Fishkind, 2002 This is a useful text for ophthalmologists performing cataract surgery whether in active practice, university training or residency training. It discusses predisposition, avoidance and management of complications. Nuclear Cross Sections and Technology Roald A. Schrack, Charles D. Bowman, 1975 Manual of Specialised Lexicography Henning Bergenholtz, Sven Tarp, 1995-07-14 From 1990-1994 the Danish Research Council for the Humanities granted a research project entitled translation of LSP texts which was initially split up into five part projects one of which has been concerned with LSP lexicography. The Manual of Specialised Lexicography is one of the results of the research undertaken by this project. The primary purpose of the Manual is to contribute towards an improved basis for practical specialised lexicography which has so far had but a small share in the explosive development that has taken place in general language lexicography since the early 1970s. One implication of this is that only to a limited extent has it been possible to build upon existing findings. The Manual thus has the twofold aim of offering guidance and direction to authors of specialised dictionaries as well as contributing towards the further development of lexicographical theories.

Brain Mechanisms in Problem Solving and Intelligence Robert Thompson, Francis M. Crinella, Jen Yu, 2013-11-21 This book is the outcome of a decade of research on the neuroanatomical mechanisms of learning in the young laboratory rat It is essentially a discourse on the functional organization of the brain in relation to problem solving ability and intelligence During the period between 1980 and 1989 well over 1000 weanling albino rats were subjected to localized brain damage or sham operations in the case of the controls under deep anesthesia and aseptic surgical conditions were allowed to recover and subsequently were tested on a wide variety of problems designed to measure general learning ability Since virtually every part of the brain rostral to the medulla has been explored with lesions it has become possible not only to map a number of putative brain systems underlying the acquisition of distinctive problem solving tasks but to isolate several neu roanatomical mechanisms that appear to be selectively involved in the acquisition of particular kinds of goal directed learned activities Of particular interest was the discovery of a nonspecific mechanism previously referred to in our research reports as the general learning system inhabiting the interior parts of the brain One objective of this volume was to make these maps available in a single source Another was to provide a description of learning syndromes arising from local lesions to different parts of the brain The Great Apes Robert Mearns Yerkes, Ada Watterson Yerkes, 1929 Nuclear Cross Sections and Technology Roald Amundsen Schrack, Charles D.
