Notice & Note G. Kylene Beers, Robert E. Probst, 2012 Examines the new emphasis on text dependent questions rigor and text complexity and what it means to be literate in the 21st century P 4 of cover Reading Nonfiction G. Kylene Beers, Robert E. Probst, 2016 Nonfiction intrudes into our world and purports to tell the truth To evaluate that truth we need students to be sophisticated skillful and savvy readers And that s why Kylene and Bob wrote Reading Nonfiction a book that presents 3 big questions that develop the stance needed for attentive reading 5 signposts that help readers analyze and evaluate the author s craft and 7 strategies that develop relevance and fix up confusions Back cover Closer Reading, Grades 3-6 Nancy Boyles, 2014-02-19 Close Closer Closest Close Reading Not in a very long while has a term been freighted with so much responsibility to lead every student to a great future of college and career readiness Finally here s a book that tunes out all of the hubbub and gets down to the business of showing how exactly to get close reading right Chapter by chapter Nancy Boyles delivers astoundingly practical ideas on how to Connect close reading with other instructional practices Select rich texts and plan for initial close reading lessons Deliver initial and follow up close reading lessons Coordinate comprehension strategies and close reading Integrating Children's Literature through the Common Core State Standards Rachel L. Wadham, Terrell A. Young, 2015-07-28 Implementation of the Common Core State Standards with the integration of children s literature can transform teaching and learning into a holistic and engaging experience Tackling nearly every aspect of the English Language Arts Standards and the measures they employ it offers a thorough plan for engaging elementary school students with literature It explores the benefits and teaching principles behind CCSS and explains how to apply them to literature Along with the strengths it has in connection to CCSS you will learn about the history of children s literature and what both fiction and nonfiction bring to the classroom You will find plenty of practical applications of the CCSS including book lists and lesson ideas along with thorough examples There is also a wealth of information on the kinds of readers you will encounter and explanations of how to meet their needs A final section focuses on creating a curriculum connecting the theory throughout the book with concrete lessons plans and units that cover the main CCSS skill sets Student and Teacher Writing Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham, Gary A. Troia, Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar, 2024-06-21 The study of students motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays 1996 model of writing This model emphasized that writers motivational beliefs influence how and what they write Likewise increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers motivational beliefs about writing especially their efficacy to teach writing impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers As a result there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs Historically the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers efforts contribute to students writing What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students writing or serve as catalysts for teachers actions in the classroom when teaching writing This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students and teachers motivational beliefs about teaching writing This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs how they develop cognitive and affective correlates how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered and how they are related to students writing achievement By focusing on both students and teachers beliefs the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction This Research Topic includes papers that address students motivational beliefs about writing teachers motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing Students motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing writing competence attitudes toward writing goal orientation motives for writing identity epistemological underpinnings writing and attributions for success failure as examples Teacher motivational include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students competence and progress as writers to provide additional examples This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate develop are related to other cognitive and affective variables how they are impacted by instruction and how they are related to students writing performance Submitted studies can include original research both quantitative qualitative or mixed methods meta analysis and reviews of the literature
