Talk for Teaching clearly works. This is what Ofsted said about the result of putting Talk for Teaching at the heart of a school's programme for improving the quality of teaching. The quote is taken from Barnsole Primary's Ofsted report in April 2016. Together with the deputy headteacher, the headteacher has led the Talk for Teaching programme that has been an instrumental part of transforming the quality of teaching over time. The high quality teaching in this school now leads to outstanding outcomes for pupils. The school has used this professional development programme to involve leaders, teachers, teaching assistants, governors and other members of the school staff in observing teaching together. They have detailed conversations about the effectiveness of what is seen and how it can be improved. Staff discuss the quality of teaching regularly and freely share ideas about what works well with colleagues.

The Annual Report of Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Schools Great Britain. Office for Standards in Education, Office for standards in education (GB), 2002. The remit of the Office for Standards in Education OFSTED is to improve standards of achievement and quality of education in England through regular independent inspection of schools, public reporting and informed independent advice. The annual report for 2000-01 considers current issues of importance, contains the evidence from the year's inspections and identifies particularly successful schools. Overall, the report finds there are continuing improvements in the quality of teaching and in the leadership and management of schools. The achievements of pupils with special educational needs are found to show improvements both in special and mainstream schools. The problems in the recruitment and, in particular, the retention of teachers are noted. The report highlights two key concerns regarding 1. the gap between the highest and lowest performing schools at secondary level 2 and the under-achievement levels amongst certain groups of pupils, including those from ethnic minorities, children in care, children from traveller communities, as well as a significant number of missing pupils of whom very little is known.
