Pagans Scribe Book Four Of The Pagan Chronicles:

Pagan's Scribe Catherine Jinks, 2006 In France in 1209 Pagan now an archdeacon takes on a new scribe named Isidore a fifteen year old epileptic and an orphan and together they try to survive the siege of Carcassonne Reprint The Chronicle of Pseudo-Zachariah Rhetor Pseudo-Zachariah Rhetor, Zacharias (Bishop of Mytilene.), Geoffrey Greatrex, 2011-01-01 Among the most important sources for the history of the church from the Council of Chalcedon in 451 to the early years of the reign of Justinian is the chronicle attributed to Zachariah of Mytilene Though Zachariah's Ecclesiastical History was just one of a range of sources cited by this later compiler so great was its influence that the resultant text bears his name The chronicle covers both church and secular affairs and includes a wealth of important information about the fifth and sixth centuries including a history of theological controversies a catalog of the world's regions based on Ptolemy's Geography and many eyewitness accounts of key historical events The Chronicle of Pseudo Zachariah Rhetor is the first translation of this seminal text to a modern language in over one hundred years and the new edition benefits from improvements in Syriac lexicography and expanded research on the source Contributions from two eminent Syriac scholars Sebastian P Brock and Witold Witakowski and a detailed commentary further enhance the value of this book as does the substantial bibliography Beyond a mere translation this book is a key resource for understanding the development of the modern dynamics of Christianity in Turkey Iraq and the Near East of Thietmar of Merseburg Adam of Bremen Helmold of Bosau written during the time of the Christianization of the Western Slavs The source analyses show the ways the chroniclers understood explained and represented pre Christian beliefs and cults which were interpreted as elements of a foreign barbarian culture and were evaluated from the perspective of Church doctrine In this study individual features of the three authors are discussed including the issue of the credibility of their information on Old Slavic religion and broader conclusions on medieval thought are also presented The Samaritans in Flavius Josephus Reinhard Pummer,2009 The first century C E Jewish historian Flavius Josephus is our main source of information for the early history of the Samaritans a community closely related to Judaism whose development as an independent religion is commonly dated in the Hellenistic Roman period Josephus two main works Jewish War and Jewish Antiquities contain a number of passages that purport to describe the origin character and actions of the Samaritans In composing his histories Josephus drew on different sources some identifiable others unknown to us Contemporary Josephus research has shown that he did so not as a mere compiler but as a creative writer who selected and quoted his sources carefully and deliberately and employed them to express his personal views Rather than trying to isolate and identify Josephus authorities and to determine the meaning these texts had in their original setting Reinhard Pummer examines what Josephus himself intended to convey to his audience when he depicted the Samaritans in the way he did He attempts to combine composition criticism and historical research and argues that the differences in Josephus portrayal of the Samaritans in War on the one hand and in Antiquities on the other are due to the different aims the historian pursued in the two works The Politics of Identity in Visigothic Spain Jamie Wood,2012-03-20 This book reappraises the historical writings of the seventh century Spanish bishop Isidore of Seville as a coherent and pastorally informed programme intended to reconcile the population of Spain to their recent conquest by the barbarian Visigoths The Jewish Encyclopedia Isidore Singer,Cyrus Adler,1901 The Jewish Encyclopedia: Leon-Moravia Isidore Singer,Cyrus Adler,1904 History and Memory in the Carolingian World Rosamond McKitterick,2004-07-29 The writing and reading of history in the early Middle Ages form the key themes of this 2004 book The primary focus is on the remarkable manifestations of historical writing in relation to historical memory in the Frankish kingdoms of the eighth and ninth centuries It considers the audiences for history in the Frankish kingdoms the recording of memory in new genres including narrative histories cartularies and Libri memoriales and thus particular perceptions of the Frankish and Christian past It analyses both original manuscript material and key historical texts from the Carolingian period a remarkably creative period in the history of European culture Presentations of the past developed in this period were crucial in forming an historical understanding of the Greco Roman and Judaeo Christian past and in subsequent centuries of early medieval Europe They also played an extraordinarily influential role in the formation of political ideologies and senses of identity within Europe The Jewish Encyclopedia: Leon-Moravia ,1925 The Resources of the Past in Early Medieval Europe Clemens Gantner,Rosamond McKitterick,Sven

Meeder,2015-02-05 This volume analyses the importance of history the textual resources of the past and the integration of Christian and imperial Rome into the cultural memory of early medieval Europe within the wider question of identity formation The case studies in this book shed new light on the process of codification and modification of cultural heritage in the light of the transmission of texts and the extant manuscript evidence from the early Middle Ages The authors demonstrate how particular texts and their early medieval manuscript representatives in Italy Francia Saxony and Bavaria not only reflect ethnic social and cultural identities but themselves contributed to the creation of identities gave meaning to social practice and were often intended to inspire guide change or prevent action directly or indirectly These texts are shown to be part of a cultural effort to shape the present by restructuring the past The Christian's Penny Magazine ,1832
