arquitectura y decoración musiva Raquel Rubio González, 2024-07-04 This book is a study of the architecture and decoration of the mosaic floors of the Roman private spaces of Bulla Regia located in the northwest of Tunisia The book is divided into six chapters which offer a complete overview of both the city in general and the domestic architecture and mosaic decoration of each of the domus The New York Times Index, 2009 Spectacle and Display Michael

Dawson, 2021 Spectacle and Display A Modern History of Britain's Roman Mosaic Pavements is the first narrative to explore responses and attitudes to mosaics not just at the point of discovery but during their subsequent history It is a field which has received scant attention in the literature and provides a compelling insight into the agency of these spectacular remains Analysis shows how mosaics have influenced and have been instrumental in the commodification of the past the development of conservation practice and promoting the rise of the archaeologist The most spectacular remains of Roman Britain is a familiar description applied to the discovery of mosaic floors They are exceptional symbols of Roman life in the province of Britannia and each new discovery is eagerly reported in the press Yet one estimate suggested that 75% of all known mosaics from Britain have been lost and they are commonly displayed out of context wall mounted as artwork in museums and exhibitions and far from their role as floors This is a contested narrative in which spectacle and survival conservation and fine art ownership and curation provide the discourse and texts of contemporary attitudes The Roman Mosaic from Mosaics of the Greek and Roman World Katherine M. D. Dunbabin, 1999. This book provides a comprehensive account of mosaics in the ancient world from the early pebble mosaics of Greece to the pavements of Christian churches in the East. Separate chapters in Part I cover the principal regions of the Roman Empire in turn in order to bring out the distinctive characteristics of their mosaic workshops. Questions of technique and production, the role of mosaics in architecture and of their social functions and implications are treated in Part II. The book discusses both well known works and recent finds and balances consideration of exceptional masterpieces against standard workshop production. Two main lines of approach are followed throughout: first the role of mosaics as a significant art form which over an unbroken span illuminates the evolution of pictorial style better than any comparable surviving medium and secondly their character as works of artisan production closely linked to their architectural context.

Stories in Stone Aïcha Ben Abed Ben Khader, 2006. Between the second and the sixth centuries of the common era, elaborate mosaics were designed and created to pave the floors of town homes and rural estates of the Roman settlements in North Africa. These stunning mosaics were especially widespread in the colony of Africa Proconsularis, modern day Tunisia, and covered a wide range of subject matter from scenes of daily life and classical mythology to abstract floral and geometric designs of rare vibrancy and complexity. A distinctive African style emerged whose influence would extend throughout the Mediterranean basin and beyond. This catalogue is being published to coincide with an exhibition at the J. Paul Getty Museum at the Getty Villa from October 26, 2006 to April 30, 2007, the first major exhibition in the United States solely devoted to ancient mosaics. The twenty-seven mosaics in the exhibition come from Tunisia's leading museums, including the Bardo Museum in Tunis, the Sousse Museum, and the El Jem Museum. Stories in Stone is structured around four principal themes: Nature, Theater and Spectacle, Myths and Gods, and Technique, and includes extensive material on mosaic conservation. In addition to color plates of all objects in the exhibit, this catalogue includes nine richly illustrated essays that illuminate the historical background of mosaic art, trace the development of principal themes, and examine the conservation of mosaics both in the museum setting and in situ. Contributors include Taher Ghaliya, director of the Bardo Museum; Mongi Ennaifer, minister of cultural affairs, Tunisia; Thomas Roby, senior project specialist, Getty Conservation Institute; and Jerry Podany, head of antiquities conservation, J. Paul Getty Museum.

Domestic and Divine Christine Kondoleon, 1994. Built on the southwestern coast of Cyprus in the second century A.D., the House of Dionysos is full of clues to a distant life: in the corner of a portico, shards of pottery, a clutch of Roman coins, found on a skeleton under a fallen wall, yet none is so evocative as the intricate mosaic floors that lead the eye from room to room, inscribing in their colored images the traditions, aspirations, and relations of another world. In this lavishly illustrated volume Christine Kondoleon conducts us through the House of Dionysos showing us what its interior decoration discloses about its inhabitants and their time Seen from within the context of the house the mosaics become eloquent witnesses to an elusive dialogue between inhabitants and guests and to the intermingling of public and private Kondoleon draws on the insights of art history and archaeology to show what the mosaics in the House of Dionysos can tell us about these complex relations She explores the issues of period and regional styles workshop traditions the conditions of patronage and the forces behind iconographic change Her work marks a major advance not just in the study of Roman mosaics but in our knowledge of Roman society
