Austen to Zola and Zamyatin The Penguin Classics though I designed them to give pleasure even more than instruction have been hailed as the greatest educative force of the twentieth century And far be it for me to quarrel with that encomium for there is no one whom they have educated more than myself E V Rieu An Introduction to Narratology , A Cultural History of Hair in the Age of Enlightenment Margaret K. Powell, Joseph Roach, 2020-12-10 Hair or lack of it is one the most significant identifiers of individuals in any society In Antiquity the power of hair to send a series of social messages was no different This volume covers nearly a thousand years of history from Archaic Greece to the end of the Roman Empire concentrating on what is now Europe North Africa and the Near East Among the key issues identified by its authors is the recognition that in any given society male and female hair tend to be opposites when male hair is generally short women s is long that hair is a marker of age and stage of life children and young people have longer less confined hairstyles adult hair is far more controlled hair can be used to identify the other in terms of race and ethnicity but also those who stand outside social norms such as witches and mad women The chapters in A Cultural History of Hair in Antiquity cover the following topics religion and ritualized belief self and society fashion and adornment production and practice health and hygiene gender and sexuality race and ethnicity class and social status and cultural representations The Annotated Uncle Tom's Cabin Harriet Beecher Stowe, Henry Louis Gates (Jr.), 2007 Presents an annotated version of Harriet Beecher Stowe s classic novel Uncle Tom s Cabin that describes the lives of slaves and abolitionists in the 1800s historical discussions of the Underground Railroad slave trade and plantation life and advertisements that were influenced by the novel Gender and Race in Antebellum Popular Culture Sarah N. Roth, 2014-07-21 In the decades leading to the Civil War popular conceptions of African American men shifted dramatically The savage slave featured in 1830s novels and stories gave way by the 1850s to the less threatening humble black martyr This radical reshaping of black masculinity in American culture occurred at the same time that the reading and writing of popular narratives were emerging as largely feminine enterprises In a society where women wielded little official power white female authors exalted white femininity using narrative forms such as autobiographies novels short stories visual images and plays by stressing differences that made white women appear superior to male slaves This book argues that white women as creators and consumers of popular culture media played a pivotal role in the demasculinization of black men during the antebellum period and consequently had a vital impact on the political landscape of antebellum and Civil War era America through their powerful influence on popular culture

Oroonoko Aphra Behn, 2021-04-29 Oroonoko or the Royal Slave is a relatively short novel set in a narrative frame The narrator opens with an account of the colony of Surinam and its inhabitants Within this is a historical tale concerning the Coramantien grandson of an African king Prince Oroonoko At a very young age Prince Oroonoko was trained for battle and became an expert Captain by the age of seventeen During a battle the best general sacrifices himself for the Prince by taking an arrow for him In sight of this event the Prince takes the place of General Oroonoko decides to honorably visit the daughter of the deceased general to offer the Trophies of her Father's Victories but he immediately falls in love with Imoinda and later asks for her hand in marriage The king hears Imoinda described as the most beautiful and charming in the land and he also falls in love Despite his Intelligence saying she had been claimed by Oroonoko the king gives Imoinda the royal veil thus forcing her to become one of his wives even though she is already promised to Oroonoko Imoinda unwillingly but dutifully enters the king's harem the Otan and Oroonoko is comforted by his assumption that the king is too old to ravish her Over time the Prince plans a tryst with the help of the sympathetic Onahal one of the king's wives and Aboan a friend to the prince The Prince and Imoinda are reunited for a short time and consummate their marriage but are eventually discovered Imoinda and Onahal are punished for their actions by being sold as slaves The king's guilt however leads him to lie to Oroonoko that Imoinda has instead been executed since death was thought to be better than slavery The Prince grieves Later after winning another tribal war Oroonoko and his men go to visit a European slave trader on his ship and are tricked and shackled after drinking The slave trader plans to sell the Prince and his men as slaves and carries them to Surinam in the West Indies Oroonoko is purchased by a Cornish man named Trefry but given special treatment due to his education and ability to speak French and English which he learned from his own French mentor Trefry mentions that he came to own a most beautiful enslaved woman and had to stop himself from forcing her into sex Unbeknownst to Oroonoko Trefry is speaking of Imoinda who is at the same plantation The two lovers are reunited under the slave names of Caesar and Clemene

Postcolonial Ecologies Elizabeth DeLoughrey, George B. Handley, 2011-04-20 This is the first collection to bring environmental issues into a dialogue with postcolonial studies By examining African Caribbean Pacific Island and South Asian literatures and how they depict the relationship between humans and nature Postcolonial Ecologies makes a compelling argument for a more global approach to thinking through our current environmental crisis

"The Great Ocean of Knowledge" Ann Talbot, 2010-01-11 The philosopher John Locke 1632-1704 owned one of the most extensive collections of travel literature held in any private scholarly library of his day It is an interest which seems very much at odds with Locke's reputation as an empirical philosopher because travellers reports have acquired a reputation for unreliability This book sets Locke's use of travel literature within the context of the natural historical methods of investigation associated with Francis Bacon and the Royal Society It examines the notes he made in his commonplace books to demonstrate that Locke was developing a form of comparative social anthropology and had a sympathetic attitude towards Native Americans despite his role as a colonial administrator
