography or an oral testimony is shaped not only by the reworkings of experience through memory and re evaluation but also by art Any communication has to use shared conventions not only of language itself but also the more complex expectations of genre the forms expected within a given context and type of communication This collection of essays by international academics draws on a wide range of disciplines in the social sciences and the humanities to examine how far the expectations and forms of genre shape different kinds of autobiography and influence what messages they can convey After investigating the problem of genre definition and tracing the evolution of genre as a concept contributors explore such issues as How far can we argue that what people narrate in their autobiographical stories is selected and shaped by the repertoire of genre available to them To what extent is oral autobiography shaped by its social and cultural context What is the relationship between autobiographical sources and the ethnographer Narrative and Genre presents exciting new debates in an emerging field and will encourage international and interdisciplinary discussion Its authors and contributors are scholars from the fields of anthropology cultural studies literary analysis psychology psychoanalysis social history and sociology Narrative and Genre Mary Chamberlain, Paul Thompson, 2002-11 Narrative and Genre presents exciting new debates in an emerging field where international academics from a plethora of disciplines examine the conventions and restrictions of language and genre and how they influence our communication Fostering Self-Regulated Learning through ICT Dettori, Giuliana, Persico, Donatella, 2010-09-30 This book presents the relationship between SRL and ICTs from several standpoints addressing both theoretical and applicative issues providing examples from a range of disciplinary fields and educational settings Provided by publisher New York School Journal , 1903 The United States Catalog , 1904 Handbook of Research on Cultivating Literacy in Diverse and Multilingual Classrooms Neokleous, Georgios, Krulatz, Anna, Farrelly, Raichle, 2020-03-27 Literacy has traditionally been associated with the linguistic and functional ability to read and write Although literacy as a fundamental issue in education has received abundant attention in the last few decades most publications to date have focused on monolingual classrooms Language teacher educators have a responsibility to prepare teachers to be culturally responsive and flexible so they can adapt to the range of settings and variety of learners they will encounter in their careers while also bravely questioning the assumptions they are encountering about multilingual literacy development and instruction The Handbook of Research on Cultivating Literacy in Diverse and Multilingual Classrooms is an essential scholarly publication that explores the multifaceted nature of literacy development across the lifespan in a range of multilingual contexts Recognizing that literacy instruction in contemporary language classrooms serving diverse student populations must go beyond developing reading and writing abilities this book sets out to explore a wide range of literacy dimensions It offers unique perspectives through a critical reflection on issues related to power ownership identity and the social construction of literacy in multilingual societies As a resource for use in language teacher preparation programs globally this book will provide a range of theoretical and practical perspectives while creating space for pre and in service teachers to grapple with the ideas in light of their respective contexts The book will also provide valuable insights to instructional designers curriculum developers linguists professionals academicians administrators researchers and students

Negotiating Boundaries in the City Dr Joanna Herbert, 2012-12-28 Using in depth life story interviews and oral history archives this book explores the impact of South Asian migration from the 1950s onwards on both the local white British born population and the migrants themselves Taking Leicester as a main case study identified as a European model of multicultural success Negotiating Boundaries in the City offers a historically grounded analysis of the human experiences of migration Joanna Herbert shows how migration created challenges for both existing residents and newcomers for both male and female migrants and explores how they perceived and negotiated boundaries within the local contexts of their everyday lives She explores the personal and collective narratives of individuals who might not otherwise appear in the historical records highlighting the importance of subjective everyday experiences The stories provide valuable insights into the nature of white ethnicity inter ethnic relations and the gendered nature of experiences and offer rich data lacking in existing theoretical accounts This book provides a radically different story about multicultural Britain and reveals the nuances of modern urban experiences which are lost in prevailing discourses of multiculturalism
