Social Experience and Anthropological Knowledge Kirsten Hastrup, Peter Hervik, 2003-12-16 Anthropology poses an explicit challenge to standard notions of scientific knowledge It claims to produce genuine insights into the workings of culture in general on the basis of individual social experience in the field Social Experience and

Anthropological Knowledge traces the process from the ethnographic experience to the analytical results showing how fieldwork enables the ethnographer to arrive at an understanding not only of culture and society but also of the processes by which cultures and societies are transformed. The contributors challenge the distinction between subjectivity and objectivity, redefine what we should mean by empirical, and demonstrate the complexity of present day epistemological problems through concrete examples. By demystifying subjectivity in the ethnographic process and re-emphasizing the vital position of fieldwork, they do much to renew confidence in the anthropological project of comprehending the world. Life's Fight,

Love's Might Dawn Everson, 2013-10. Life's Fight Love's Might is a controversial true story about Lorna, a courageous determined Australian woman whose life was ravaged by the betrayal of her family, her employers, the Christian church, the judicial system, and sanctioned abuse by the state and federal governments. Lorna stood alone against the world that's until she meets Rod, a surfer who sweeps her off her feet. Unfortunately, their fervent love also feels the smack of betrayal which nearly destroys them both, but ultimately they stand united with trust, love, and loyalty. When Rod enlists, Lorna becomes an excellent army wife. She learns how to compromise because the army must come first. She becomes independent and resourceful while her soldier is away, supporting him all the way up the ranks to Warrant Officer. Rod's postings take Lorna and their two children to Sydney, Papua New Guinea, Canberra, and Melbourne. Lorna finds each posting is fraught with its own kind of agony, with Papua New Guinea being the worst of all. She survives unbelievable traumas which befall her and her family. Then she faces the failures of the Australian Defence Force and the Department of Veterans Affairs. To the Australian people, these two systems appear to be functioning at an optimum for the serving members of the ADF veterans and their families, respectively, but it only appears that they are. Lorna also gives accounts of how the leadership within the Christian community believes it is above the law of the land and how the judicial system aids the church's betrayal of trust. In the end, Lorna's resilience and strength win through to overcome the impossible, leading her to write this inspiring book.
