Friends and Enemies Lee Wardlaw, 2011-09-01 The fun wacky series is back and middle schoolers will love the third zany installment Steve Sneeze Wyatt is back and muddling through typical middle school experiences in an entirely atypical way Between dodging the meathead golf team bully and puzzling out why girls have him and his friends acting so odd everyone struggles through the throes of friendship and first love with a distinctly Cyrano de Bergerac spin With a hilarious ensemble cast plenty of zingy banter and just the right amount of gross outs this latest in the 101 Ways series delivers exactly what fans want and is sure to earn new ones too Parentonomics Joshua Gans, 2010-08-27 What every parent needs to know about negotiating incentives outsourcing and other strategies to solve the economic management problem that is parenting Like any new parent Joshua Gans felt joy mixed with anxiety upon the birth of his first child Who was this blanket swaddled small person and what did she want Unlike most parents however Gans is an economist and he began to apply the tools of his trade to raising his children He saw his new life as one big economic management problem and if economics helped him think about parenting parenting illuminated certain economic principles Parentonomics is the entertaining enlightening and often hilarious fruit of his research Incentives Gans shows us are as risky in parenting as in business An older sister who is recruited to help toilet train her younger brother for a share in the reward given for each successful visit to the bathroom for example could give the trainee drinks of water to make the rewards more frequent Economics later offered another better toilet training solution outsourcing For their third child Gans and his wife put it in the hands of professionals the day care providers Gans gives us the parentonomic view of delivery if the mother shares her pain by yelling at the father doesn't it really create more aggregate pain sleep the screams of a baby are like an offer I'll stop screaming if you give me attention food a question of marketing travel the best thing you can say about traveling with children is that they are worse than baggage punishment and threat credibility birthday party time management and more Parents if you're reading Parentonomics in the presence of other people you'll be unable to keep yourself from reading the funny parts out loud And if you're reading it late at night and wake a child with your laughter well you'll have some guidelines for negotiating a return to bed

Surprise! Vincent P. Magnini, 2014-10-05 Modern consumers are being bombarded with information from every angle They can't handle it and consequently tune out large portions of the information Consumers therefore often enter service transactions with predetermined mental scripts regarding how they predict the transactions will transpire and are not paying close attention In order to gain their full attention firms must find ways to surprise consumers during transactions that is firms must spawn mental script deviations for them Research indicates that these script deviations can cement consumer loyalty This book details how to create a surprise culture in a service firm Because a consumer can only be surprised by a given tactic one time and surprise ideas can be copied by competitors a firm with a culture that generates and implements a constant stream of surprise tactics is one that has the higher edge in achieving success in the modern environment of information overload
