INTERNATIONAL FINANCE

International finance is defined as the study of monetary interactions between two or more countries. The following concepts govern the flow of international finance:

- Balance of Payments is a record of all economic transactions between a country and the rest of the world. It is divided into three main components: the current account, the capital account, and the financial account.
- Exchange Rates are the prices of one country's currency in terms of another country's currency. They are determined by the market and can fluctuate significantly over time.
- Interest Rates are the cost of borrowing money. They are determined by the market and can fluctuate significantly over time.
- Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) is the investment of funds from one country into the business enterprises of another country. It is a key source of capital for developing countries.
- International Trade is the exchange of goods and services between different countries. It is a key driver of economic growth and development.

MULTINATIONAL CORPORATIONS

A MULTINATIONAL CORPORATION: A company that operates in at least one country other than its home country. EARLY MULTINATIONAL CORPORATIONS INCLUDE: The British East India Company, founded in 1600. The Dutch East India Company, founded in 1602. The French East India Company, founded in 1664.

THE BENEFITS OF MULTINATIONAL CORPORATIONS INCLUDE: Increased employment opportunities. Increased investment in infrastructure and technology. Increased trade and economic growth.

ECONOMIC GLOBALIZATION

Globalization is defined as the process of increasing interconnectedness and interdependence between different countries and regions. It is driven by advances in technology, trade, and investment. A DISADVANTAGE OF GLOBALIZATION IS THAT IT BRINGS: Increased inequality. Increased environmental degradation. Increased cultural homogenization.
